WILL NOT APPOINT COMMISSION ON SANITY OF SMITH

Youth Accused of Murdering Grandfather Must Stand Trial After All

Legal inquiry into the sanity of Edward G. Smith, the Ingenook youth who is now awaiting trial at September sessions for the murder of his aged grandfather, John E. Bush, was refused to-day by Additional Law Judge McCarrell.

Application for the appointment of a lunacy commission had been made under the act of 1883 by Charles H. Smith, the defendant's father.

In a comprehensive opinion the court points out that it has no jurisdiction to grant the petition under the act in question, but mentions the act of 1874 as covering these provisions. The latter law authorizes the action to be taken by an official, physician or general representative of the prison or Board of Charities.

In conclusion the court suggests that if Smith is in need of special care or treatment as suggested by his counsel, the State Board of Charities will undoubtedly offer the necessary assistance.

In effect the opinion means that Smith will remain in prison pending his trial and that the question of whether or not he is insane, as expert District Attorney John Fox Weiss and William H. Earnest, his counsel, contend, will be presented to a jury of twelve of Dauphin county's good men and true. The defense claims that Smith is now in such condition as to make it impossible for him to properly defend himself in his fight to save himself from the electric chair.

ROYAL TERRACE NEW RESIDENCE SECTION

Twenty-two Brand-New Dwellings Practically Ready For Occupancy

Before cold weather sets in Harrisburg can boast of a brand new residential section—the newly built up Royal Terrace. The Terrace is that portion of Allison Hill that overlooks Cameron street just south of State. At one time the lowlands at the base of the bluff was a public "dump," but this has been filled in and the construction of a row of twenty-two modern dwellings has proceeded so rapidly that the high bluff presents a wonderfully different aspect than that of a few months ago.

Incidentally the sale of the houses, it is understood, has been unusually brisk and the chances are that the whole row will be occupied as soon as the finishing touches are put on by the contractor. The entire twenty-two houses are being constructed by William A. McIlhenny. Mr. McIlhenny, by the way, got a permit to-day to build two more modern bricks at 1842 and 1844 Market street at a cost of $7,500.

SPECIAL THIS WEEK

Victrola style X, $5 monthly at the cash price of $75. No extras. J. H. Troup Music House, 15 South Market Square.—Advertisement.

CHOOSING A VOCATION

It seems as though some plan should be evolved by which every boy and girl, on finishing school, could take up seriously the work of life immediately after vacation days are past.

The only way to get things in these days, as in all times, is to "go and fetch them." The danger of drifting and waiting for something to turn up has ruined the career of many a bright young man—loafing is a dangerous habit.

In the curriculum of schools and colleges one important phase of education—that of training young people how to meet and mingle with men of affairs—seems to be overlooked. This is caused partially by the fact that business men are seldom seen about institutions of learning. They are too busy. During the last year in school an effort should be made to bring the students into personal contact with representatives of various enterprises that are employing and requiring help. In this way many of the difficulties in recruiting their own payrolls would be eliminated and American boys and girls would be given a fairer and more encouraging opportunity of finding their initial place in the multitude of competitors.—"Let's Take It Over." The Publishers, in National Magazine for July.

Follow the example of the Chicago Gas Light company, which makes use of seventy-five motorcycles for collection purposes, the Gas Light company of Atlanta, Ga., has also decided to supply its collectors with powerful two-wheelers. The company believes that it will be possible for its collectors to cover more ground in less time on the motorcycles—thus greatly increasing the efficiency of the collection department.
