Railroad Representatives Talk Over Plans at Pittsburgh Meeting; to Include Harrisburg

In the opinion of E. M. Grimshaw, of the Pennsylvania line east of Pittsburgh, the smoke nuisance in large cities will soon be a thing of the past. Mr. Grimshaw passed through Harrisburg to-day on his way home from Pittsburgh, where he attended a meeting of smoke experts.

Railroad men who have been studying the smoke abatement question hold conferences every three months. At these meetings reports are presented. At the meeting in Pittsburgh on Tuesday reports were made on the plans by which large cities will eventually be rid of the smoke trouble.

On the opinion of Mr. Grimshaw, good results have been accomplished since April 1. A remarkable headway is being made in the matter of smoke abatement, said Mr. Grimshaw. Another meeting will be held in Pittsburgh in November. In the meantime lectures and inspections will be held in Harrisburg and other cities.

New Station for Elizabethtown. — The Titzel Construction Company, of Lancaster, has been awarded the contract to build for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Elizabethtown. Plans have been prepared by the architects of Philadelphia, who were the architects of all the Masonic buildings at that place.

Belgians Defeat Germans Wounding and Killing 8,000

But the Belgian artillery and infantry met this spectacular rush in "stone-wall" fashion and drove up the motor forces, disabling scores of the machines. Others were captured later. The cavalry fighting was particularly fierce. One squadron of mounted Belgians sallied forth from Liege and took the offensive, and by their speed and dash defeated and drove into route six full squadrons of German cavalrymen.

At once the Belgian flyers took to the air and drove off the enemies of the air heights. Then the Belgian aviators cruised over the German positions and came back with reports that were highly valuable, especially as to the locations of the cavalry, which later was defeated. They proved themselves at least as good as the superiors of the Teuton flyers.

Every German discovered anywhere in the city is brought before the police, who have considerable trouble in protecting the prisoners from attack by the excited crowds. The patriotic enthusiasm here is extraordinary. Nearly all the citizens wear badges with the colors of Belgium, France and England combined.

At the same time Fort Chaudfontaine, to the southeast of Liege, kept up a hot fire on another body of Germans who had seized a neighboring castle. The Belgian artillery reduced the building to a mass of smoking ruins. The Germans finally retired all along the line. One newspaper says the German losses amounted to between four and five thousand men, while they abandoned seventeen machine guns.

HEADS OF DEAD AND WOUNDED The attacking infantry crept up under cover of a heavy artillery fire, but the Belgian defenders reserved their fire until the Germans had come to close quarters, when at a given signal the Belgians opened with a perfect hail of bullets from rifles and machine guns, which wreaked havoc among the Germans. The attackers soon lay in heaps of dead and wounded around the fort.

A squadron of Belgian lancers, according to another report, was completely wiped out after it had killed 150 German Uhlans.
