

Women AND THEIR Interests

How Can I Know My True Love?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

In all the old fairy tales Prince Charming comes riding upon a wonderful white charger and his happy love knows him at sight. Life, unfortunately for one individual or for another, is not in the least like the fairy tales of love.

Life is full of people who would not know their true love if they met, or of folks who get tired of waiting for love and marry for a passing fancy. But there are many honest souls who are convinced that they would not know Love if they met him, and they write me in great numbers to ask how they may recognize love when it comes.

Now love of the right sort is based on more than mere attraction between the sexes. Love is a supreme longing of one individual for another. But that longing is to share all the realities of life and not emotion alone.

The person you truly love is the one with whom you long to share all the good that comes to you, and whom you yearn to protect from any evil that threatens them.

Love should be based on companionship, on congeniality, on respect, trust, tenderness and a loyal belief that life with the object of your affections at your side will be better and happier than it could ever be under any other circumstances.

Love has been called "Friendship without flowers or veil." In reality it is a fine, loyal friendship plus sex attraction.

But congeniality of mind and spirit is fully as important as the longing for emotion and affection that many people confuse with love.

Girls and men alike may know their true loves by four signs that point to love as the signs of the compass point in the four great cardinal directions. The great signs of love are four—and there are four minor ones, too.

First there is a longing to be with the object of your affections. Next there is a desire to save him all pain and to give him all joy. Then comes a great surging faith in his strength and honor. And then comes a longing to be in all things fine and splendid so that you may be worthy of the gift of his love.

And for the four lesser directions on the compass of love there are these four "symptoms of love": A constant state of comparison in which no one else seems to even approach the high standard of your beloved. Next a foolish little tendency to shirk work and fall a-dreaming of him. Third, a wish to run and tell him everything that happens, and a feeling that nothing is worth much until he has known or seen it too. And last, a great disdain for every one who is not wise enough to appreciate the dearly beloved.

When you feel all these emotions, when jealousy and distrust and petty selfishness and a desire to prove your power by wounding are no part of your attitude, you may be sure that your true love has come.

GLADSTONE COLLAR
A STYLISH FINISH
Charming Blouse to Wear With Coat Suit or Separate Skirt

8302 Yoke Blouse, 34 to 42 bust. WITH LONG OR THREE-QUARTER SLEEVES.

Here is a blouse showing the very newest and latest development of the Japanese sleeves. They make a part of the yoke in place of the blouse and, consequently, the fronts and back are made soft and full. The pretty Gladstone collar makes a smart finish for the neck. The sleeves may be made full length with straight cuffs or three-quarter length and finished with over-facings. Such a blouse is charming for wear with the odd skirt and the tailored suit as well as for the simple gown and can be made from washable silk and crepe de chine and similar silks quite as well as from voile, cotton crepe and fabrics of such sort. In the illustration, all the seams and edges are finished with machine hem-stitching but plain stitching is quite correct or narrow banding could be used in place of either.

For the medium size, the blouse will require 3 1/2 yds. of material 27, 2 3/4 yds. 36, 2 yds. 44 in. wide.

The pattern 8302 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

There is no after-glow

When you blow out a Safe Home match, it is OUT. And it stays out.

Every Safe Home match is chemically treated to prevent after-glow.

Safe Home matches are extra long and extra strong.

The extra length means extra service. With one Safe Home match you can light all four burners of a gas stove—and not run the risk of burning your fingers.

The extra strength means extra safety. Other things being equal, that match is safest which is strongest. Safe Home matches are strongest.

Examine the head of a Safe Home match. It is nearly twice as large as that of an ordinary match. That means better burning—a bigger flame, a flame that burns longest.

Safe Home matches are non-poisonous. They are safe to have in the home.

All grocers. Five cents a box.

Miss Fairfax Answers Queries

FORGETTING ENGAGEMENTS

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a young girl of nineteen and keeping company with a young man one year my senior.

He has a way that annoys me very much. He is very forgetful. He invites me to places of amusement and when the time comes he never speaks of it.

What I want to know is if he really cares for me or is he just passing the time away with me?

Do not permit any man to slight you. Simply tell him quietly the next time that he invites you anywhere that you will make no engagement with him unless he is quite sure that he intends to respect it. And keep your word. If he ever makes and breaks another engagement have nothing to do with him until he has apologized and explained properly.

HE SHOULD COME TO YOUR HOME

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am twenty-two and am keeping company with a young man two years my senior. He wants me to call at his place of business, from which we go out together. His excuse is that he does not want to see my parents. They never interfered in our affairs or said anything out of the way to him. He is at present drawing $15 per week, and claims that it is not enough to live on when married. Is it proper for me to go to see him? Do you think him in earnest, as every time I speak to him he tells me I am the only one for him and not to mind his dealings with my parents? A. B. C.

If this man truly loves you, some of his tenderness of feeling must extend to the parents you love. Insist pleasantly, but sincerely, on his coming to your home and being amiable to your mother and father.

MEETING HIS PARENTS

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I was introduced to a young man about five months ago at a ball. Since then he has taken me out quite a number of times, but he did not introduce me to his parents yet, although I have introduced him to mine. If he cared for me, don't you think he would have done that already?

MARY C.

You are exactly the right kind of a girl to have your parents meet the men you know. In the case of a man the same necessity does not arise, as he feels more independent about making friends without the sanction of his parents. Custom has made this so, and yet, I too, like the idea of a man wanting his parents to meet his girl friends. However, etiquette does not demand this introduction until the man feels that he is introducing his future wife.

Skin Diseases Often a Mystery

The Right Treatment Will Solve Worst Problem

The key to unlock the mysteries of eruptive skin afflictions is S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. If you will write for a splendidly illustrated book "What the Mirror Tells" you will learn why and how S. S. S. causes new skin and tissue to replace the afflicted spots.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today at any drug store and waste no more time with salves, ointments or lotions. Skin health comes from your blood. It comes from the network of tiny blood vessels that intrude all skin, segment and tissue.

Now, when S. S. S. enters the blood it is carried throughout your body in about three minutes and its most active work takes place in the skin. Here it puts into motion the process of preparing all impurities into a substance that is promptly expelled through the skin pores. This process goes on day and night, all eruptive conditions cease; the old skin disappears in the form of invisible vapor or perspiration. Don't fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today and write for the valuable book to The Swift Specific Co., 103 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Sleeveless Gowns Require Hairless Arms

Fashion says sleeveless, low-necked gowns for this season. This means hairless arms and neck, if you do not want to be humiliated. Kennedy's Drug Store has the safest, best and quickest way to be absolutely free from all trace of superfluous hair in to use the famous mineral preparation known as Mrs. Osgood's Wonder for Superfluous Hair.

It is delightful to use and absolutely harmless. A single application makes hair on face, neck, arms, hands, or any other part of the body quickly disappear.

The cost is small and Kennedy's Drug Store will supply you, or in fact, any up-to-date druggist or department store, on a Money-Back guarantee basis.—Advertisement.
