The commission has received a petition for the Erie Rallroad Company to resume passenger service over its Jefferson Division. This service was discontinued April 15th of this year. William E. Egle, of Secane, Delaware county, who complained of the zone system of charges exacted by the Southern Pennsylvania Traction Company, advises the commission that the fare limit has been extended and that the complaint has therefore been satisfied.

Concerning the complaint of Warren L. Abel, of 1113 North Second street, this city, relative to the coaches on a train leaving Mt. Gretna on the evening of August 9th not being lighted, the Pennsylvania Rallroad Company advises that the attention of the Cornwall & Lebanon Rallroad Company has been called to this matter with a request that in the future the trains should be delivered properly lighted.

The Commission was in Erie yesterday inspecting several grade crossings on the lines of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Nickel Plate and Buffalo & Lake Erie Traction crossings. There is a disposition to eliminate some of the crossings and provide protection for others.

The Commission is making an energetic canvass of the State to determine whether the public service company has posted their rates and tariffs as required by law. The State has been divided into five sections, and the delinquents will be called to account for their neglect.

Any clever girl can make such a garment without difficulty and any seasonable suiting material can be used, the new silks as well as the new wools, but, in the illustration, gabardine is combined with striped cloth.

EUROPEAN CONFLICT War Which World Has Dreaded But Accepted as Inevitable

Austria-Hungary, a great imperial power in Europe, with a population of something like 50,000,000 and a fighting strength consisting of 2,000,000 men, made an attack on Servia, a small inland kingdom in the Balkan peninsula, with a population of only 4,000,000 and an army of something like 250,000 men. This apparently unequal conflict threw all of Europe into one of the most terrible wars of history.

About a year ago Servia, Greece and Bulgaria succeeded in driving Turkey further back out of Balkan territory. The northern boundary of Servia touches the southern boundary of Austria-Hungary, and this great empire desired to annex Servia. A few months ago an Austrian crown prince was assassinated and Austria claimed that this was the result of a conspiracy on the part of Servia, and made demands which Servia took exception to. Thus war was declared, and one hation after another has entered into it. Every reader of the Telegraph will be interested in following this great conflict of nations. For this purpose the Telegraph is offering an official war man, with which one can easily follow all the great events of the war. Patrick Garrity never married and has lived in these mountains since 1861. 'A mountain inn or summer resort on a small scale was conducted by 'Pat' and many famous parties took meals at his home. He had a clearing where he raised vegetables, and he gathered berries and put them up. Fishing parties to the mountain streams in the summer and hunters in quest of large wild game in the winter, all visited 'Pat' Garrity and his hospitality was known far and wide. He seldom left his mountain home. He was a man of genial disposition and a good conversationalist. His body was taken to Bellefonte and buried in the Catholic Cemetery there.

Oculists pretty much agree in the efficacy of eye bathing, not only to cure minor affections of the eye, but to keep the eyes in healthy conditions. Many of them advise, especially in the case of weak eyes, in using a weak, slightly warmed solution of boracic acids instead of cold water.
