WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Tronton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I got well. I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also. "I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like." Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Tronton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Never Mind How Strong You Are—

What d'ye Know?

That's the point—"What d'ye KNOW?" To-day it's a battle of wits—and brains win. Muscle and brawn don't count so much as they used to. In the fight for good jobs and big salaries it's brains—not brawn—that win. "What d'ye KNOW?" is the one great question that draws the line between defeat and victory—between "wages" and "salary"—between you and the Boss.

What do YOU know? Are YOU so expert in some line of work that you can "make good" as a foreman, superintendent, or manager? If not, why don't you mark and mail the attached coupon and permit the International Correspondence Schools to show you how you CAN "make good" on a big job?

For 23 years the I. C. S. have been showing men how to do better work and earn bigger salaries. Every month over 400 students write of promotions or salary increases through I. C. S. training. What the I. C. S. are doing for these men they can do for YOU.

No matter where you live, how old you are, what hours you work, or how limited your education—if you can read and write and are ambitious to learn the I. C. S. can train you in your own home, during your spare time, for a more important and better-paying position.

Mark and mail the attached coupon—it won't obligate you, but it will show you how you can acquire this salary-raising ability by their simple and easy methods.

It will cost you nothing to investigate—it may cost a lifetime of remorse if you don't. Mark and Mail the Coupon NOW.

Labor Day at Mifflinburg to Have Cavalry Maneuvers

Mifflinburg, Pa., Sept. 5.—On Monday evening, August 31, companions of Mifflinburg Temple, D. I. Ladies of the Golden Eagle, gave a surprise party to Mrs. Dora Spigler, at her home. After a very pleasant evening of entertainment and social intercourse, refreshments were served. Miss Katherine Johnston, Missionary from Mexico, and daughter of Prof. B. R. Johnston, of Lewistown, were the guests of the evening. A lecture in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Mifflinburg, on Sunday evening, touching her experiences in that line, was given by Mrs. Johnston. Places of Mifflinburg, including banks and post office, will be closed on Labor Day, Monday, September 7. Troop M, Third Squadron of Cavalry, of the United States Army, will be camped at Athletic Park from Sunday, September 6, to Tuesday, September 8. Aside from the drills and skirmish tactics of the troop, all game will be played between Mifflinburg and the troop team at 2.30.

Aunt Este's Stories For Children

My dear little ones: How would you like to hear a real funny story? A sort of a fairy tale, about an old mother Goose? If you would, listen to the tale of OLD MOTHER TWITCHET. Once upon a time in Mother Goose Village lived a funny old woman by the name of Mother Twitchet. She lived right beside the old woman who lived on the hill. Only her house was on top of the hill, because, well, now she had to have all the light she could possibly find. Now don't get curious and ask why she had to do that, I am going to tell you. You see old Mother Twitchet had but one eye—and that was a very small, long, narrow eye—and she had to use it, so much, on you can't guess what she did all day long. She made all the clothes for the children of Mother Goose Village. There were the usual many children of the old woman who lived on the hill, and there was little boy Tucker and little girl Spry and little Tommy Tittle Mouse, who lived in a little house right near to her. Close by her house—and she never possibly grew any thinner—but there was little Bo-Peep, who tended the sheep on the hill right close by her house—and she never possibly grew any thinner—but in clothes all the time. (In fact it almost took all of her time making new clothes for Marjory Daw, for she surely did tear a lot on that dreadful see-saw!) But, for all that, she had to sew—yes, indeed she did, even if she had only one eye, and she used to laugh all the time she was making those rompers and dresses and bloomers for the children she loved—for it made her think of the time when she had been a little girl and had liked to romp and see-saw and have good times. So she used her one eye day after day and sewed and sewed. But poor old Mother Twitchet sewed so hard and fast and never took a rest, night or day, for so many years that at last she grew awfully thin, and she grew awfully old, and she grew fat—almost like Humpy Dumpty—but at last she grew as thin as Nancy Etticoe—then she grew as thin as Jack Spratt, and she grew as thin as a needle, and she grew as thin as a pin. I'll declare she grew thinner and thinner, until she looked almost like a shadow—and there seemed nothing left of her but that long, long, funny eye, and a thin body which stretched out finally until she looked just like a stick or a pin. Then to make matters funnier—there was always a long, long white dress hanging from her—and she sewed so hard and so fast that the children of Mother Goose Village scarcely saw old Mother Twitchet—all they could see were their new dresses coming out as if by magic from under her long, long, white dress. Well, at last dear little ones—that thread grew to be so much a part of old Mother Twitchet with her long thin body and her one eye that the children used to call the thread her tail—and

They Really Began to Feel She Was Some Funny Sort of an Animal

They really began to feel she was some funny sort of an animal. They would see the holes she cut in the material in order to turn it into dresses, and then they would see the long tail get shorter and shorter, until at last Mother Twitchet would have to get another thread. So, one day, while little Miss Muffet was sitting on her tuffet waiting for her father to come along, she had nothing to do, and of course her little brain got busy. All she could see in the distance was the cottage of Mother Twitchet, and in the doorway sat poor little old woman with one eye—sewing and sewing away. So little Miss Muffet began to rhyme: "Old Mother Twitchet has but one eye." And every time she went over a gap. But just as she got to that point along came the spider and sat down beside her—and frightened not only Miss Muffet but all her big sisters and brothers. My, but Miss Muffet was provoked at that spider! Nasty thing, she thought, but try as she would—even after the spider had left she could not get it out of her mind. "Old Mother Twitchet has but one eye." And a long, long tail, which she lets fly. Over and over again she said it, until she had said it a hundred times. So off ran the two little scamps to Mother Twitchet's cottage, singing: "Old Mother Twitchet has but one eye." And a long, long tail which she lets fly. And every time she goes over a gap, she leaves a bit of her tail in a trap. Up to her door they ran. But when they got there—what do you suppose? There was no Mother Twitchet at all! She had gone out as if by magic, and she had grown so large and so long—that there was nothing at all but a bunch of new dresses, and a great big NEEDLE WITH A LONG WHITE THREAD on the wall. And from that day to this that is all that is left of OLD MOTHER TWITCHET. Lovingly, AUNT ESTE.
