Business Locals HANDY TO HAVE AROUND

Asserts That It Will Proceed Con-2 32 sistently in Regard to Sunday Closing Law

Setting forth the plan of action of the Civic Council of Churches in regard to closing on Sunday, the secretary of that body has issued the following statement in regard to the history of the Sunday closing movement, and also in respect to the procedure that the body will take. The statement is as follows:

"Because of certain misleading statements that have gone forth, misinforming the public, as to the purpose and plan of the Civic Council of Churches to bring about a Christian observance of the Sabbath, the committee on Sabbath law observance, with consent of the executive committee, authorized the secretary, through the press of the city, to give to the public correct information is here given.

"The Council of Churches had the matter under consideration for some time and at its meeting of June 14, upon report of the committee on Sabbath law observance, which had made a somewhat thorough canvass of the city, revealing the fact that about 100 places of business, including dry goods stores, clothing stores, cigar stores, confectionery stores, grocery stores, a wholesale liquor store, barber shops and other kind of business places were open for business or doing business, the council decided something should be done.

"The plan adopted was to give notice through the press that after two weeks the Council of Churches would ask the proper city officials to cooperate in closing places that were openly and unnecessarily violating the Sabbath laws. The city officials are not willing to do as has been done in some other cities whose officials have ordered the violators to desist, and will co-operate only as the citizens take the initiative for closing. The Council of Churches will take this initiative and proceed to close all places open unnecessarily.

"The plan of the council is to call upon every violator of the law and through moral suasion induce him to show proper respect for the Sabbath by closing his place of business according to the stipulations of the law. No prosecutions will be made unless after a membe cise the greatest care, buying only such things as may be absolutely necessary. Here is the keynote to civic reform.

"It is the opinion of the writer that Sunday closing has not the objections that some see in it. Generally speaking, it will not entail loss on the businessman. The man who closes will be more highly respected by his customers and if God's promises are true, he will not only profit in the end in this life, but in the life to come have increased reward.

"The council expects the co-operation of most all the businessmen, and has the assurance of many already, that they will gladly cease when such ceasing becomes uniform.

"E. VICTOR ROLAND,
"Secretary of the Civic Council of the Churches of Harrisburg."

$5,000 Fire Destroys Powell Butcher Shops at Dillerville

Special to The Telegraph

Marietta, Pa., July 2.—Fire of unknown origin to-day totally destroyed the large slaughter house, but-her shop, stable, wagon shed, outhouses, etc., belonging to J. F. Powell, butcher, at Dillerville, several miles from here. The loss will exceed 55,000 and is only partially insured. The residence of Mr. Powell was in immediate danger, but by hard work of the firemen after being on fire several times, it was saved. One horse was burned to death, and another so badly burned that it was shot. Only a wagons, two buggies, and a set of harness were saved. Several hundred chickens were cremated.
