

U. S. DISTRICT COURT ORDERS DISSOLUTION OF HARVESTER TRUST

International Company Declared to Be a Monopoly in Restraint of Trade

SHERMAN ACT WAS VIOLATED

Motion For Appointment of a Receiver Will Be Entertained Within 90 Days

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 12.—The International Harvester Company to-day was declared to be a monopoly in restraint of interstate and foreign trade and was ordered dissolved by a majority decision in the United States District Court.

Unless the $140,000,000 corporation submits a plan for the dissolution of the combination into at least three independent concerns within ninety days, or in case of appeal within ninety days of the issuance of an appeal mandate from the United States Supreme Court, the decision announces that the court will entertain an application for the appointment of a receiver for all the properties of the corporation.

The decision of the court was given by Circuit Judge Walter I. Smith, of Iowa, with which Judge William C. Hook of Kansas, agreed, and from which Judge Walter A. Sanborn, of Minnesota, dissented.

Violated Sherman Law

The majority opinion held that the International Harvester Company was from its organization in 1902 in violation of the Sherman law. The original corporation, formed of five concerns, violated the first section of the Sherman act by restraining competition among themselves. The combined organization also tended to monopolize trade in contravention of the second section of the law.

WILL BE SOME TIME UNTIL WORK STARTS AT "HARDSCRABBLE"

Plans For Street Lines Will Soon Be Submitted From City Engineer's Department

TO NOTIFY PROPERTY OWNERS

Matter Will Likely Rest Until After Officials Return From Third Class City Convention

Actual work on carrying out the provisions of the "Hardscrabble" ordinance passed unanimously yesterday afternoon by City Council may not be started for several weeks. It is certain that quite some time will be required for City Solicitor Daniel S. Seltz to prepare his plans for the legal acquisition of the properties in the section effected by the measure.

The ordinance calls for the opening of Front street from Herr street to Calder street. Plans for the street line will soon be submitted from the city engineer's department. Notice of the passing of the measure will be served on all property holders affected.

The ordinance will go to Mayor John K. Royal sometime to-day. It must lay over ten days. As City Solicitor Seltz and Mayor Royal will attend the Third Class City League convention in Meadville August 25-27 it is probable that very little work will be done on the plans until they return.

TERRIFIC CANNONADING NORTH OF LIEGE MARKS SCENE OF ANOTHER BIG BATTLE

French Women Aviators Who Will Scout For the Army

BARONESS DE LA ROCHE HELENE DUTERAU

LILY LEENING

Most members of "La Stella," the name given in Paris to the Women's Auxiliary Aviation Corps of the French Army, have volunteered for active duty for their country. They will scout over German or any other territory to report to the commanding general the location of the enemy. Among them are some very daring aviators who have some nerve enough for this duty. So little news of the operation of the French army is coming from Paris that it is not known if the services of any of these women have been accepted nor if any of them are actually in the field. Should the loss of aviators prove heavy and they are needed there is no doubt they will be called on to sail over the German-French frontier.

I am going to leave every single corporation with which I am connected. German Army Moving to French Frontier Through the Heart of Belgium

French Position in Alsace Is Said to Be Good as Troops Occupy Crests and Passes of Vosges Mountains; German Commander Denies Loss of 20,000 at Liege and Intimates That Assaults Were Stopped by Emperor's Orders to Avoid Needless Sacrifice of Life; Belgians Believe Germans Will Attempt to Cross Dutch Territory.

The meagerness of dispatches from the war centers of Europe to-day appear to indicate that the censorship has become stricter than ever. Neither from England nor France is any hint allowed to pass over the cables as to the progress of events or as to the positions or movements of the huge armies of German, French, Belgian, Austrian, Russian and British troops which, it is assumed, must now be within striking distance.

A short Brussels dispatch received via London says "The German retirement reported yesterday is becoming more marked to-day." The significance of this statement can only be guessed at. It may mean that an engagement in force actually is in progress, or it may only be the general covering movements that have been in course of execution for several days in Belgium.

A Dutch dispatch says a terrific cannonade was heard this morning from the direction of Tongres, north of Liege. It was reported yesterday that two divisions of German cavalry with artillery had arrived there.

Belgium was to-day again the scene of outpost fighting between Belgians, French and Germans.

The German commander at Liege denies the loss of 20,000 in his effort to take the forts there. He says they will be taken without the loss of a man as soon as German heavy artillery arrives. He asserts that "the Belgian force is numerically superior to ours."

He intimates that the assaults were stopped by the Emperor's orders to avoid needless sacrifice of life.

On the subject of Liege, the French foreign minister declares all the surrounding forts intact and that only a small force of Germans entered the town itself under cover of darkness. It had been pointed out previously that the defeat of the Liege forts was the inability to see one fort from the next, although the fire of their guns crossed.

A Brussels dispatch says the bulk of the German army is leaving Liege and advancing toward the French frontier through the heart of Belgium.

The French foreign minister described the French position in Alsace as good, as the troops occupy the crests and passes of the Vosges mountains.

Military experts studying the positions of the opposing armies may, it is pointed out, possibly have been confused as to the German entrenchments said to have been erected on the River Aisne which they conclude to be the river of that name well inside the French border. There is also a small stream called the Aisne running into the Ourthe at Bomal below Liege and this may be the one mentioned, as it would thus form an extension of the defensive works thrown up by the Germans after they encountered Belgian opposition at Liege.

Belgium anticipates an attempt by Germany to cross Dutch territory and has requested Holland to state her intentions regarding the resistance to a breach of her neutrality.

Sveaborg, the great Russian fortress in Finland awaits a bombardment or battle, as the commander has ordered all civilians to leave there and also Helsingfors.

Paris reports Montenegrin troops occupying Tarabosch, overlooking Scutari, Albania, where severe fighting between Montenegrins and Turks occurred during the Balkan war.

Considerable sums of English gold are to be deposited in Ottawa, Canada, to facilitate payments without running the risk of shipping money across the Atlantic.
