CAMP SITES ARE MUCH IN DEMAND

Forestry Commissioners Are Asked to Grant Applications For the Hunting Season

The State Forestry Commissioners to-day acted upon applications for camp sites for the hunting season in the greatest number ever filed. Throughout the year there have been many applications made for sites for cottages in forest reserves and probably 150 have availed themselves of the privileges extended. Now there is a well defined rush for sites for hunting camps.

The commissioners also discussed auxiliary forest reserves and means of having land offered inspected before it is taken over by the State. Several dozen inquiries about auxiliary reserves have been made.

Building Going Up.—The State's building at the Panama Exposition is almost ready for the roof. The joists are in place and contract have been let for the grading around the building.

Heavy Drafts Made.—Large drafts of State deposits from the State depositories throughout the State are being made this go to meet the quarterly appropriations for charities and other charges. Strenuous efforts are in capital stock taxes are being made.

Candidate Quits.—G. E. Benninghoff, Washington party candidate for the House in McKean county, has filed notice of withdrawal as a candidate.

Using State Dwellings.—Divisions of the Public Service Commission and the State Department of Health are now using two of the dwellings bought by the State in Fourth street for quarters. In a short time a portion of the Insurance Department force will be moved to the extension district.

Blacksmith Here.—John W. Blake, of Altoona, the Pennsylvania blacksmith, was here to-day to see about his nomination papers for the fifth time. He is running for Congress on a ticket all his own. Blake is noted for his perpetual insurgency and his resemblance to General Carranza.

Big Increase Filed.—The Petroleum Iron Works of Sharon to-day filed notice of an increase of stock from $750,000 to $1,000,000.

Lemona Paid.—The school district of Lemona to-day received a check for $1,895.35.

Suit to Wait.—The injunction suit against Chief of Mines James E. Rodrick over issuance of mine certificates, in which new papers were filed yesterday, will await the recovery of the chief before being heard.

On Inspection.—Chief Engineer Samuel D. Foster is on a tour of inspection of roads under repairs in the western part of the State. He is busy along the repairs on the highway between this city and Lancaster.

Few Complaints.—Chief Sweeney, of the State Bureau of Standards, says that he has received very few complaints about the tolerance scale recently adopted for the State. It has been accepted as the standard in many communities.

Fines Complimented.—Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust has been complimented for the excellent showing of his division in a financial way. The license income has gone far ahead of anything known and the receipts from fines show the vigor with which the law is being enforced.

Creasy on "Hill."—"Farmer" Creasy was on Capitol Hill yesterday. He met a number of officials and said he was willing to retire in the interest of fusion. The general impression he gave was that the fight was hopeless and he might as well quit.

Governor Leaves.—Governor Tener went to attend the meeting of the State to-day and will go to Chicago. He will return early next week.

On Vacation.—Thomas A. Crichton, cashier of the State Treasury, is taking a brief vacation.

Is Again Doing Red Cross Work in Paris

MRS. W. K. VANDERBILT

Paris, Sept. 4.—Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt has not let her grief over the death of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sands, interfere with her Red Cross work. She is again actively at work at her private hospital here, which is equipped with 60 beds to receive the wounded. She is also helping in fitting out an American ambulance hospital at Lycee Pasteur.

MAGNIFICENT MAGNOLIAS AT CAPITOL

Walking about the Capitol grounds with that air of an Earl to the manor born, looking over his estate, I found a friend in Washington standing in awe before one of the great magnolia blossoms. When I say that the magnolia blossom was over one foot in diameter, sunflowers are at once suggested; but this was not a sunflower, it was a magnolia—the sweet-perfumed flower of the South. To see that wondrous sight. In the capitol grounds is exhibited nearly every kind of a tree known. They are carefully marked, and here numbers of botany students come every day to study the species. But the most glorious of all these in the early days of May is the magnolia, with its gorgeous and gigantic blossoms perfuming the entire grounds with its fragrance.—Affairs at Washington, Joe Mitchell Chapter, in National Magazine for July. Tree in its full splendor was indeed a

PUBLIC SERVICE CLOSES ITS WORK

Butler Viaduct Case Takes Up Considerable Time of the State Board

The application of the Pittsburgh, Bessemer and Lake Erie and the Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad Companies for a rehearing of the petition of the borough of Butler for the issuance of a certificate of public convenience approving the location and erection of a viaduct in the borough was argued before the Public Service Commission to-day. It was the contention of the petitioners that the certificate should not have been issued until the damages had been ascertained and that a portion of the costs should have been put on the Commonwealth and on the county of Butler, and that the amount assessed against the railway companies should have been the amount fixed by the ordinance of the borough.

The borough also petitioned for a rehearing, alleging that the amount assessed against the Butler Passenger Railway Company was inadequate and inequitable.

Argument was also heard on the petition for the approval of a contract between the Avoca Borough Electric Light Company and the borough of Avoca for lighting the streets of that borough. The petition was opposed by the Scranton Electric Company, which now furnishes the service.

"IN THE YEAR OF 'JUBILEE'"

The celebration of the year of "Jubilee" was known long before the Christian Era. The word "Jubilee" is derived from the Hebrew Jobel—the joyful shout of clangor of trumpets by which the year of Jubilee was announced. It was celebrated every fiftieth year, marking the half century. It was announced by the blowing of trumpets on the day of atonement, which accepted authorities say was in October, being about the tenth day of the first month of the Israelites' civil year and the seventh day of their ecclesiastical year. It was, in a measure, a year of rest, but it was also a year of doing good, of lifting the burden from the weary and making people happy. The land was to lie fallow and rest, but even this requirement carried with it the promise of greater fertility in years to come; but the greatest purpose of the year of Jubilee seemed to be to bring happiness to the hearts of the people. Mortgage lands were to revert back to the original inheritors or their descendants. Israelites who had been sold for debt or had sold themselves because they were too poor to provide for their families, or upon whom the yoke of bondage had been placed for any cause, were given their freedom.—"Golden Jubilee of Pythian Brotherhood," Union B. Hunt, in National Magazine for July.
