Mark Adams Southpaw Flinger; Is Looking Better Each Game

MARK ADAMS, PITCHER Left-Hand Thrower Who Looks Like a Comer.

By "Ump" Mark Adams, the southpaw shooter from the Upper End, gives every indication of pulling through the season. This boy has been working morning and afternoon to reach the form necessary to help Harrisburg win games. There is but one thing lacking with Adams. He has not fully overcome stage fright. It must be remembered that Adams has not been in first company very long. He started his career with Harrisburg one year ago. Failing to show the necessary Manager Cockill sent the young fellow to Earl Mack, at Raleigh, N. C., where he developed into a fast twirler. This year Adams shows everything but ability to stand severe bumps. He has the spirit and is of the kind that makes good. In recent games his work has been very satisfactory. Adams is not only a puzzling curve artist, but he has the ability to hit, and once the Williamstown boy gets going there will be no question as to his success. Hundreds of admirers all over Dauphin county want to see Adams set into a winning stride and he has the backing of his teammates and is being coached every day by the more experienced pitchers on the Harrisburg squad. Adams started baseball on the Williamstown lots. He attracted much attention by his remarkable work in the box and at the bat. He is of the Shawkey-Bressler type and is in the game to make good.

HARRISBURG PONIES LEAD TRI-STATE RACE

Games Are Fast; This Week Promises Much of Interest to Baseball Fans

By "Ump" Taking two games from York on Saturday, scores 3 to 2 and 6 to 0, Cockill's ponies start the week with a good hold on first place. Both victories on Saturday came through all around good playing, timely hits and superb work by Adams and Fox. Cockill's crew had a day off to-day, but to-morrow will get down to business. It looks as if the Teutons would be the big factors in the race for first place, and Harrisburg will win a majority of games from Johnny Castle's bunch. On Wednesday and Thursday Trenton will be here. Harrisburg will try to land two games this trip. Reading is scheduled for Friday and Saturday. Harrisburg has the leading first baseman, shortstop and outfielder, Emerson being the best man in the outergarden. The other positions show Harrisburg players holding their own and doing real work. Chabek is the leading pitcher with twelve games won and two lost. In club batting Harrisburg is third, second in long hits and second in club fielding. "Pop" Foster is whaling the ball in a most extraordinary manner, and is holding the Tri-State lead with the big average of .430. In twenty-two games he had made thirty-four hits. Cannell, Crist, Miller, Poland, Murray, Boelzie, Meyers, Brown, Johnson, Sharp, Clay, Castle, Jackson, Cockill, Whalen, Leo and Stutz are the remaining 300 hitters. Tri-State officials met in Philadelphia yesterday in an informal session to decide whether to continue in York or to shift the team to Lancaster. No decision was reached, as no final action could have been taken on Sunday. President Graham was empowered to deal with the situation and given assurance of the league's full support in whatever decision may be reached. Final announcement will be made to-night. Either the club will return to York on Wednesday or, if transferred, will open in Lancaster on that day with Allentown.

BITS OF SPORTS

Joe Rivers, the Los Angeles lightweight, defeated Matty McCue, of Racine, Wis., substitute for Ad Wolgast, in the second round of their fight at Vernon Arena, Los Angeles, Saturday. Rivers knocked McCue down in the first round. George Chip, of Newcastle, Pa., knocked out Fighting Billy Murray, of Petaluma, Cal., in the fifteenth round at San Francisco on Saturday. Harrisburg starts the last half of the season in first place.

LIGHTWEIGHTS WILL BATTLE IN LONDON

Freddie Welsh is the Favorite Over Willie Ritchie; Both Fighters Hopeful

London, July 6.—Willie Ritchie, of San Francisco, lightweight champion of the world, will defend his title against Freddie Welsh, champion of Great Britain. This will be the first battle between an American and English champion since June 1, 1896, when George Lavigne, the "Saginaw Kid," met and defeated Dick Burge, of England, in seventeen rounds. Ritchie will receive $25,000 in addition to other considerations. Welsh, fighting for the title, and willing to win or lose all, is playing a gambling game. And it may be that his share of the gate receipts will exceed that of Ritchie. Certain it is that no bout of recent years has roused more interest than this. Welsh, one of the most popular men who ever held the English title, is highly rated and many believe that he will win. Interest has been doubly roused by the fact that there is an open breach between Ritchie and the Briton. The worst is the best that either can say for the other. And since the disarrangement at Vancouver last year matters have become worse instead of better. In the opinion of conservative judges, Ritchie should win. His greater strength and hitting ability will no doubt tell the tale in the closing stages of the match, and while there is not any strong probability, there is a possibility of his knocking Welsh out. Ritchie is not the boxer that Welsh is by any means and it would not be at all surprising if the Briton outpointed him by a comfortable margin in the early rounds. There is little or no chance of Ritchie being knocked out, however, for Welsh has never shown a hard punch. It will then resolve itself into a match between a shifty, clever, light-hitting boxer and a fearless, hard-hitting, clever fighter. The chances favor the fighter. Much store has been laid in the victory of Welsh over Ritchie in that twenty-round bout at Vernon, Cal., on November 30, 1911. On that night neither man was himself. Ritchie had been training Paiky McFarland for a match with Tommy Murphy and accepted the match over his closing stages of the trip from San Francisco to Los Angeles and was a tired fighter when he stepped into the ring. He weighed 133 pounds. Welsh had been training for a match with Ad Wolgast when the latter was taken down with appendicitis. Wolgast was then the world's champion and the disappointment of not getting his chance to win that title made Welsh ill. So it happened that when Tom McCarey suggested that he fight Ritchie in order not to disappoint the crowd, Welsh went ahead with his match. He weighed 129 1/2 pounds and was not really in condition to do his best. Nevertheless he won.

Former Harrisburg Star Has Jaw Fractured

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 6.—Harry McCormick, former Giant who is now manager of the Chattanooga team, was knocked unconscious here when a ball pitched by Carl Thompson, of the Atlanta team, struck him below the temple. An X-ray examination showed a fracture of the jawbone. He is now resting comfortably. McCormick was a former Tri-State star and at one time played with Harrisburg. He is also well known in Steele Creek, where he played football with George Cockill, E. C. Taggart and other former stars.

ELIZABETHVILLE IS TWICE A WINNER

Harrisburg Telegraph Team Fielded Fast, But Lacked Timely Bingles

Special to The Telegraph Elizabethville, Pa., July 6.—Independence Day was one big day in this borough. Two baseball games were the big feature on the program. In the evening James E. Lutz, assistant chairman of the Dauphin County Republican Club, directed an elaborate pyrotechnic display. It was the most successful event ever held in this city. The baseball games attracted two large crowds. In the morning the Harrisburg Telegraph team lost, score 6 to 0. The Harrisburgers could not hit Salada, the Philadelphia twirler, who was home on a vacation. The visitors fielded all right and made a game fight. In the afternoon Elizabethville won by a score of 9 to 0. Harp's pitching was a feature. The visitors were royally entertained by the Elizabethville A. C. and especially by James E. Lutz.
