Business Locals
WE DON'T HAVE TO be told as much as we have to be reminded. Everyone knows that Bill Jones is in business, but if he fails to remind them of what he has to sell they will naturally think of his competitor who tells them his story. Let us show you our multigraph facsimile letters. Weaver Typewriting company, 25 North Third street.

GEISHA WAISTS
And other Japanese articles innumerable, such as long crepe kimonos and kimonos for babies, embroidered slippers, heads, hand embroidered fans, jewel cases, cushions and the many quaint and artistically designed articles from Japan. All so distinctively different from the average that the difference appeals to all who see them. Mrs. Ida Cranston, 204 Locust street.

BETTER CUT THE SHOE
than pinch the foot, is not modern logic. Send the shoes to us and we'll put on a new sole and expand the vamp so as to permit greater comfort. The shoe will then be as good as new. The Goodyear way is our way. While you wait, if desired, City Shoe Repairing Co., 317 Strawberry street.

PARTY FAVORS
Place cards and candy favors, guessing games and all the things to do at a party to make it an enjoyable affair to the guests, are here in excellent variety. Other games entertaining to the children as well as odd toys and things suitable for unique prizes at party gatherings. Marianne Kinder Markt, 218 Locust street.

PRICES THAT PLEASE
Never in the history of this great store have values been so inviting, varieties so alluring or customers so enthusiastic over the merchandise presented as in this annual July clearing sale. Real bargains when really needed the most. Decisive reductions on coats, suits, skirts, dresses, waists and underwear. Klein Co., the new store for women, 9 North Market Square.

HOLLAND CHIEF PLANT IMPORTER
Interesting Data Furnished by the Division in Charge of Spotting Pests

Holland, Germany, England, France, Belgium and Japan are furnishing practically all of the imported plants and shrubbery for Pennsylvania gardens and hedges these days, Spain, Austria and Italy supplying comparatively little. Panama, Jamaica, Venezuela and Hungary have supplied a few things and China and Turkey have also sent a few as has Denmark.

Figures on the importations of plants into the State have been compiled by the bureau of nursery inspection for the first time and afford an interesting study. Altogether, according to the statistics of Enos Engle, chief nursery inspector, about 250,000 plants were imported last year. The stock is all inspected, most of it on the wharves at Philadelphia, although some which enter from New York are subjected to inspection at the State line which is also done at Pittsburgh and Erie. The variety is endless and a very sharp lookout is kept on everything for webs of moths and for a voracious and vicious insect with a name as bad as its habits which comes from Japan.

Holland sent 1,093,949 packages alone last year. Belgium 1,066,810; France, 792,418; Great Britain, 352,564; Germany, 1,09,810, and Japan 15,920. The Panama importation, something new, was 100 plants.

The State inspection is carried on in conjunction with the United States government and New Jersey and there is a rivalry to see which one finds the most pests. Over 100 varieties were found last year, some of them being little known.

There are 200 dealers in other States licensed to sell nursery stock and trees in Pennsylvania and about half that number of agents and dealers resident here.

PAXTANG PARK
The vaudeville bill at the Paxtang Park theater this week makes a remarkably good show, with sufficient variety in its make-up to suit all tastes.

Bristol's Ponies is the headliner. The ponies give an exhibition of equine intelligence and careful training that is really wonderful. The ponies are pretty to look at and do their various stunts without any whipping or coaxing. This is an act that will be greatly appreciated by all horse lovers. Bond and Carson, formerly stars with Ben Rolfs' Arcadia, presented a singing act that captivated the audience from the very start. The couple are neat and classy in their work and sing a line of popular music that is just the sort of stuff the park audience wanted. They were anchored repeatedly.

George Lauder, the Australian ventriloquist, was the cause of several outbursts of uproarious laughter with his clever sayings and the mimic conversation of mechanical figures. Mr. Lauder's figures are more lifelike than those used the general run of ventriloquists and he manipulates them in a manner that makes them really funny.

Mabel Janot made a favorable impression on the park audience with a clever singing act and Ben Edwards, the ragtime xylophonist, was obliged to play everything in his repertoire to satisfy his admirers.

Another fireworks display will be the special attraction at Paxtang on Friday evening. Manager Davis promises his patrons a pyrotechnical program that will be something entirely different from any of the preceding displays.

LOCAL PICTURES AT COLONIAL
Beginning to-day and continuing to-morrow and Thursday, the Colonial theater will show its first homemade movie in which news events of the city during the past few days have been caught on the film much the same as events of national interest are shown on the Pathe and Hearst-

Selig weeklies. This picture contains the Fourth of July parade and flag raising, the Governor's Troop in camp, Major Ott on the day of his retirement, the children's camp on McCormick's Island and other features well worthy of preserving in the film. On Thursday the Colonial will bring in a new show of vaudeville, containing the "Girl in the Moon," the beautiful act seen recently at the Orpheum, in which a girl sails out over the heads of the audience singing as she sits gracefully on a lighted quarter moon.—Advertisement.
