President, Addressing Joint Session of Congress, Asks That $100,000,000 Be Raised

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—President Wilson personally addressed Congress in joint session to-day urging legislation to raise $100,000,000 a year additional revenue through internal taxes to meet a treasury deficit threatened by the conflict in Europe.

The President told Congress that he discharged a duty which he wished with all his heart he might have been spared but which he performed without hesitation or apology, because of the danger in present circumstances to create a "moment's doubt as to the strength and sufficiency of the treasury of the United States."

While the treasury, he said, could get along for a considerable period, he pointed out the peril of the government's withdrawing from the national banks approximately $75,000,000 of the treasury balances deposited there, advised against the government borrowing money or selling bonds which would make a "most untimely and unjustifiable demand upon the money"

Candidate Scorns Charge He Was "Slated"; Penrose Answers Palmer

Candidates nominated by the Republicans of Pennsylvania for State and district offices took an audience that rivaled the great throng that greeted Woodrow Wilson in 1912 by storm at Williams Grove yesterday and made Republican day of 1914 one that will be historic in political annals. Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh delivered an address that will live as a classic of Central Pennsylvania, reiterated his pledge for local option and called for agricultural conservation and the sweetening of the life of the countryside, while Senator Boies Penrose took the hide from Vance C. McCormick and declared that Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer slew the industries of his native State by his drafting of the metal schedule of the Underwood-Palmer tariff and deserved to be called the Benedict Arnold of Pennsylvania Prosperity.

The great audience, which was packed in the hall like sardines and surrounded the windows and doors seeking to hear the speakers, was declared to have been far and away greater than the audience which heard

THE HARDEST BATTLE OF THE WAR

German Forces Are Reported to Be 20 Miles From Paris

French May Surrender Capital if Invaders Pass the Outer Lines of Defense in Effort to Save City From Destruction by Artillery Fire; 80,000 Russians Land on French Soil; British Torpedo Boat Believed to Have Been Destroyed; Little News Received Concerning Operations in East

New York, Sept. 4.—Dow Jones and Company to-day published these items on their news tickers:

"Rome—Premier Salandra gave out the following official statement:

"The Italian government is firmly determined to maintain strictest neutrality.' This corresponding with the feeling of the people although deep rooted sympathies are felt for England."

"London—It is reported at Lloyds that Germany has sent an ultimatum to Holland. There is no confirmation."

London, Sept. 4, 3.15 A. M.—In a dispatch from Rouen, France, a correspondent of the Chronicle says he has learned that the French authorities in Paris are considering the surrender of the city to the Germans in order to avoid the destruction of property from artillery fire.

This will only be done, the correspondent declares, in case the outer line of the defenses of Paris are passed by the invaders.

British, French and Belgian wounded are being transferred from Paris to other cities, and the great exodus of the populace of the French capital to the south continues.

The German right is at the rear of the retreating French who are falling back through Creil, Senlis and Compiègne. This news would place the advance of the German host within perhaps twenty miles of Paris—their objective point. Information regarding the respective positions of the Germans and the allies is, however lacking.

Mails reaching New York from London to-day bring a report, originating in Liverpool that British transports have landed 80,000 Russian troops in France. This matter was not permitted to pass the cable censors.

Press reports of the operations in East add little to what information has come from official sources. In general they refer to fighting early in the week and confirm Russian claims of disaster to the Austrian armies in Galicia and German success in East Prussia. The Russians have occupied Lemberg, the capital and stronghold of Austrian Galicia.

Belgian advices say that a tourist arriving from Budapest declared that the people there fear that the whole Austro-Hungarian structure may break down following the Austrian defeat by the Russians.

Australia has arranged to send more infantry and light horse to support the allies.

Premier Asquith opened the crusade to stimulate recruiting at a meeting in Guild Hall, London. He called upon every able-bodied Briton of military age to rally to the colors.

The German Ambassador to the United States, Count Von Bernstorff, announced that he had positive information that two British cruisers off New York harbor were receiving supplies from a vessel flying the American flag.

The banner will be restored at once.

Some time ago Wolfe was attacked by Crist in State street near Fourth, but Wolfe bested both Crist and a companion who was with him. Last night Wolfe was riding with Mrs. Nellie Crist, wife of the irate husband, he admits. He has a severe gunshot wound in the right leg.

Whisky in Jury Room
Story May Have No Basis

Investigation has been made by District Attorney Michael E. Stroup of the allegations that whisky by the quart was taken into the jury room and served to the jurors during the trial of Martin Fleming, convicted of murder, and according to the County Prosecutor, this morning, there is no basis for the report.

The District Attorney said that the complaints, as he had been given to understand, had been made by Juror James Wilson, Wesley J. Dice, another juror, to-day called at his office, Mr. Stroup said, and declared that quantities of whisky had not been served the jury, as had been charged, and that there was no basis for the charges.

At the Sheriff's Office it was said that Wilson had declared he "meant to get back at the Sheriff because an execution had been served upon him." The execution, it was said, had been delayed until the last minute.

80,000 Russians Sent Into France by Means of English Transports

Correspondence of the Associated Press
London, Aug. 27.—Reports reach London from Liverpool that England has placed more than 80,000 Russian troops in France by means of transports sent north of the Scandinavian peninsula to Finland, where the Cosacks embarked, and were safely landed at French ports.

Therumor that England has helped Russians into France has given rise to much speculation as to where the ships sailed from. However, the secrecy which surrounded the movement of the expeditionary army was so complete that the public is willing to believe the English government has it within its power to conceal any movement.

According to stories told by passengers who returned from England on the Mauretania, September 3, this reported movement of Russian troops to France was made by way of the Scotch coast.
