ATTEND THE MARKET FORTY-SEVEN YEARS

Well-known Folks Receive Congratulations of Many Old Friends

At the same old stand in snowstorm and April shower, during the chilly autumn days and warm midsummer and April shower, during the chilly autumn days and warm midsummer mornings—forty-seven years, and a constant reader of the Telegraph for more than fifty years!

That's the record that David Handshaw, of Lower Paxton township, who sells eggs and butter and other nice farm things at the Verbeke street market, claims.

Mr. Handshaw enjoys another record; he's just a couple years this side of the four-score milestone, and in fact he celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday with a big party at the Handshaw farm a few days ago in honor of the occasion.

Mr. Handshaw was born August 13, 1836. All his life he has been a staunch Republican, casting his first presidential vote for Abraham Lincoln. March 17, 1884, he married Anna, the daughter of Samuel and Sarah Ellenberger, of Lebanon. Incidentally she has helped him through most of the years he has conducted his stand at the Verbeke street markthouse. Since April 4, 1887, they have been living on the Handshaw farm near Shoop's Church. It was there the big seventy-eighth birthday party was held with the following guests in attendance:

Dr. and Mrs. Ellenberger, of Harrisburg; Professor and Mrs. Ellenberger, of Harrisburg; Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Phillips, of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Hocker and son, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Crum, Mrs. Clayton Shatzer, Mrs. William T. Crum, Mrs. Clayton Shatzer, Mrs. William T. Crum, Henry Crum, Mary Crum, Florence Cassel, Ammon Cassel, and two great-grandchildren; Mr. and Mrs. Offersel, Ammon Cassel, and two great-grandchildren; Mr. and Mrs. Offersel, Ammon Cassel, and two great-grandchildren; Mollie Crum and Harold Shatzer.

White House officials denied that the message contained any protest concerning the attitude of the American press toward Germany. It was confined entirely to a statement of the German Emperor's position. Officials admitted that there was nothing in it which could be construed as an indication of whether or not the Emperor would at any future time accept the tender of good offices.

The temperature of the pontiff again rose to 99 to-night, causing some headache. The coughing, however, is easier and less frequent and the patient sleeps better.

The Pope was much moved upon hearing from Venice echoes of the cannonade in the Adriatic.

"The bones of the Doges must thrill in their sepulchres at the familiar sound of battle, recalling the heroic days of old," he said.
