layers, headed by Captain W. B. mith and Coach J. M. Duff, Jr., leaving Pittsburgh yesterday for the scene f activity.

The idea of training the Blue and loid gridmen at a camp in the mounains was originated last year. A. R. lamilton, of the class of 1833, who is as a summer home near Windber, ffered an ideal site for the boys. It is fitted up in the most up-to-date nanner and the football artists have he same conveniences for training as hey would have in the city.

Football prospects at the university re the brightest in the history of its thletics. Of the eighteen letter men ast year fourteen are available. Capain Hube Wagner, chosen by many xperts for all-American end. is one f the four missing. Hoag, Ammons of Cowell are the other absentees, loag graduated, Cowell will not reurn to college and Ammons will cocah he freshman team, being ineligible or the varsity. J. M. National League Race ALLENTOWN MUST the fans stood up and cheered for five minutes.

Bobby Scott
Bobby Scott was the big boy in the first game. He had Harrisburg chopping at his curves, and fanning when he sent those speedy shoots across the plate. While errors back of Mark Adams gave the Teutons a lead in the first inning, it was mostly Scott who is entitled to the credit for the victory. Harrisburg was not hitting. The Teutons got to Adams at intervals and finally iced the game in the seventh. O'Neil came into the game in the seventh. It was too late.

The Second Game
In the second game Joe Chabek figured. Scott tried hard to make it two victories in one day, but Cockill and his crew got to the cross fire puzzler in one inning and won the game. It was Chabek who was the master. The premier twirler won his twenty-seventh game of the season and chalked up his thirteenth straight victory.

The premier twirler won his twenty-seventh game of the season and chalked up his thirteenth straight victory.

The game started with one weak spot in the Cockill lineup. Whalen, the star infielder, was injured before the game. The center finger on his throwing hand was split when he was hit with a bat. Manager Cockill was obliged to borrow Hogan from Manager Castle, who was willing to give the necessary aid. Hogan succeeded Whalen after he had been hit on the injured finger in the seventh inning, and played the second game. It was Hogan's work in a fast double play that made the Harrisburg victory certain in the second game. It was Hogan's work in a fast double play that made the Harrisburg victory certain in the second game.

Hard Uphill Fight
Harrisburg played a hard uphill fight in the opening battle, and in the second put up the fastest kind of fielding. The game throughout was brimful of sensational plays. Castle, McGeehan, Boyle and Stutz put up a brilliant exhibition of fielding. Emerson, Cockill and McCarthy figured in Harrisburg's special work. In the second game Hogan took care of everything that came his way.

In the big crowd that numbered 2,-122 were Governor John K. Tener, president of the National League and George M. Graham, president of the Tri-State League. President Graham promised two umpires for to-day.

In the first game Allentown scored two runs in the opening inning on Castle's single, Murray's triple, and Miller's bad throw to second, to catch Cannell who had gone to first on Whalen's error.

In the seventh, two more runs came in for the Teutons. Boyle singled to left and went home when Crist threw the ball over Cockill's head. It should have been an easy out. Stutz who hit the ball went to third on an error and scored on Brown's single. The fifth run came in the eighth on McGeehan's single, Boyle's single, and an error by Emerson, when he dropped Stutz's fly after a hard run.

Tobacco That is Good For Your Nerves

TUXEDO actually soothes the nerves. It is just mild enough to keep your nervous system in poise, your muscles in tone. Unlike other tobaccos, Tuxedo burns cool and slow. There cannot be a speck of irritation in a pound of Tuxedo.

Great singers smoke Tuxedo just before a performance. Public speakers testify as to its soothing influence. Doctors recommend it to smokers whose throats are delicate.

The secret of its superiority is the unique "Tuxedo Process" by which all the unpleasant features are eliminated from tobacco.

Another reason is that Tuxedo is made from the best tobacco grown - the choicest, mildest, mellowest leaves of the highest grade Burley tobacco.

Tuxedo is widely imitated-but no other manufacturer has succeeded in making a tobacco as good
