Chicago Man Tells of Conditions in Belgium

London, Aug. 11, 2:10 P. M.—John Clarkson, of Chicago, a railroad constructor who left Antwerp on Sunday afternoon and reached here by way of Ostend, says the number of Belgian wounded is enormous. All the hospitals at Brussels, Ghent and other cities, he says, are full and factories and convents are being utilized for the reception of the wounded.

Mr. Clarkson said he saw a long train full of wounded soldiers unloaded at Brussels. The wounded men were carried through ranks of soldiers who presented arms as they passed while crowds of people looked on in silence.

When the German prisoners were brought to Antwerp from the front a large crowd gathered to see their arrival but no attempt was made to molest them. The German soldiers, according to Mr. Clarkson, appeared to be in good condition. The men looked dejected but their officers were a proud and defiant air.

The banks at Antwerp, said Mr. Clarkson, were paying only ten per cent of the deposits and refused to honor American paper. Very few Americans were left there. The prices of food were fixed by the military authorities and any storekeeper caught overcharging was arrested.

While crossing the channel, the steamer on which Mr. Clarkson traveled, the huge German coast guard near Dunkirk where she shot across to Dover.
