Mysterious Fire Damages Dickinson Fraternity House

Special to The Telegraph
Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 4.—Breaking out in the floor beneath the triple-locked "goat" closet, a fire of mysterious origin partly destroyed the building and fittings of the Chapter House of the Phi Beta Fraternity of Dickinson College, recently erected and fitted up at a cost of $20,000. Men returning from work discovered smoke coming from the window of the building and gave an alarm, whereupon the fire department responded. When the first firemen broke open the doors they were met by a burst of heavy, acrid smoke and flames. The blaze burned fiercely for a time, but was finally extinguished. An entire end of the building was damaged and the greater part of the furnishings suffered damage from fire and water.

The records of the chapter were in the closet under which the fire started and were partly destroyed. The lounge, dining room, done in oak and leather, were ruined and several of the bedrooms had their furnishings damaged. The loss will approximate $2,500, partly covered by insurance.

AUTO WRECKED BY SHIFTING ENGINE

Large Touring Car Carrying Seven Young People Pushed Fifty Feet Along Track

Special to The Telegraph
Columbia, Pa., Sept. 4.—Seven young people who occupied a large touring car belonging to Isaac H. Weaver, a wealthy tobacco dealer of Lancaster, had a miraculous escape with their lives here late Wednesday afternoon when their automobile was struck by a shifting engine on the Reading and Columbia railroad at Hollinger's crossing on the Lancaster and Columbia turnpike and pushed a distance of fifty feet along the track in front of the engine.

There were four young ladies and three young men in the car when it was struck and the accident happened so quickly and unexpectedly that all were too much shocked to even attempt to jump out of the car. Fortunately, the engine was running slowly at the time and as soon as the engineer saw the automobile he applied the brakes and that act saved the lives of the occupants, who remained in the car until the engine had stopped.

The machine was completely demolished, they were taken out of the wreck and were found not to have sustained the slightest injury, not even being scratched or bruised.

The wrecked auto was one of three that was carrying a number of people from Lancaster to Wild Cat Falls, on the Susquehanna, where they were participating at a dinner in the evening. Two cars had crossed the tracks safely, but the third, which was a seven-passenger touring car, and contained that number of people, was struck by the engine just as it reached the middle of the track.

The automobile was wrecked beyond repair, nothing of the machine being left undamaged except the tires, and these were not even scratched.

As soon as the young people recovered from the shock they procured another automobile from a local garage and continued their journey.

PLUNGES 1,800 FEET DOWN MINE SHAFT

Body of Insane Miner Is Terribly Mangled and Brought to Surface in Pieces

Special to The Telegraph
Tower City, Pa., Sept. 4.—While at work on Thursday Joe Godonis, a contractor at East Brookside colliery, complained of severe pains in his head and went home. Several hours later he became desperately insane. He commenced breaking window panes and things about the house. Jumping through a window he seized an ax from the yard and started up the mountain to the mines. On the way he met Mr. Hatters and struck him in the shoulder with the ax, causing a cut which necessitated seven stitches.

After reaching the mines he began cutting the timber at the shaft and the boss finally got the ax from him. When he turned his back to put the ax in the check shanty Godonis jumped for a rope in the shaft and went down 1,800 feet to his death. His body was terribly mangled and was brought up in pieces. Although a foreigner, Godonis was well liked and it is thought that the foreign war was the cause of his insanity.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, has been given the most severe tests under most all trying conditions and is recommended by women who to-day are grandmothers and who in their earlier years learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women.
