Matches? Pooh! They Were Too Small to Bother About

The first phosphorus match was made in 1812. Then, for a hundred years, man forgot about matches. He invented the telegraph, the telephone, the wireless, the turbine engine, the ocean liner, the flying machine. He gridironed the surface of the earth with railroads. But matches? Pooh! They seemed too small to bother about.

Coal Is Cheapest and Best Now

To buy coal now is to buy it at the cheapest price for which it can be obtained during the year. And then you gain in quality, too, for the coal sent from the mines at this time of the year may be thoroughly screened before delivery, a difficult matter in cold weather when frost will cause the dirt to cling to the coal. So to buy Montgomery coal now is to buy the best quality of the best coal at the lowest price. Place your order. J. B. MONTGOMERY

Carlisle Man Sues Local Woman on Charges of Bigamy

Suit in divorce was begun in Carlisle Saturday by Charles Meyers against his wife, Emma, of Fulton street, this city, on the grounds of bigamy.
Attorney Victor Braddock brought the suit. Meyers who was arrested for desertion and returned to the peace sometime ago contends that he was married in September, 1906. Since then John Gutshall, of Duncannon, had informed him he said, that he married the same woman in October, 1901 and that he had never been divorced.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST
So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probability due to acidity. It is simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or when wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper acid, such as bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poison gases and dangerous acids. AT THE PALACE--"CAPRICE"

Weariness of social life, Jack Darnton decided to go on a hunting trip as far from civilization as possible. But after three days of solitude an accident occurred which changed his life. He did not know how he came to shoot so low, but the next moment a pathetic little creature, a bird, lay dead at his feet. He ran to the spot and found Mercy, a girl of the adjacent mountain settlement, with an ugly wound in her arm. There was something so charming about her that Jack's heart went out to her and never returned. He told the news traveled back to Jack's father, who became terribly annoyed at the idea of his son marrying a girl of Mercy's caste. The next day he appeared on the scene to prevent the wedding. They came heartbreak and disillusionment. Jack brought her back to his velvet and gilt, where she wrote to her father to take her back to her old home. She decided to go to school and educate herself up to his plans. Her father took her to the best seminary he could find, but here, also, her outlandish garb and uncouth demeanor were ridiculed. Until she heroically rescued a schoolmate from fire. The two became fast friends. Mercy progressed rapidly with her studies, developed a more refined taste in dress; and so when the Christmas holidays came, her chum did not hesitate to invite Mercy to her home for the week. There she introduced Mercy to her brother--and Mercy recognized--Jack. And while he thought a look familiar, he could not place her, so great was her transformation. Mercy confided the truth to her chum and sister-in-law, and the two arranged a plan whereby Mercy was to wear the collar and hat of her chum and sister-in-law. Jack recognized his wife--and so it was that Mercy's husband fell in love with her again.--Advertisement.

Feared to Let Her Son Be Taken to Hospital

Because of her dread of hospitals in general and the Harrisburg hospital in particular where a small son died some months ago, the mother of 9-year-old Joe Flaminio, of Summerdale, volubly and most hysterically refused to allow Joe to be hauled to the city institution after he had been run down by an automobile near his home. The young Italian was playing in the street near his home when a big touring car driven by C. M. Bickel, 1509 North Sixth street, and containing two other men and a couple of women, struck the boy and knocked him down. Dr. S. I. Cadwalader, of Marysville, was called and declared the boy was not seriously injured although pretty badly bruised and shaken up. Bickel and his party offered all possible help and even suggested carrying the boy to the city hospital, but yielded to the mother's pleadings and she took him home.

TO PUT AN END TO ALL SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Specialist's Advice to Ladies Who Have Been Deceived and Disappointed
Thousands of ladies and even young girls have learned to their sorrow that it does not pay to trifle with hairy growths on the face and arms by trying to remove them with worthless pastes, powders and liquid depilatories that smell awfully and burn like mad. There is, however, a simple, inexpensive treatment which never fails to remove all trace of superfluous hair absolutely without pain or injury to the skin or complexion. It was put on public sale by a well known society woman who found that it entirely destroyed all trace of her own growth, after all else failed. In a surprisingly large number of cases it has killed the hair roots so that the hair has never returned. If you have tried all the advertised depilatories in vain and want sure, quick results, get it from Kennedy's Drug Store or any up-to-date druggist or department store. Signed Money-Back guarantee comes with every package. Ask for it by name, Mrs. Osgood's Wonder. Let me caution you, however, never to apply Mrs. Osgood's Wonder to any hair you do not wish totally destroyed.--Advertisement.
