COMEN ADD INTERESTS

TALK TO YOUR CHILDREN OF HIDDEN PITFALLS

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

are not intended.

nect their attention in any way. They may respond to such advances, but ney feel only pity or contempt in their erect hearts for such girls. Here is a portion of a letter sent y a girl of seventeen to a man she ever saw. She explains that she obtained his address from a letter he rote to a little girl of nine, regarding one Christmas gift. She says: "So take the advantage of writing to you, but if you see any of my friends or clatives please don't mention my letter.

She Gave a Romantic Description of shame.

I am five feet four inches tall, weigh I am five feet four inches tall, weigh 130 pounds, have hazel brown hair and blue eyes. I have been attending high school, but am at home now, taking music lessons. I will be seventeen my next birthday. I attend the Methodist church. Please do not forget the secret; do not mention my name. Hoping to hear from you soon as possible. Respectfully yours"——Then follows her name and address.

Of course the parents of this child have no idea that she could be guilty of such an indiscretion. But there is where the misfortune

When foolish young girls write letters to young men asking them to call, or trying to make appointments, or to begin a correspondence, they must not be surprised if those letters are seen by the wise guidance, they should have the wise guidance they should have etters are seen by yes for which they at this time, they are saved from folly and indiscretion.

SATURDAY EVENING,

are not intended.
Young men do not respect girls who make advances them.
They do not respect girls who call them on the telephone, or who write unsol cited letters, or who try to attract their attention in any way. They may respond to such advances, but they feel only pity or contempt in their

There is nothing vicious in her let ter; but the most lamentable conse-quences could easily result if the young man had been evilminded enough to lead her on to further fol-When any girl feels tempted to write a letter, or communicate man secretly, and hide the from her parents, she is on the path to danger; she is on the road which leads to folly, and more than possible shame.

No man respects such a girl.

If he meets her advances and acceeds to her wishes to enter into secret correspondence, he does so because he wants to see how foolish and silly she will be; and he is not her friend, but her worst enemy, ways want to make the advances to women. It is their nature. And they hold in light esteem any woman of any age who usurps this privilege.

Mothers, look after your young daughters. daughters.

Talk to Your Children of These Hidof such an indiscretion.

But there is where the misfortune lies.

The parents have not realized that their daughter is growing out of childhood into womanhood. That she is following the natural bent of all created beings, and thinking along romantic lines.

Every normal girl and youth of that age is romantic, and it should be understood by parents, and the situation.

Talk to Your Children of These Hidden Pitfalls

Become their intimate friends and confidants. Talk to them on all these with example them helpful and health-hood into womanhood. That she is following the natural bent of all created beings, and thinking along romantic lines.

Every normal girl and youth of that age is romantic, and it should be understood by parents, and the situation.

Be Clean! Inside and Outside

If you would be healthy, strong and appy. Baths keep the skin doan and in good condition. But what about the inside of the body? what about the inside of the body?
You can no more afford to neglect it than the outside. It is just as importimpurities caused by weakness of the digestive organs or by inactivity of the liver.

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery

(In Tablet or Liquid Form) Cleanses the system—and more. It puts the liver in such a condition of health that it purifies the blood—as it should. It helps the stomach diligest food so that it makes good blood—rich, red blood to nourish and throughen all the organs, the tonic, revivifying influence by getting a You may awail yourself of its tonic, revivifying influence by getting a bottle or a box of tablets from your medicine dealer—or send 50c for a trial box. Address as below.

JUNIATA COUNTY

September 9 to 11

SPECIAL TRAINS PORT ROYAL Thursday, September 10

Leave Harrisburg Thursday, September 10, at 7.45 A. M., Newport 8.45 A. M., Millerstown 8.54 A. M., Thompsontown 3.04 A. M. Returning, leave Port Royal 5.30 P. M. for Harrisburg and intermediate stations

REDUCED FARE EXCURSION TICKETS sold to Port Royal September 9 to 11, good returning until September 12, inclusive.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Now Is the Time

Prepare for Winter, have Your Windows WEATHER STRIPPED and reduced the cost of heating YOUR RESIDENCE

Estimates cheerfully furnished.

Chamberlin Metal Weather Strip Co.

Bell Phone 1045-R 405 Telegraph Bldg.

Dodge Coal Trouble This Year

Don't start off the first thing this Fall with a repetition of your troubles of former years. Keep your peace of mind and insure body comfort by using judgment i your coal buying. Montgomery coal costs no more than inferior grades, and insures maximum heat, even consumption, and lower coal bills. Dust and dirt is removed before you get your coal from

J. B. MONTCOMERY

Third and Chestnut Streets

Let me send you FREE PERFUME Write today for a testing bottle of

ED. PINAUD'S LILAC

The world's most famous perfume, every drop as sweet as the living blossom. For handkerchief, atomizer and bath. Fine after shaving. All the value is in the perfume-you don't pay extra for a fancy bottle. The quality is wonderful The price only 75c. (6 oz.) Send 4c. for the little bottle-enough for 50 handkerchiefs. Write today.

PARFUMERIE ED. PINAUD, Department M. ED. PINAUD BUILDING NEW YORK

THE LAST SHOT

By FREDERICK PALMER

"Hello!" Lanstron called softly. "Hello!" he called louder and yet loud r.

steps and seated himself on the second terrace in a secluded spot in the shadow of the first terrace wall, where he could see anyone coming up the main flight of steps from the road. When Marta walked she usually came from town by that way. At length the sound of a slow step from another direction broke on his ear. Some one was approaching along the path that ran at his feet. Around the corner of in his workman's Sunday clothes of black, but wearing his old straw hat, appeared Feller, the gardenr. He paused to examine a rose bush and Lanstron regarded him thoughtfully. A he turned away he looked up. and a glance of definite and unfaltering recognition was exchanged between the two men. They had the garden to themselves.

"Gustave!" Lanstron exclaimed un-

"Lanny!" exclaimed the gardener, turning over a branch of the rose bush. He seemed unwilling to risk talking openly with Lanstron.

"You look the good workman in his Sunday best to a T!" said Lanstron.
"Being stone-deaf," returned Feller, with a trace of drollery in his voice, "I hear very well-at times. Tell me' —his whisper was quivering with eagerness—"shall we fight? Shall we fight?"

ever been in our time." Lanstron re-

The hat still shaded Feller's face. his stoop was unchanged, but the branch in his hand shook. "Honest?" he exclaimed. "Oh, the chance of it! The chance of it!"

"Gustave!" Lanstron's voice, still low, came in a gust of sympathy, and the pocket which concealed his hand gave a nervous twitch as if it held something alive and distinct from his own being. "The tri Do you want to go?" "The trial wears on you!

"No!" Feller shot back irritably.
"No!" he repeated resolutely. "I don't want to go! I mean to be game-I-He shifted his gaze from the bush which he still pretended to examine and suddenly broke off with: "Miss Galland is coming!"

Lanstron started toward the steps that Marta was according. She moved leisurely, yet with a certain springy energy that suggested that she might have come on the run without being out of breath or seeming to have made an effort.

"Hello, stranger!" she called as she saw him, and quickened her pace.

"Hello, pedagogue!" he responded.
As they shook hands they swung their arms back and forth like a pair of romping children for a moment. "We had a grand session of the school this morning, the largest class ever!" she said. "And the points we scored off you soldiers! You'll find disarmament already in progress when you return to headquarters. We're irresistible, or at least," she added, with a flash of intensity, "we're going to be "So you put on your war-paint!" "It must be the pollen from the hydrangeas!" She flicked her handkerchief from her belt and passed it to him. "Show that you know how to be useful!" He performed the task with deliberate care. "Heavens! You even have some on your ear and some on your hair; but I'll leave it on your hair; it's rather becoming. There you are!" he concluded. "Off my hair, too!"

"Very well. I always obey orders." "I oughtn't to have asked you to do it at all!" she exclaimed with a sudden change of manner as they started up to the house. "But a habit of friendship, a habit of liking to believe in one's friends, was uppermost. I at the height of your chin! forgot. I oughtn't even to have shaken hands with you!"

He had known her in reproach, in anger, in laughing mockery, in militant seriousness, but never before like this. The pain and indignation in her stron. Pressing the button, a panel eyes came not from the sheer hurt of door flew open, revealing a telephone a wound but from the hurt of its mouthp source. It was as if he had learned by recess. the signal of its loss that he had a deeper hold on her than he had real-

"Yes, I have a bone to pick with you," she said, recovering a grim sort of fellowship. "A big bone! If you're half a friend you'll give me the very marrow of it."

"I am ready!" he answered more pathetically than philosophically. "There's not time now; after luncheon, when mother is taking her nap," she concluded as they came to the last step and saw Mrs. Galland on the Ater luncheon Mrs. Galland kept battling with her nods until nature was victorious and she fell fast asleep. Marta, grown restless with impatience, suggested to Lanstron that they stroll in the garden, and they took the path past the house toward the castle tower, stopping in an arbor with high hedges on either side around a statue of Mercury. "Now!" exclaimed Marta narrowly. "It was you, Lanny, who recommended Feller to us as a gardener, competent though deaf! I have proved him to be a man of most sensitive hearing. I didn't let him know that he was discovered. You brought him here—you, Lanny, you are the one to explain." "True, he is not deaf!" Lanstron replied.

"He is a spy?" she asked.
"Yes, a spy. You can put things in is is my duty to neglect no possible a bright light, Marta!" He found words method, however absurd."

[To be Continued.]

I pain and que ston or her set book "Using some man as a pawn; setting him as a spy in the garden where you have been the welcome friend!" she exclaimed. "A spy on what—on my mother, on Minna, on me, on the flow ers, as a part of this monstrous game of trickery and lies that you are playtone. It was that of one mortally hurt Anger would have been easier to bear than the measuring, penetrating wonder that found him guilty of such horrible part. Those eyes would have confused Partow himself with the steady, welling intensity of their gaze. She did not see how his left hand was twitching and how he stilled its movement by pressing it against the bench.

"You will take Feller with you when you go!" she said, rising." Lanstron dropped his head in a kind of shaking throb of his whole body and raised a face white with appeal.

"Marta!" He was speaking to a pro-file, very sensitive and yet like ivory. "I've no excuse for such an abuse of hospitality except the obsession of a do and I was set to do. My God, Marta! I cease to be natural and human. I am a machine. I keep thinking, what if war comes and some error of mine let the enemy know where to strike the blow of victory: or if there were infor mation I might have gained and failed to gain that would have given us the victory—if, because I had not done my part, thousands of lives of our soldiers re sacrificed needlessly!"

At that she turned on him quickly, her face softening.
"You do think of that—the lives?"

"Yes, why shouldn't I?" those on your side!" she exclaimed, turning away. "Yes, of those first," he replied.

"And, Marta, I did not tell you why Feller was here becauce he did not want me to.'

CHAPTER VI.

A Crisis Within a Crisis.

Following the path to the tower leisurely, they had reached the tower. Feller's door was open. Marta looked into the room, finding in the neat arrangement of its furniture a new significance. He was absent, for it was the dinner hour.

"On my recommendation you took him," Lanstron said.

'Yes, on yours, Lanny, on a friend's! You"—she put a cold emphasis on the word—"you wanted him here for your plans! And why? You haven't an-swered that yet. What purpose of the war game does he serve in our gar-

His look pleaded for patience, while he tried to smile, which was rather difficult in face of her attitude.
"Not altogether in the garden; partly in the tower," he replied. "You are to be in the whole secret and in such a way as to make my temptation clear. I hope. First, I think you ought to see the setting. Let us go in."

Impelled by a curiosity that Lan-stron's manner accentuated, she entered the room. Apparently Lanstron was familiar with the premises. Passing through the sitting-room into the room adjoining, where Feller stored his tools, he opened a door that gave on to the circular stone steps leading down into the dungeon tunnel.

"I think we had better have a light," he said, and when he had fetched one from the bedchamber he descended the steps, asking her to follow.

They were in a passage six feet in height and about three feet broad, which seemed to lead on indefinitely into clammy darkness. The dewy walls sparkled in fantastic and ghostly fridescence under the rays from the lantern. The dank air lay moist against their faces.

"This is far enough." He paused and raised the lantern. With its light full in her face, she blinked. "There,

She noted a metal button painted gray, set at the side of one of the "Marta! What now, Marta?" he stones of the wall, which looked un-She struck the stone with her knuckles and it gave out the sound of hollow wood, which was followed, as an echo, by a little laugh from Lanmouthpiece and receiver set in the

"Like a detective play!" were the first words that sprang to her lips. "Well?" As she faced around her eyes glittered in the lantern rays. "Well, have you any other little tricks to show me? Are you a sleight-of-hand artist, too, Lanny? Are you going to take a machine gun out of your hat?" "That is the whole bag." he answered. "I thought you'd rather see it than have it described to you."

"Having seen it, let us go!" she said, in a manner that implied further reckoning to come.

"If out of a thousand possible sources one source succeeds, then the cost and pains of the other nine hundred and ninety-nine are more than repaid," he was saying urgently, the sol-dier uppermost in him. "Some of the best service we have had has been ab-surd in its simplicity and its audacity. In time of war more than one battle has been decided by a thing that was a trifie in itself. No matter what your preparation, you can never remove the element of chance. An hour gained in information about your enemy's plans may turn the tide in your favor. A Chinese peasant spy, because he happened to be intoxicated, was able to give the Japanese warning in time for Kuroki to make full dispositions for at the Sha-ho. There are many other

POULTRY:news

POULTRYMEN WANT CROWDING POULTRY HELP FROM STATE

This Condition Kills More Birds Fanciers' Association Quizzing Can-Than All Other Evils of the Yard Combined

So many chickens are well attended during the early period of their growth, and they steer clear of sickness, and look like developing into big, sturdy birds, then, for some reason unknown the attendant, they gradularly loose vigor, go off their feed, droop their wings, and chirp in a plantite manner. Often the cause of sich a change in the birds is traceable to the fact that overcrowding has been permitted—a condition that annually kills more chickens than all other evils of the poultry yard combined.

If chickens are allowed to outgrow their sleeping quarters, sickness ammong them must be expected. What the growing youngsters require to keep them lively and vigorous is roomy and airy sleeping quarters. So many people after removing the brook hens from their coops allow the youngsters to occupy the latter and for a time the little ones farewell, and then they begin to droop. It is the close confinement to stuffy coops night after night to which the mischief is due.

Rather than allow the chicks to go on occupying the goops in which they were brooded, the attendant will do well to red the poultry were brooded, the attendant will do well to red the poultry men have concluded that it the state has never given the poultry industry recognition modesty that the State has never given the poultry have never asked for State support, it just occurs to them, and the fault thes admit the State tand the foult they admit is state that it is due alone to their modesty that it esture he poultry industry recognition for State the fowls as well as though they were laying.

Neither are any special formulas necessary for breeders, but if they can be induced to eat them, either whole or ground, oats may well form a considerable portion of their grain food. They should have ample range and not be forced for laying through the Fall and early winter; to this end but little meat should be given.

MANY ATTRACTIONS AT HERSHEY PARK, LABOR DAY, SEPTEMBER 7

Never was Hershey Park so beautiful as it is now. The mammoth flower beds scattered over the park are a magnificent sight to behold. There are cares of pretty lawns, plenty of shade, attractive buildings, etc. It is little wonder, after all, that strangers on their first visit, remark, "What a beautiful place." There will, no doubt, be thousands of people who will take advantage of Labor Day,

The management is gradually placing amusements of the highest type at different sections of the park, so that no matter what part of the park you are in, there is something of interest, Of the amusements, perhaps the most popular one is the swimming pool and the shute-the-shute.

Two baseball games will be played here on Labor Day, one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

Hershey Park has two beautiful large dancing pavilions and every holiday you will find these pavilions filled to their capacity. Labor Day there will be dancing afternoon and evening. At the theater a high-class vaudeville swait may be them.

Then there is the beautiful three-abreast jumping-horse carousei, situated perhaps at the most breezy spot in the park, The electric train of miniature care also is a very high-grade attraction—one never getting tired of it. Indeed, as stated before, it is necessary that you see these many attraction, such as boating, bathing, shooting gal-

you see these many attraction as boating, bathing, shooting gal-photo gallery, etc., to appreciate them.

Added to all this, is the ever-increasing Zoo filled with many wild animals, birds, alligators, etc. Thousands of people visit this free Zoo daily. We owe it to ourselves to visit this beautiful resort while in its height of beauty to beauty. Hershey Park maintains a band of forty pieces, which will render openair concerts afternoon and evening. This band is composed of expert musicians and, no doubt, have played to more people this season than any other band in the United States.—Advertisement.

THE VICTORIA SHOWS STRONG FEATURES

THES

The Victoria Theater has for a long time had the reputation of showing strong snecial features. To-day's bill is no exception. The headliner for to-day, entitled "Darkness and Dawn," is a Great Northern special multiple reel picture, which insures its being a high-class production. "The Village Neath the Sea" is a two part offering of exceptional merit. "The Masquerader" as Keystone comedy, and that means a good laugh. On Monday we show the sleventh episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery,"—Advertisement.

"HIGH JINKS"

"HIGH JINKS"

The action of "High Jinks," the musical farce which Arthur Hammerstein will present at the Majestic Theater, Thursday evening, revolves around an escanade at a French watering place, in which a doctor exchanges wives in order to protect himself from a jealous and revengeful Frenchman, who insists on kissing his wife because he kissed the Frenchman's wife. The kissing that caused all the trouble results from the effects of a magic perfume, which made everyone who got a whiff of it hilarious. The perfume, as well as the high Jinks," and "High Jinks" is also the title of the dancing gem of the score of the musical joility.

—Advertisement.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN"

Local theatergoers will be interested in the announcement of the appear-ance, Monday and Tuesday, of the fa-vorite Southern drama, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the greatest of all emotional receiving the Russian attack in force plays.

The company has been selected with great discrimination, and in the matter of scenic equipment and accessories the presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will measure up to a high standard. The engagement at the Majestic is for two days, with daily matinee.—Advertisement.

didates to Learn Their Attitude on Question night after night to which the mischlef is due.

Rather than allow the chicks to go on occupying the coops in which they were brooded, the attendant will do well to place them in a roomy shed, the floor of which is well covered with fine ashes or dry sand, and on top of chaff or other litter. Several broods, after leaving the care of hens may be placed in a building such as an ordinary scratching shed, and there they may be allowed to sleep. During periods of unfavorable weather there could be no better place to exercise the youngsters. Throw their grain into, the litter and thus make work compulsory.

Do Not Feed Fattening

Food During Molting Period

No special formulas are needed for feeding fowls through the molting season, contrary to a quite general belief. But the rations should not consist of fattening foods, such as corn and buckwheat, exclusively. While growing new feathers the protein element of food is needed as much as while producing eggs, and the grains of good protein content. The whole wheat products, oats, gluten feed, oil meal, alfalfa and clover are all good. In short, feed the fowls as well as though they were laying.

Neither are any special formulas necessary for breeders, but if they in the production of processory for breeders, but if they in the production of processory for breeders, but if they in the production of processory for breeders, but if they in the production of processory for breeders, but if they in the production of processory for breeders, but if they in the product in the production in the production will be your last chance to pay the park theater a farewell visit until next summer.

PAXTANG PARK
To-day will see the ending of the summer vaudeville season at Paxtang Park. An excellent show of six acts makes up the closing bill and to-night will be your last chance to pay the park theater a farewell visit until next park theater a farewell visit until next summer.
On Monday evening there will be a band concert in the park thear. The Commonwealth Band will be the attraction and an elaborate program has been arranged. No admission will be concerned to the control of the park season.—Advertisement.

"The Convict Hero." a four-act drama: "The White Mouse, two-act Selig drama, and a special John Bunny Vitagraph film, "Bunny"s Birthday, along with the eleventh episode of "The Perlis of Pauline," make the progran at the Photoplay to-day. See funny John Bunny and the terrible time Bunny has at his birthday party. Flora Finch as his wife, cannot be equaled as a commediene.—Advertisement.

Second Fly Contest of the Civic Club

There is more Catarth in '.is section or unitry than all other diseases put together. attl the last few years was supposed to curable. For a great many years doe ronounced to the property of the continued of the constantly failing to cure woell treatment, pronounced it incurable. Sele as proven Catarth to be a constitutional diseand therefore requires constitutional treatm Hall's Catarth Cure, manufactured by F. Chenpe & Co., Toledo, Ohlo, is the only Constitution of the constituti estimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Fall's Family Pills for constipation.

How to Buy Lumber

It's no easy matter to select the kind of lumber that will wear longest.

priced, but you don't have to specify "clear throughout your building. There's more than one grade of lumber and many kinds of wood. What you need is a suggestion here and there from some one who knows lumber.

Some lumber is high

We can easily tell you if No. 1, 2 or 3 quality will suit and the kind of wood to buy.

United Ice & Coal Co. MAIN OFFICE: Forster and Cowden Sts.

Business Locais MORNING, NOON, NIGHT,

Whether it's breakfast, luncheon linner, you will always find Menge I dinner, you will always find Menger's Restaurant an ideal place in which to be dine. Refined, quiet surroundings, with the best the market affords, prepared under the personal supervision of Mrs. Menger, is an assurance that every bite is a relish. The place that serves the best 35-cent dinner in the city, 110 North Second streat.

Get Rid of

Cuticura Soan

Will help you when all else fails. Unsightly complexions are often a bar to social advancement and business success. Start life with a clear skin and good hair.

Samples Free by Mail Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p book. Address "Cuticura," Dept. 16H, Boston.

SOUSA -AT-

Willow Grove SUNDAY, AUG. 30 SEPTEMBER 13

Special Excursion Train

From	Fare	Lv.
Harrisburg	$2.00	6.00
Hummelstown	2.00	6.18
Swatara	2.00	6.24
Hershey	2.00	6.27
Palmyra	2.00	6.35
Annville	1.85	6.45
Lebanon	1.75	6.57
Myerstown	1.75	7.11
Richland	1.75	7.17
Sheridan	1.75	7.21
Womelsdorf	1.70	7.27
Willow Grove, arr		10.15

Cumberland Valley Railroad TIME TABLE

Returning, Special Train will

M. for above stations.

leave Willow Grove 9.00 P.

In Effect May 24, 1914.

TRAINS leave Harrisburg—
For Winchester and Martinsburg at 0.3, *7:50 a. m., *3:40 p. m.
For Hagerstown, Chamber-burg, Carlisle, Mechanicsburg and intermediate stations at 5:03, *7:50, *11:53 a. m., *2:40, 5:32, *7:40, *11:00 p. m.
Additional trains for Carlisle and Mechanicsburg at 9:48 a. m., 2:18, 3:27, 6:30, 9:30 a. m.
For Dilisburg at 5:03, *7:50 and 11:53 a. m., 2:18, *3:40, 5:32 and 6:30 p. m. *Daily. All other trains daily except sunday. H. A. RIDDLE. S. P. A.

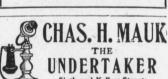

Enroll Next Monday DAY AND NIGHT SCHOOL Positions for all Graduates SCHOOL OF COMMERCE 15 S. MARKET SQUARE, HARRISBURG, PA.

EDUCATIONAL

Harrisburg Business College 329 Market St. Fall term, September first. Day and night. 29th year.

Harrisburg, Pa

MISS JEANNE PRATT pupil of William H. Sherwood, will resume Painoforte Teaching at 114 West State St.

September, 8th

Largest establishment. Best facilities. Near to you as your phone. Will go anywhere at your call. Most or service. No funeral too small. None too expensive. Chapels, rooms, vault, etc., used without charge.

ELECTRIC WORK Yes! We will repair your bell. For 22 years we have specialized a concealing wires in homes while cupied. We guarantee to leave our home just as we found it.

YINGST ELECTRICAL CO.

1423 North Third St.

UNDERTAKERS RUDOLPH K. SPICER Funeral Director and Embalmes