Standards of All Countries to Be Flown in Elaborate Display at Island

Island Park on Friday afternoon, when the Harrisburg baseball team plays a game for the benefit of the European war Red Cross fund, will be the scene of the most elaborate flag display ever seen in Harrisburg.

The Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart store has long had a complete collection of the flags of all nations. They have never been displayed on account of their extremely large size. In order that they may be properly displayed on Friday, the Bell Telephone Company and the Harrisburg Light and Power Company will join in erecting poles encircling the outfield of the baseball grounds and from wires suspended between these the flags will be hung, the American flag also being given a prominent place among them.

This display is considered very appropriate in view of the fact that the fund to be raised will be used for the sick and wounded of all the nations at war.

Girls to Sell Souvenirs

A meeting of the committee to arrange the program for Friday will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock in the office of George W. Rely, in the Harrisburg Trust Company offices. In addition to special field day events, in which the players of the Harrisburg and Wilmington teams will participate, there will be a number of events for outsiders. These events will be announced to-morrow. An invitation has been extended to Governor John K. Tener to act as starter in the athletic events.

Another interesting feature will be an army of pretty girls from the big stores, who will sell souvenirs and refreshments for the benefit of the Red Cross fund. At the meeting to-morrow a suggestion of having a band concert will be taken up. The names of John F. Weiss has been added to the committee.

ADOGRAM No. 10

When we see a steer endeavoring to butt a locomotive from the track we may admire his courage, but we condemn his judgment.

There is an object lesson in this for the manufacturer who spends his money for nation-wide publicity without having distribution.

National advertisers who use newspapers spend their money where it actually moves their products from the dealers' shelves to people's homes. Newspaper advertising is the most profitable, because it eliminates waste.

VAST GROWTH OF BUILDING ASS'N'S

Banking Commissioner Believes Some of Them Are Exploited by Promoters

A tendency to loan money on buildings other than dwellings, notably factories, hotels, theaters, "movies," stores and business houses, is noted by William H. Smith, State Commissioner of Banking, in his report on the operations of Pennsylvania's 1,725 building and loan associations for 1913. The commissioner calls attention to the remarkable growth of the business of the associations, whose assets last year aggregated $233,564,354, compared with $213,825,547.70 in 1912, but apparently feels that the vast resources of organizations formed for the purpose of assisting the wage-earner to buy a home are being exploited by promoters, who are obtaining loans and putting big commissions for the service into their pockets.

Of the increase of $19,738,807 in assets approximately $19,000,000 went into mortgage loans in 1913 and there was $800,000 of an increase in real estate loans by foreclosure, "the largest increase being in those associations which do not confine their business to certain localities, but which receive high rates of interest." In the loans on buildings other than homes the investigation of the commissioner shows that there are approximately $2,000,000 in Allegheny county, the commissioner remarking: "Years ago loans of this character could not be obtained in the building and loan associations, but the privilege granted by the State to foster the system were intended to inculcate thrift in the wage-earner by inducements to secure loans for the purchase of a home. The loans are being 'largely put through by promoters, who charge for their services enormous commissions, which are not paid into the treasury of the respective associations for the benefit of all shareholders.'"

The statistical portion of the report shows that 40 associations had assets for the year of $1,098,381.91 on mortgage stock shares; $15,189,175.83 in stock loans; $3,645,385.11 in straight mortgages; $4,520,248.03 cash in banks; $5,450,908.77 in real estate loans; $1,308,176.05 in delinquent interest, fines and premiums; $9,667.72 in rents due and other items. Liabilities include: $1,370,851,316.41 due to shareholders; $4,851,787.67 full paid stock; $12,431,046.48 borrowed money; $41,594,546.90 earnings due shareholders; $1,362,314.47 advanced payments; dues, $1,222.82; 82.81 matured stock; $632,162.30 unearned premiums.

The receipts amounted to $122,011,512.43, a gain of $11,376,811.82 over 1912; shareholders number 510,839, with 4,106,454 shares, of which 1,326,451 were clear and 2,780,004 had been borrowed upon. There was an increase of nearly $11,000,000 in the amount of stock remaining in force, but full paid stock fell off $150,000, probably due to the decision of the Supreme Court that full paid stock does not bear its proportionate share of losses.

The associations aided people to get 19,531 homes, but there are some which, the commissioner says, caused the system, but do not carry them into effect. These take risks and accumulate real estate, pay high salaries and cause complaints by shareholders. They are within the law, technically, and the department cannot make public what they do, under the law requiring secrecy.

The Imperial rescript declaring war against Germany, which was issued by the Emperor of Japan, declaring war upon Germany, is:

"We, by the grace of Heaven, Emperor of Japan, seated on the throne of our ancestors, do hereby make the following proclamation to all our loyal and brave subjects: 'We hereby declare war against Germany, and we command our army and navy to carry on hostilities to the empire with all their strength, and we also command all our competent authorities to make every effort, in pursuance of their respective duties, to obtain the national aim by all means within the limits of the law of nations.'"

"Since the outbreak of the present war in Europe, the calamitous efforts of which we view with grave concern, we on our part have entertained the hope of preserving the peace of the Far East, by the maintenance of strict neutrality, but the action of Germany at length compelled Great Britain, our ally, to open hostilities against that country, and Germany as at Kiaochow, its leased territory in China, busy with warlike preparations, while its armed vessels cruising the seas of Eastern Asia are threatening our commerce and that of our ally. Peace of the Far East is thus in jeopardy."

Accordingly our government and that of his Britannic Majesty, after a full and frank communication with each other, agreed to take such measures as may be necessary for the protection of the general interests contemplated in the agreement of alliance, and we on our part, being desirous to attain that object by peaceful means, commanded our government to offer with sincerity an advice to the Imperial German government. By the last day appointed for the purpose, however, our government failed to receive an answer accepting their advice. It is with profound regret that we, in spite of our ardent devotion to the cause of peace, are thus compelled to declare war, especially at this early period of our reign, and while we are still in mourning for our imperial mother.

It is our earnest wish that by the loyalty and valor of our faithful subjects, peace may soon be restored and the glory of the Empire be enchanced."

Nish, Servia, 5 Aug. 24, via London, 11.25 a. m.—Servia has issued a reply to the official communication on the Austrian-Servian note issued at Vienna. After repeating the main point of the Austrian note, the Servian communication said: "In order to put matters in their proper light the official press bureau has been authorized by the highest authorities to issue the following: 'The Servian army captured from the enemy in the engagement on the Drina, spoils which up to the present time include the following items: Four thousand five hundred prisoners, 53 guns, 8 howitzers, 114 caissons, 3 field ambulances and a medical column with supplies, 14 field kitchens, 15 ammunition, provision and telegraph wagons, railroad trains, quantities of equipment, regimental strong boxes, etc.'"

Wireless Dispatches Tell of Victory For Kaiser

Japanese war moves in the Far East are proceeding under sphinx like silence of the officers of the army and navy. Communication between Japan and China has been severed for twenty-four hours and it is believed the cable between Shanghai and Nagasaki has been cut.

Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to the United States, arriving in New York to-day denounced as false the reports that the German Crown Prince, Frederick William, had been shot either in the streets of Berlin or in the battle at Liege. Only 5,000 or 6,000 German soldiers were engaged in the assault upon Liege, said Count Bernstorff.

Repairing State Street Bridge; Pedestrian Travel on North Side Interrupted

Needed repairs to the metal superstructure of the State street bridge has made it necessary to close the north side of the viaduct to pedestrian travel, and it is not improbable that all or part of the bridge may be closed down to vehicular and trolley traffic before the job is finished.

HUNTERS TO MEET

The Hunters and Anglers' Protective Association will meet to-morrow evening at Garland's Hall, Fifth and Peffer streets.

THE KITTEN THAT WENT TO WAR

He was a black kitten and his name was Christopher Columbus. Perhaps never was a cat in the world more patriotic in his actions, for he went to war when Lincoln first issued the call for soldiers, and stayed till after the war was over and peace was declared.

He was in a hundred battles. He was in danger of his nine lives more than a hundred times. He was wounded by gunshots in four places at least. He lost one eye in the service of his country. His tail was cut off. He was lamed in one fore leg. He was shot through the body, so that his breathing was short and uncertain; but he lived through all the vicissitudes of battle and camp life and came home with the company—or, rather, the sad remnant of the company—the war-scarred veterans. When he died, several years afterwards, the boys of the city and the veteran soldiers with whom he had fought united to give him a military funeral; and I am sure that his grave ought to be decorated with flowers on Memorial Day.

MENACE TO CRIMINALS

The detective game is in danger of being overdone. The general public has no idea of how many keen-witted young men stand ready to spring forward and do things that will make Sherlock Holmes look slow-witted and idiotic.

Not long ago the chief of a bureau in the Federal government which employs detectives and secret agents received a council of the machine and it came in the shape of a letter which read:

"Dear Sir: Are you in need of any more detective? If you need any more I would be glad to help you out as I do not have anything in portness to do at the present if you are in need of any officer I thinkancer the purpose please state what salary you will pay and if you will furnish handcuff or please send me periticles. I remain your trueley, 'John Manahan.'"

RIGHT KIND OF JAIL DELIVERY

A Prisoners' Relief Society is now being organized, the leading spirit being a young man of West Virginia, while among the directors are a number of influential business men of that state. It is proposed to make the organization a national one, if possible, in order that a gospel of cheer and helpfulness may be carried to the inmates of the prisons and penitentiaries throughout the country. This is a work which is very greatly needed. One of the chief leaders in the enterprise is a man who himself has known the meaning of prison life and the hardness and bitterness of the lot of the everyday convict. This man, who is now a thorough Christian, believes that many hundreds, if not thousands, of prisoners can be reached with the gospel through the Prisoners' Relief Society, and that a great reformative work can be done among these unfortunate. Anyone wishing to communicate with the organizers can address c/o, The Christian Herald, Bible House, New York. — The Christian Herald.

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Especially For This Newspaper by Pictorial Review

A SMART LOOSE COAT.

Blanket cloth, which comes in very serviceable, yet smart, colors, is employed in making this coat. There are other materials which will answer the purpose just as well, however, chin-chilla cloth being also smart. The coat is loose and fastens in single-breasted effect, having a yoke back and one-piece sleeves. Either a turn-down or military collar may finish the neck. Two and one-half yards of 54-inch material at $2 a yard will make an exact duplicate of models that sell for $15 and $20 in the shops. First fold the goods; then lay along the lengthwise fold the back and yoke parts of the pattern. The stay may be arranged next the yoke and just below the sleeve, which is on a lengthwise thread. The front, underfacing, belt, collar and cuff are laid along a lengthwise thread. Following these directions will insure good lines for the model. Now adjust the underfacing to position, underneath front. This may be contrasting material if desired. Pleat, bringing "T" perforations to corresponding double "O" perforations and tack. Sew yoke to back as notched. Arrange stay underneath back, bringing correction; sew to sleeve as notched. Sew sleeve in armhole as notched, seam at under-arm seam easing in extra fullness. Unless a belt in suede is substituted use the same material, as this makes an effective finish. Pictorial Review pattern No. 5810. Sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years or $2, $4 and $6 inches waist. Price, 15 cents.
