Miss Berger, Alexander Berkman and other leaders of the free speech movement with which Caron, Hanson and Berg, the victims of the explo-sion, were identified, told the police they believed the three men were martyrs to a cause and as such they proposed to honor them in death with a public funeral service in Union Square. Berkman said that a number of organizations were already making plans to hold an impressive public funeral on Saturday afternoon next. Rebecca Edson and Charles Plunkett will also deliver addresses if they are free at the time. The latter two are to appear at the village court in Tar-rytown to-day to answer to rioting charges. Berkman said the bodies of the three men would be cremated. James J. Ettor, an Industrial Work-er of the World organizer, said to-day that Caron had never been a member of the I. W. When Folks Call There have been many other cases where people call for cer-tain fire companies and when the operator endeavors to make the connection the line is busy, and she is unable to place the call with that company. This means that the party who originates the call must wait until they can get the company or until the operator refers it to the Mayor's office, which orders out another com-pany to respond to that call. Two small fires and a little cele-bration by the foreign residents of the borough were the only incidents to mark the Fourth of July in Steelton's history borough were the only incidents to mark the Fourth of July in Steelton's history. In the morning the Servian residents held a street parade and in the after-noon John Kresic, editor of a New York newspaper, addressed a large meeting of Croatians in Croatian Hall. Later he spoke to the Servians in Kreiner Hall in an effort to unite the two nationalities who have been view-ing each other with dislike since the recent Austrian assassinations. The two fires caused some excite-ment shortly after midnight Saturday. The second blaze gutted the store of Lipsitz & Marcus at Trewick and Christian streets. The other blaze oc-curred at the home of Paul Handley. North Front street, where the loss was slight. While fighting this fire James Coleman, a member of the Paxtang Hook and Ladder Company, was slightly injured by a failing ladder. The biggest celebration in this locality was at Highspire. Between 6,000 and 7,000 visitors crowded into that town. The colbration heudredth anniversary.

ENDORSE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Members of the Union Republican Club of Steelton had their annual out-ing at Highland Park on Friday. Dur-ing the afternoon exercises addresses were made by Peter S. Blackwell and others. Resolutions were adopted en-dorsing the Republican state ticket and especially commending the candi-dacies of Judge George Kunkel and Congressman A. S. Kreider.

Mr. Watts' Letter

In his letter to Mr. Taylor, Mr. Watts points out the advantages of the proposed system and disadvan-tages of the present system, and says $15,000 00 \\ 1,100 00$

tages of the present system, and say in part: We have to-day 8,000 tele-phones in service in this city, each one of which is practically used as a fire alarm box, and under the present method each fire ap-paratus is subject to calls from the public at large. Many in-stances have occurred in cases of small fires, where a party will rush to the telephone and call for a fire company and often-times they will think of a com-pany which is located entirely out of the district and call it to come to their assistance; this means a delay in getting to the fire, to say nothing of the wear and tear of the apparatus. I could cite you many cases of and tear of the apparatus. I could cite you many cases of this kind which have come to my attention. In other words, you have no supervision of telephone calls for the fire appartus. Then again we have had many cases of people calling up in their ex-citement and asking the operator

The proposed system will elimi-nate these difficulties, as the fire enginehouses will be directly con-nected to the switchboard located in the Mayor's office, and all calls received by our operator in re-gard to fires will be at once con-nected to that private branch ex-change and the operator there will then get all the necessary infor-mation from the party calling and order the proper apparatus to re-spond. There never could be the question of the operator not being able to get the company that, is wanted, because he will have con-trol of all the fire enginehouses, and even though the lines are being used he can cut in on the circuit and tell them to respond to a fire call at once. not

FOURTH AT HERSHEY PARK

Special to The Telegraph

Special to The Telegraph Hershey, Pa., July 6.—It is esti-mated that at least 5.000 people were at this place on Saturday to celebrate the Glorious Fourth. The crowds be-gan to arrive early in the morning, while the bulk came in the afternoon and evening. One of the special at-tractions during the day was the two interesting games of baseball played between the local team and New Hol-land. The victories were evenly divid-ed. The score in the forenoon was 2 to 3, in favor of New Holland, while in the afternoon it was the same, in favor of the local team. At least 1.000 persons witnessed the sames. "Kid" Matthews and Frank Saylor pitched great ball. The Hershey band rendered two fine concerts, the Gardner-Vincent Company gave two performances, en-titled "Marrying Jane," and Pain's fireworks in the evening closed the day's amusements.

INJURED DOG BITES TWO Special to The Telegraph Lewistown, Fa., July 6.—A small brown dog wandered onto the trolley tracks at the five points here Saturday night and a passing car caught it and severed one of its limbs. Crazed with pain, the dog ran down Market street, snapping at the people it met. At the home of Dr. Baker it ran up on the porch, where Mrs. Baker and some others were sitting, biting Mrs. Baker before she could get out of the way. The animal also bit a man by the name of Johnson.
