HOW TO STOP STOMACH TORMENT

Sound Advice From A Well-Known Physician.

Men and women who suffer from what they call Dyspepsia, indigestion or just plain "stomach-trouble" usually seek regular relief in the form of some peptic pill or tablet, or other artificial digestant. It is a serious error. In nine cases out of ten, the distress is caused by the development of acids in the stomach—formed by the fermenting of the food. Instead of a digestant being required, something should be taken to dissolve or neutralize this acidity, when normal digestion will follow as a matter of course. This acid matter is distinctly poisonous and unless it is dissolved, digestion merely carries the mass of fermenting food from the stomach to the intestines, where its poison is absorbed by the blood and carried all over the body.

If all the great army of people who suffer after nearly every meal would make it a point to take a teaspoonful of Bismarck's Magnesia in a quart glass of water after each meal, there would be no formation of acidity and consequently no distress or discomfort. Sour, acid, gassy stomach, heartburn, belching, bloating, etc., would then be a thing of the past. "Bismarck's Magnesia" is a physician's prescription. It is inexpensive and can be obtained at any drug store. It is prepared for just such trouble and the best proof of its efficiency is that it will stop the sharpest, biting stomach distress in five minutes from the time it enters the stomach, simply by dissolving the acids that have been formed there. Its action is absolutely harmless.

Passing Impressions of Finance

By Louis Guenther

We are not getting back to normal condition as rapidly as we should like. The Stock Exchange has now been closed nearly three weeks, the longest period of idleness on record and there is no immediate prospect of this condition terminating for a week or two. Our Exchange is waiting upon the London Exchange, because from that market, more than from any other market can we secure reliable indices to whether frenzied and ruthless price cutting liquidation has spent its force.

It is idle speculation for our economists to state that if we put up the bars so none of our gold can get away from us, we need not fear any further European liquidation in American securities. This is fallacious reasoning and emphasizes rather than the wishful thinking of the thought that such an artificial expedient could in any way alter the course of international bartering. What we buy we must pay for, and if we cannot buy because we cannot spare the gold, that is merely conceding, without saying so in so many words, that we are short of cash to pay.

Our boast is that there is nothing fundamentally wrong with our business structure. We have the wealth and also are in a period of prosperity which would have made itself felt long ere this but for this interference from Financier Believes Interruption of Imports Will Throw Burden of Fall Supply on U. S.

Special to The Telegraph
 Philadelphia, Aug. 20. — Richard Y. Cook, president of the Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company, who has just returned from Europe, having got out of the north of France on the Belgian and German frontier with considerable difficulty, spoke hopefully yesterday of an impetus to American industry from the after-effects of the European war.

"It is the judgment of business men," Mr. Cook said, "that the interruption of importations into America, more particularly from the Continent of Europe, would throw the burden of supplying the Fall demand and needs of the United States upon American mills and factories. At the time that I was in London, nearly two weeks since, no one had quite got his bearings and therefore I am unable to report what would be a final judgment of the situation from the English standpoint."

Mr. Cook said the exigencies of the situation in the matter of shipping his family prevented him from making extended inquiries in England, the only country in which he spent a day of leisure. The feeling in London, he said, was that the British Government must step up at once to the service for mails and remittances.

Mr. Cook, who, with other returning tourists, is removing a number of ladies from steamer companies and is perhaps thousands of Americans in London outside the offices of the two London companies without being able either to return to America or to be settled according to German law, that it would be well for the United States Government to require that a certain amount of the purchase price, should the country for an equitable settlement of the claims of Americans who had prepaid their return passage. Doubtless the German steamer companies, who have rendered excellent service for years to the traveling public, would agree to this. The only reasonable calculation would be that they must hold between $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 of American money for the purpose of return passage, which passage, of course, cannot be given."

Holland Mobilizes and Prepares For War

Special to The Telegraph
 Amsterdam, Aug. 20. — It is reported that the Dutch army has occupied the small Dutch village of Gennep, a few miles to the south of Maastricht. Several of the inhabitants who sought to oppose the invaders were killed by the Dutch soldiers. The rest of the population fled to the woods.

Holland is prepared for war. It announced its neutrality some time ago, but it has mobilized all its reserves and called all its soldiers to the front. It is reported that it may be ready in case its neutrality is violated. The authorities are prepared to open the dikes, which will flood the lowlands.

The tramway service has been curtailed and the train runs daily between Holland and Germany. Boy Scouts are raising funds by selling cigarettes and cigars. They use the proceeds to buy food for the soldiers who are collecting in the front lines.

Everywhere in Holland there is the hope that the nation will not be drawn into the war, but it is feared that the worst must come, and that the national flag will be raised in the name of the German and the allies has reached the frontiers.

Everything that might offer a shelter to hostile forces—trees, hedge rows, shrubs, etc.—is being cut down. Buildings along the possible firing line—have been razed to the ground by the military forces. At Gennep and in the villages of Zeist and Bussum, where there are many summer residences, the landscape has been made almost barren.

The places named and other villages have been shelled by the military forces. Many people have fled to the woods and many people have built bungalows and brick villas in the woods. They are waiting for the refreshing breezes from the Zuyder Zee.

There is a regular stampede of these menaced districts. Soon after the yellow placards announcing a state of alarm had been posted a proclamation appeared that all the wooden buildings were to be razed to the ground and the inhabitants were to be evacuated to the frontiers.

Most of the people living in this district have gone to Friesland, the northern province, which they think is the safest.

Italian War Party Seeks Pretext For Fight With Russia

Special to The Telegraph
 Rome, Aug. 20. — Italian hatred for Austria is being manifested by anti-German demonstrations throughout Italy. Heavy pressure is being brought to bear on the Government to declare war on Austria. The Italian Government has been anxious to keep out of the conflict because of the Tripolitan campaign, but indications at present are that the war party is gaining the ascendancy.

Street crowds in Genoa are manifesting anti-German sentiments, and in Messina shopkeepers refused to sell food to the Germans.

Paris, Aug. 20. — In a final effort to swing Italy into line to oppose the allies, Germany has sent a military and diplomatic mission to Rome. It is traveling by automobile and arrived at Trent in the Austrian Tyrol, yesterday.

Bergdoll Wants to War For Germany in Airship

Special to The Telegraph
 Philadelphia, Aug. 20. — Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, inventor of the "Ond" motor, offered his services and aeroplane to the German Government yesterday. He told Doctor Mudra, German Consul here, to whom he applied to be enlisted in the German army, that he had several aeroplanes and would place his aeroplane at the disposal of the German Government, he added.

When asked for an explanation, Doctor Mudra told him that he could not enlist or give the aeroplane. The German Government has a large number of aeroplanes and it was pointed out that the aeroplane might be regarded as contraband. Bergdoll did not give any indication as to his future plans.

Velvet Joe to the Rulers of Europe

NOBODY ever wins in a fight—Th' feller that's licked is a long time gettin' the sore spots healed—an' thar's one left inside o' him that never heals.

Th' feller that thinks he won, gin'rally has t' buy a new hat an' suit, an' nobody sympathizes with him for his black eye.

Ef you'd jest set down an' smoke a few pipes o' VELVET together an' talk it over man t' man, instead o' army to army, thar wouldn't be no fight.

OFFICIAL MAP OF WAR

Includes Many Features of Interest Now Found Elsewhere
 Judging from the interest aroused in yesterday's announcement readers are anxious to get the latest authentic map showing the exact location of the great European war. The Telegraph is passing out these maps at the mere expense of promotion, as shown in the war map coupon printed elsewhere in this issue.

The big war map is 18 1/2 x 16 1/2 inches and takes in the entire war smaller map showing the ground plans of the five big European war capitals, namely: London, Paris, Berlin, St. Petersburg, and Vienna. The frontier between France and Germany shows the great French fortified towns, which also include Liege, in Belgium, where the first great land conflict occurred. There is also a chart of the North Sea and the Kiel Canal as well as the Baltic Sea and the Gulf of Finland.

The unique features described are not to be found in any other war map of Europe. They will appeal to newspaper readers who are watching the greatest of all war struggles.

For a short time these useful educational maps will be passed out to the readers at ten cents each, or twelve cents where they are to be sent by mail. Act quickly so as to be able to talk knowingly of the greatest war of the age. Clip your war coupons and present them without delay.

AT PAXTANG

Anyone who thinks that Paxtang Park is not the most popular amusement resort in the vicinity of Harrisburg should have visited the park during the past two days. The Sousa concerts and the Larkin's picnic drew more than 25,000 visitors to Paxtang. For the balance of the week the management has a most excellent vaudeville performance at the park theater as the attraction. Those who think the brand of vaudeville played at the park theater is not up to the standard of the best in the country should take in the park show this week and be convinced to the contrary.

The park will have a headline feature two musical comedy stars, Fredo and Primrose. The act alone is worth the price of admission.

HOW I CURED MY EYES

"My eyes were in a terrible state; I could hardly stand it. They were red and inflamed, and I had a great deal of sand in them. They would ache and burn dreadfully and caused incessant headaches. I could hardly read at all. After wearing my glasses my eyes felt strained and overworked. By chance I read of a certain eye medicine and I bought it. It cured my eyes in a few days. I can now read and do my work as usual. I feel as if I had never had the trouble. I can now read and do my work as usual. I feel as if I had never had the trouble. I can now read and do my work as usual. I feel as if I had never had the trouble."

KILLING HUNDREDS OF SNAILS

Special to The Telegraph
 Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 20. — Two persons residing in Fairview avenue, which vicinity is infested by snails, killed 325 of the snails and a garter snake measuring over two feet in length Tuesday night. The snake was caught in the act of crawling into the cellar window of Vernon Wolfinger. Every night a number of people with lanterns and lamps are out in the yards hunting and dispatching snails that are destroying gardens.
