LADDER MAKING TO BE SUPERVISED

Standards of Safety Rules Will Be Drafted by a Special Committee of State

GOVERNOR COMES TO TOWN

Will Go to Camp Tomorrow; Water Supply Commission Is Scheduled to Meet

Initial steps have been taken by the State Department of Labor and Industry to secure standards of safety in construction of ladders of all kinds and a special committee, consisting of experts, manufacturers, employes and dealers, has been named to meet in Philadelphia on August 14 to discuss a draft of regulations. These regulations will be submitted to the State Industrial Board and after a hearing will be promulgated and all manufacturers required to conform to them.

Study of accidents and observations by agents of the department have shown a large percentage of accidents in which falls from ladders figured were due to faulty construction or failure to provide safe ladders. The idea will be to get the construction end settled and then to require all persons using ladders in industrial establishments to see that they are kept in safe condition.

Two New Pests.—State Zoologist H. A. Surfact is making investigation into complaints of two new caterpillar pests, one of which not only does damage to trees and foliage, but when drawn across the skin causes a burning sensation like that of the brown ant moth. Steps are being taken to ascertain where they came from. The caterpillars are very numerous in some parts of the State and are annoying farmers. They are the "saddleback" so called because of its appearance and the lo, the latter being the larva of the beautiful lo moth.

Many at Work.—Approximately 7,000 men are at work on repairs to State highways, the work going slowly because of the extensive repairs demanded for bridges and drains. Most of the main traveled routes have been put into good condition.

Schuylkill Cases.—Seven arrests for the sale of adulterated milk and cream were made in Schuylkill county yesterday by State food agents. This was the result of some active sampling by State officials.

Bretlinger Busy.—J. Louis Bretlinger, the chief moving picture censor, has shut down on a number of shows and has issued new and strict rules since the act establishing the censorship was upheld. The censor has brought practically all of the big manufacturers and exhibitors to his aid.

Inspecting Hatcheries.—Nathan R. Buller, Commissioner of Fisheries, is making inspections of the work under way at hatcheries. Torresdale and Erie improvements are being pushed along.

Few Licenses.—Thus far only 125 persons have applied for hunters' licenses in Schuylkill county. Over 10,000 took out papers last year. Other counties also report slow issuance.

Employed Boys.—Half a dozen Philadelphia firms were fined yesterday through work of the State Department of Labor and Industry in rounding up persons employing boys under 14. In some cases the youngsters were working without certificates.

Must Sewer Town.—State Commissioner of Health Dixon has issued a decree calling upon the borough of Jersey Shore to provide for better sewer facilities. Complaint had been made about conditions and for some time the borough council had been discussing the matter with the commissioner.

Superintendent Resigns.—Announcement has been made in Chambersburg that M. K. Burger, of that place, has resigned as superintendent of State highways in Franklin county. He will become superintendent of the Chambersburg Gas Works.

To Camp To-morrow.—Governor Tener, who returned to the Capitol to-day for a short time, plans to go to the camp at Mt. Gretna to-morrow. He is attending meetings here to-day.

Working on Highway.—Charles P. Walter, superintendent of the State roads, has a force of men and two road rollers working on the improvement of the State highway between Middletown and the Lancaster line. This road is now in the best condition it has been in years and will be considerably improved.

Marshall to Return.—State Veterinarian C. J. Marshall will sail from England for home within a few weeks. He has been attending meetings of veterinarians at London and making some researches.

The Federal Allowance.—The allowance made by the War Department to the various States is to pay for the ammunition for rifle practice and various supplies so that the State troops might be trained and equipped like regulars. The amount just allowed to this State is somewhat higher than a year ago.

Canneries Listed.—Dr. H. A. Surfact, the State Zoologist, has listed all of the canneries in the State and every plant handling fruits and vegetables has been put down. In many cases the capacity, character and railroad facilities of the plant are listed. This list is for the use of fruit growers and orchard men and is destined to be of great value within a few years. This year it is proving most useful because of the big crops.

Committee to Meet.—The State Water Supply Commission will hold its meeting for July to-morrow and some reports on the water supply service are expected. The work at Pymatuning is being pushed along rapidly and it is expected that a legislative report next winter.

There Is But One Doutrich's In Harrisburg

Following in Doutrich's footsteps has been a popular pastime in the clothing business of Harrisburg since we opened this store six years ago. Our store, equipment, our methods, our advertising—even the name of our Mid-Summer Sale--has been copied by others.

Next to being original, the best thing is to copy a good model and we congratulate them upon their perspicacity in choosing Doutrich's as worthy to imitate, for the people of central Penna. have shown that they like to be served the Doutrich's way; their patronage has made this the largest and fastest growing clothing store hereabouts.

We are glad to have done this much to raise the standards of the clothing business. But now at Mid-Summer Sale time we feel in duty bound to remind all those within trading radius that there is but one Doutrich's in Harrisburg, and that is at 304 Market Street--that there is but one original Mid-Summer Clearance Sale and that is now on at Doutrich's.
