He boasts he has been shot at fifty times and holdups with him became so common that they were no more exciting than taking a shave.

Another interesting feature of the parade was Old Iron Tail, the Sioux chief who participated in the Custer massacre. His portrait adorns the open barouche to which were attached several Pinto ponies peculiarly known as calleo ponies, which are used by the Indians.

Play Auto Polo

In the performance to-day the people of Harrisburg are also promised something entirely new in the wild West line. In addition to all of the usual wild west stunts there are a large number of new features that have never been seen here before. Among these new stunts is the game of auto polo which is a real thriller.

In auto polo two racing machines are utilized. Each machine carries a mallet man and chauffer. All day yesterday carloads of people visited the show grounds to see the points of interest that abound about a show of a Sunday afternoon when everybody takes a rest.

The afternoon performance began promptly at 2.15. The evening show begins at 8.15.

Rain does not interfere with any performance and crowds attending will be accommodated under rain-proof canvas.

1500 ENDEAVORERS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Harrisburg Societies to Send Delegates; Special Trains From Many Points

Uniontown, Pa., July 6.—Arrangements for the big three-day convention of the State Christian Endeavor Christian E n de avor Union are nearly completed and to-morrow will mark the opening of the twenty-seventh convention and the seventh blennial convention at this place.

A Christian Endeavor special train from the East left Philadelphia at 8.40 this morning, Lancasthis morning at Greensburg at 11.40, arriving at Greensburg at 5.27 p. m. for the great rally this evening.

About 1,500 delegates are expected

About 1,500 delegates are expected from all parts of the state. It is estimated that Dauphin county will send 50 delegates, Philadelphia 200, Schuylkill county 10, Reading 25, Lebanon, Lehigh, Allentown and Northumberland about 50 in special car; Altoona and Blair county 50, Adams county 21, Franklin county 10, Chester county 10, Perry county 15, Lancaster county 16, Franklin county 10, Delaware, Montsomery, Bucks, Union, Clinton, Lycoming, Potter, Luzerne, Lackawanna, good representations.

Two special excursions from Pittsburgh will carry delegates to the convention. They have promised the Uniontown committee to come at least 1,000 strong and have no doubt about the correctness of the estimate. Their slogan is "Every Society Represented, Why Not Every County?"

The big mass meeting and parade at Greensburg to-night will be a great event and accommodations are being sought for 1,000 persons over night. Early to-morrow morning the delegation will leave for Uniontown.

Harrisburg and Dauphin county Christian Endeavorers are looking forward to the State Christian Endeavor convention which meets in Uniontown to-morrow, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, when the invitation for the convention, Harrisburg, 1916, will the convention, Harrisburg, 1916, will be conveyed by President E. J. Huggins, of the Harrisburg Christian Endeavor Union. Forty-two societies out of fitty-eight have thus far reported to be in favor of supporting the convention and in all probability the remaining societies will report to the secretary, Miss Emily Edwards, 226 Herr street. It is necessary that all of the societies shall sign the cards sent by the secretary.

Citizen Fire Company No.3 Has Interesting History

Was Organized When Harrisburg Was in Need of Fire Protection; Members Do Valuable Service For City

In the fall of 1836, when Harrisburg had only two fire companies, the Friendship and Hope, a party of young men.concluded there was need for a third company, and started a movement which culminated in the organization of the Citizen Fire Company, now the Citizen Steam Fire Engine Company, No. 3, of the Harrisburg fire department.

On October 11, 1836, about twentyfive men met at the Seven Star Hotel, at the corner of Second and Chestnut streets, and made-the first organization with George Keller as president and John Heist secretary of the first meeting. A short time afterward permanent officers were elected and a constitution and by-laws adopted. Henry Bostick served as president until the end of 1836 and the first regularly elected officers were: President,
Colonel Henry Baeder; treasurer,
George Ogelsby; secretary, Joseph Hinckley.

cleeted omeers were: President, Colonel Henry Baeder; treasurer, George Ogelsby; secretary, Joseph Hinckley.

The name "Citizen" was proposed for the new company by George C. Fager, who continued as a member and officer of the company for more than sixty years until his death. He also served as chief of the fire department of the city for several years.

The company at first purchased a very small hand engine and in 1840 bought a double-decked hand engine, built by Joel Bates, of Philadelphia, at a cost of $1,000. It was the first suction engine used in Harrisburg and the Citizen Company was the first to buy and use fire hose. The company purchased a hose carriage from the Schuyikill Hose Company, of Philadelphia, for $300. Both engine and carriage were brought to Harrisburg by canal boat.

received the handsome and powerful new Metropolitan steam engine it is now using. It was built by the American-LaFrance Engine Company, of Elmira, N. Y., and cost $5,250.

September 2, 1998, the company received a new combination chemical and hose wagon, also built by the American-LaFrance company.

The First House

The First House

The first house occupied by the company was located where the Court-house now stands, the engine house facing on the alley just above Market street, the ground being owned by the county. The company next moved to the common (now Capitol Park) opposite Dewberry avenue. Afterward they removed to the corner of the common at Third and Walnut streets, where they remained until the park was extended, when they moved into a small two-story building in Fourth street above Walnut, where the present building is situated. The company erected all the buildings at its own expense except those at the present location, which were paid for by the city.

On May 12, 1859, while the com-

On May 12, 1859, while the company was going to a fire at the insane asylum, Samuel J. Miller, a member, was run over by the Button hand engine and so badly injured that he died shortly after. The accident happened while going down the steep hill after crossing the canal bridge near the Pennsylvania railroad roundhouse. At a fire at King's hardware store, corner of Third and Market streets, February 17, 1868, an explosion occurred, by which many firemen were injured, among them being Joseph Montgomery, Samuel J. Lyons and Joseph Sheetz, all members of the Citzen Company, Mr. Montgomery being its president. All three were very seriously injured by the explosion.

In its career the old Citizen had some interesting and exciting experiences. Its members were at Williamstown in January, 1879, at a fire in the Summit Branch colliery, the fire breaking out in the tunnel over 2,000 feet from the mouth, and it required that length of line of hose to reach it. The company was in service on that occasion for three days. At the time of the great flood of 1889, when the Harttman tannery, State street and Paxton creek, was on fire, the members stood for house in a rushing flood of waters were all feet deep and part of the tanner several feet deep and part of the tanner was a feet and conners were a feet deep and part of the tanner was a feet and conners were a feet deep and part of the standard paxton or creek, was on fire, the members stood for house in a rushing flood of water several feet deep and part of the tanner several feet deep and part of the fact in the spire of the Market Square President Church, 209 feet above the pavement. The company was sent to neighboring places to assist in extinguishing fires on various occasions, among them being Mifflin, Newport, Dauphin, Rockville, Marysville, Mechanicsburg, Goldsboro, Columbia and Millerstown. The company has been in service at every big fire in Harrisburg in the past seventy-five years.

Purchased Button Engine
The Eates engine was used until 1558, when the company bought from Eutton & Blake, engine builders, of Waterford, N. Y., the most powerful the country at a cost of $1,980.

It had pumps 12's, linches in diameter, much larger than those in use in the steamers of the present day in the steamers of the present day in the steamers of the present day in the steamers of the for an ordinary fire.
