ROAD ROLLER SWIPES TRAIN

Sunbury, Pa., Aug. 25.—Upon a Pennsylvania passenger train running from Sunbury to Lewistown yesterday afternoon was sideswiped by a big road roller, three cars were badly damaged, but no one was hurt. Traffic was delayed an hour until a new train was secured and the passengers transferred. The roller was being used to help in laying a brick pavement on a street paralleling the railroad and was backed into the train.

HEN HATCHES QUAIL

Sunbury, Pa., Aug. 25.—While cutting hay at the farm of N. W. Bloss, at Hick’s ferry the farmer came upon a quail’s nest with twenty eggs, the hen of which had been frightened away. The eggs were still warm and were taken by one of the boys of the farm and placed beneath a hen. The hen now has a flock of ten “Bob Whites” and is proudly strutting about the farm feeding, and mothering them at night.

CORNROAST ON BIRTHDAY

Dauphin, Pa., Aug. 25.—A delightful cornroast was given on Saturday evening by Thomas Kinter, in celebration of his nineteenth birthday and then some. Many people went up the river to the Elm Tree, where the roast was held, in boats and canoes. Games were played by the light of a bonfire and lanterns. Corn, watermelons, cantelopes and hot buns were thoroughly enjoyed.

MARRIED AT DAUPHIN

Dauphin, Pa., Aug. 25.—A wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. C. Lutz, of the United Evangelical Church, on Sunday afternoon, where Albert Strauser and Miss Carrie May Strahn, both of Marysville, drove up to the Evangelical parsonage and asked to be married. After the ceremony the bride and groom drove to their home near Marysville.

GARDEN CURIOSITY

Sunbury, Pa., Aug. 25.—David Houston, of Beach Haven, and Lemuel Fuller, of Berwick, have curiosities in their gardens, consisting of potato vines that have grown to a height of six feet. The vines have climbed poles like beans and the growth of the growth of the stalks has not interfered with the potatoes, as they are large and plenty of them.

The Effect Of War On Coal

It’s a problem to determine what effect this war will have on the coal situation. One thing is sure and that is labor conditions in the coal regions will become very serious owing to the large number of foreign miners who are returning home.

This will mean incompetent men will be employed and as a result coal will leave the mines in bad condition. On September 1st the price of all Anthracite Coal will advance in price 20c per ton.

Aside from the difference in price, coal bought now is much better quality because in summer the demand for coal is light and more time is taken to prepare it properly.

Better order your coal at once and save the advance in price, get better coal, and insure yourself against a further raise in price later in the winter.
