LOCKWOOD B. WARDEN WINS A GOLD MEDAL

Was High Man in Amateur Class in Two Day Target Shoot; Texas Woman Wins Again

LOCKWOOD B. WARDEN High Amateur Shooter and Winner of Gold Medal. Harrisburg shooters figured in the final events yesterday in the two-day registered target shoot. Lockwood B. Worden, the local champion, and Walter S. Brehm, of Reading, tied up for first honors in the amateur class. Each broke a total of 289 targets in two days. Instead of having a shoot-off, Worden tossed up a coin and won the toss. This gave the local shooter first honors and the gold medal. The silver medal went to Brehm. Other Harrisburg shooters who figured in the money divisions were J. G. Martin and H. B. Shoop, each with a total of 280. Mrs. Topperwein was again the winner in the professional class, breaking a total of 299 targets. A close second was "Andy" Somers, of Delta, Pa. The total added money was $136.80. The list of entries showed 8 per cent. of shooters from out of the city. During the two days a total of 22,000 white flyer targets were used. The summary of yesterday follows: W. F. FAST BASEBALL BY THE CENTRAL LEAGUE

Three Teams Now Factors in the Race; Steelton Shows Big Improvement

Including the coming Saturday, the Central Pennsylvania League will be nine weeks old. In that time conclusive evidence has been furnished that there is room for a league of this kind. The Central League officials report good finances and the game improving each week. Within the next month unusual interest will be manifested because of three teams becoming factors in the race. Steelton has been playing in hard luck but still has time to get together and give the other clubs a chase. Kurzenknebe is doing all the catching for New Cumberland, while Yeager is warming the bench. Joe Leedy was given a stiff fine for his run in with Umpire Deckard. Deardorf is doing fine hitting for Highspire. Wilson, who pitched Highspire to many victories last season, is having trouble with his arm. Peters, at pitcher from Susquehanna College, has joined Highspire. Craig, the State College star, keeps the New Cumberland team keyed up all the time with his ginger. Coleman had his eye on the ball and had five hits for the July 4 games. Leo Houck, the pride of Lancaster, showed that he was able to play baseball as well as handle himself in the roped arena. Landis is being played in the field for his hitting by Manager Wharton, of the Middletown team. For real rooting no one has it on "Kid" Lynch, the popular comedian of Steelton. Brenner has filled a gap in the Steelton team. Kimmel has not been used by Steelton on account of a sore arm.

Fenton Whalen Star at Short; Major Scouts Watch the Boy

By "Ump" More star infielders have been turned out by Harrisburg than by any minor league team in the state. Eddie Foster was a Harrisburg product and is now a Washington star. This year Fenton Whalen is the boy who is expected to be picked up by one of the major teams. Whalen is showing work that gives him prominence. There is no player on the team who plays harder than this youngster. His record at short is a proof that he is in the game to make good. Errors do not worry the sorrel-top infielder. The same can be said of all players on the Harrisburg team. Whalen, however, takes chances few ball players would go after. At the bat Whalen has been a factor in many victories and if his work continues as it has been for the past month there is very reason to believe he will be snatched up in short order. Whalen is fast on his feet and covers a large territory. He is on the job every minute of the game and has a whip that makes it impossible for the fast runners to beat out a hit to deep short. Working with McCarthy at Second, Cockill at first and Crist on third, Whalen is a valuable man. Whalen is a native of Lockport, N. Y. He is 24 years old. He broke into the Ohio State League with the Chillicothe team. Next he went to Mansfield and then to Ironton. Milwaukee drafted Whalen from Ironton last season and sent him to Wilkes-Barre. George Cockill got a line on Whalen and recently succeeded in buying him from Milwaukee. Whalen leads the Tri-State short-

LIGHTWEIGHT FIGHT A DISAPPOINTMENT

"Billy" Rocop of Philadelphia Sends Real Facts Regarding the Results

According to a cablegram from the Public Ledger of Philadelphia the Ritchie-Welsh fight was not a big success financially. The veteran sporting writer, William H. Rocop, of the Public Ledger, who is in Europe and witnessed the battle, sends the following to his paper: "While all Europe is discussing the result of the Ritchie-Welsh bout today, promoters are busy balancing accounts. The gate receipts were a disappointment, being only $21,000, and American finance, as often before, triumphed. Ritchie received his $15,000 guarantee and $10,000 for his share of the moving-picture money, already deposited with Billy Gibson, of New York. Tremendous expense was attendant upon the contest, and after all expenses were deducted Welsh received little more than a reputation. He is already booked for music halls, and expects a great revenue from that source. "There was a great argument in clubs and hotels to-day over Referee Corri's decision. Many claim that the Welsh crowd at the ringside made it for him. The dispute may revolutionize decisions of championship contests. The margin of last night's bout is said to be insufficient to lose the title. "Ring followers are not kindly disposed toward incessant clinching, holding and running away. Welsh proved a pastmaster at this art. A private view of the moving pictures tells its own story, for it shows Welsh playing an evasive game, with Ritchie the aggressor in the majority of the rounds. Welsh's light blows scored frequently and won the decision."

FENTON ("RED") WHALEN Harrisburg's Fast Boy and Timely Willow Wielder.

By "Ump"

Jucy curves by Joe Chabek and circus catches by Chick Emerson were big factors yesterday in winning the game from Trenton; score, 2 to 1. Island Park patrons never left their seats until the last man was out for Trenton.

It was the second time Harrisburg chased the Tigers to cover on the home field. Williams, the Tiger twirler, had puzzlers and speed. He lost his own game when he tapped Chabek on the elbow in the seventh inning with a pitched ball.

Emerson's greatest one-hand catch was in the sixth, when he made a long reach and snatched a four-base drive from Johnson's stick. Cruskshank was also mixed up in a stabbing affray. Whalen and Maurer had a close race for brilliant work at short.

Pop Foster was on the job as manager for the Bengals and was given a warm welcome. His presence brought increased ginger into the work of Trenton. In the first three innings Chabek had difficulty in getting the ball to break right. In the third inning Hammond hit to left field for a double. Meyers put down a Cincinnati bludge and Hammond romped home on Johnson's sacrifice fly to center.

Harrisburg scored in the fourth. Miller reached first on Meyers' error. Whalen sacrificed and McCarthy doubled to left. In the seventh Chabek was hit. Keyes sacrificed, and when Cruskshank sent a hot grounder down the first base line and beat it out Chabek came home. The score:

BITS OF SPORTS

Some game. It is now a case of fighting hard all the time. Freddie Welsh is getting many offers and challenges. Philadelphia is fighting hard to get the Army-Navy game. The University of California baseball team returned yesterday from a Hawaiian tour, on which it won six of twelve games played. The players said the hardest team to beat was the All-Chinese club. New Cumberland and Lemoyne will play to-night at Lemoyne. By losing its twenty-sixth consecutive game yesterday the Austin club of the Texas League tied the record for straight games lost in professional baseball, made by Louisville, of the American Association, in 1889. Yesterday's game was lost in the thirteenth inning, 6 to 5. Reading will be the attraction to-morrow. It will be the first Friday holiday in the big stores and a large attendance is looked for. Harrisburg needs larger crowds. The games are the best ever seen in this city. Plenty of excitement each day.
