

GENERAL VON KLUCK AND HIS ARMY ARE REPORTED TO HAVE SURRENDERED IN WEST

DR. BRUMBAUGH IN STINGING STATEMENT REFUSES TO BE PARTY TO TREACHERY BARGAIN

Knows No Boss and Will Work With All His Might For Passage of Local Option Law

FRIEND OF CHILDHOOD; WILL URGE GOOD LAWS

Keeps Faith With 253,000 Who Supported Him at Primaries; Will Do So to End

Special in The Telegraph. Harrisburg, Sept. 15.—Dr. Brumbaugh, Republican candidate for Governor, to-day issued the following statement in reply to the offer of the Philadelphia North American to give him its support if he would repudiate socialism: "In this letter it appears that the writer, under the assurance of a professed support to me, seeks an excuse to give support to the opposition. Each one has a perfect right in this campaign to follow whatever guidance he may select, but I absolutely refuse to be made a party to any political bargain or treachery. "I stand for every statement in my primary platform. I shall use my best endeavor to keep faith with the people. The things I stand for I shall continue to stand for and work for. "I have no understanding with anybody to do or not to do anything in any way at any time in this campaign while in office. I know no boss, never will. Even a newspaper cannot boss me. My hands are open, my heart is free, my mind holds no political promise. I have one unswerving purpose—to live with my conscience whether I hold office or not. "I have declared for local option and stand by that declaration. I have secured people in a score of instances that I shall do all I honorably can to promote legislation favoring local option. What more can an honest man do? "I have always been a friend of childhood. I have given my life in a large way to conserve and promote the strength, education, the moral character of all our people. I have had many years of practical experience in dealing with the labor of children in my State. No man has had a larger measure of respect for the protection of our children. I shall not allow no one, even in academic discussion, to stand more surely for the best possible legislation for all our children, men, women and children. "As a teacher I have it necessary at times to repeat what has already been stated. Some pupils are only after such repetitions, some refuse to learn even then, because they are resolved not to do so. "In the May primaries about 253,000 people of Pennsylvania, all really qualified voters, gave me their support as a candidate for the Republican ticket. I carry their brief. I shall do so to the end. The other Republican candidates also carry a brief from the people who supported them at the primary. I shall stand myself to no leader or group or faction of any sort. As I have from the outset, I shall to the last go steadily on in my firm determination to give the people of Pennsylvania a sane, capable and conscientious administration of the office to which I am elected in the November will elect me. (Signed) "M. G. BRUMBAUGH."

RESCUE PARTIES ARE FORMED

Rains Caused the Water to Rise and Trestlework Was Weakened

By Associated Press. Springfield, Mo., Sept. 15.—Between thirty-five and forty-five persons were killed or drowned and a score of others injured early to-day when the locomotive, baggage car and forward chair car of a St. Louis-San Francisco train plunged through a trestle over Brush creek, near Lebanon, Mo., and were submerged by the swollen stream. Most of the dead were drowned in the chair car and a great proportion of these were women and children. Those who were unable to escape from their watery prison fought their way out by breaking windows and swimming to shore. It is estimated there were sixty-five passengers in the chair car. Owing to poor communication with the place of the wreck it is impossible to give a definite estimate of how many escaped. None of the sleeping

OUTCOME IN WEST DEPENDS ON MOVES OF ARMY AT VERDUN

Germans Say Investment Is Complete and That Offensive Will Soon Begin

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 15, 10:15 A. M.—For once the military critics on both sides agree that the outcome of the campaign in the western war area depends on the result of the operation of the Crown Prince's army before Verdun, but on the question of accomplished facts the divergence of opinion is as wide as ever. Berlin maintains that the investment of Verdun is now complete and therefore expects that within two or three days there will be a resumption of the offensive along the whole German front. On the other hand the latest official communication issued in behalf of the allies states that the Crown Prince has been driven back and has moved his headquarters from Sainte Menohould, south of Rheims, to Mont Faucon, about 15 miles northeast. Berlin admits that the weakened right wing has been turned back, but discounts the reverse by maintaining that it will have no effect on the general forward movement to be initiated when Verdun falls. The very candid statement of General Joffre regarding the sort of warfare his troops are capable of waging indicates that the French are now in a position to take up the gaze of battle on their own terms and in a country of their own choosing. General Joffre is now a national hero, after conducting the great retreat that caused him to be called many hard names. Stubborn Struggle As far as the moral effect goes, the capture of Rheims probably means

25,000 MEN AND WAR MATERIALS TAKEN BY ALLIES

Germany's Armies in North and East of Paris Are Making Determined Stand Along River Aisne; French Attempts to Break Through German Lines Have Been Repulsed; 300,000 Austrians, or One-third of Entire Force Reported to Have Been Lost During Fighting in Galicia. German Cruiser Sunk by British.

London, Sept. 15, 2 P. M.—The correspondent of the Central News at Dieppe under date of Monday, September 14, transmits a report that the German army under General Von Kluck has been forced to surrender. The correspondent says: "The report has reached Dieppe that the extreme left of the allies after making an encircling movement by way of Roye and Ham and joining a force from the Boulogne district, has compelled General Von Kluck to surrender with according to one statement, 14,000 men and according to another statement, with 25,000 men and a quantity of guns and war material."

General Von Kluck has been operating in the German right wing and has consequently been opposed to the left wing of the allies. His army has been retiring before the allies for several days. Roye and Ham are to the southeast of Amiens, and were occupied by the Germans two days ago. Recent reports show that these towns are now in the possession of the allies.

Germany's armies to the north and the east of Paris after retreating for upwards of fifty miles toward the Belgian frontier, are to-day making a determined stand along the river Aisne. A news agency dispatch from Dieppe says that General Von Kluck has been enveloped by a French circling movement and forced to surrender with a large command and a quantity of guns and ammunition.

The German general staff, however, announced to-day that heavy engagements were being fought by General Von Kluck's forces to the northeast of Paris without a decisive result so far. The French attempts to break through the German lines were said to have been repulsed.

Reports regarding the operations in East Prussia contradict each other. From Petrograd it is said that General Rennenkampf has resumed the offensive and that the investment of Koenigsberg still is in progress. Berlin advices, however, are to the effect that the Russian general has suffered defeat nearly as severe as that of the Russian disaster at Allenstein.

Further Petrograd dispatch estimate the casualties of the Austrians in Galicia to total 300,000, nearly one third of their forces. The sinking of the German protected cruiser Hela of 2,040 tons by a submarine of the allied fleet, is announced in an official statement issued at Berlin. A major part of the crew was saved.

The German submarine which sank the British cruiser Pathfinder with a loss of 246 lives is reported to have been destroyed by the fire of several British cruisers. Sharp skirmishes have taken place in the Shan-Tung peninsula of China between the German defenders of the Kiao-Chow concession and a Japanese landing force.

A measure was introduced in the British Parliament to-day suspending until after the war the proceedings on the Irish Home Rule and the Welsh disestablishment bills. Queen Wilhelmina opening Parliament in person, emphasized the necessity of the Netherlands maintaining the strictest neutrality in the war.

Berlin Says Belgian Army Is Surrounded

Berlin, via Copenhagen, via London, Sept. 15, 6:30 A. M.—The Belgian army which is quite surrounded according to statements here, has been attempting, through repeated sorties from Antwerp to play at least a part in the war. (The report has here deleted further reference to the operations around Antwerp).

2,000 Germans Killed and Wounded by Belgian Soldiers Near Malines

London, Sept. 15, 4:32 A. M.—A dispatch from Antwerp to Reuters Telegram Company gives the following official communication: "The importance of the results of the recent battle between our army and the German army of occupation is fully confirmed by the inactivity of the enemy yesterday and to-day and by the latest details of the enemy's severe losses. Retirement of our divisions on Antwerp was effected without any attack being made by the enemy." A dispatch to the Times from Antwerp states that the operations of the Belgians near Malines were a complete success. The enemy was ambushed and suffered a loss of 2,000 killed and wounded.

Germans Just Starting to Make Sacrifices

Rotterdam, Sept. 14, via London, Sept. 15, 9:45 p. m.—A dispatch received here from Berlin contains the comment of a military writer in the German capital on the situation in the western theater of war and the retirement of General Von Euelow. "It is necessary to remind the public," says the writer, "that the road to the goal is still long and that we are merely at the beginning of making sacrifices and undergoing suffering. There is danger that this fact is not kept before the eye constantly enough, because our victories in 1870 came easy. How much of a danger this is can be seen by the recent complaint that so far no whole army of the enemy has been forced to surrender."

Turkey's Move Raises Tariff on U. S. Goods

Rome, Sept. 15.—Late dispatches arriving from Constantinople declare that the first result of the abolition of the capitulations is the tariff to impose a 100 per cent duty on foreign textiles, shoes and alcohol. The duty on shoes is regarded as especially affecting America.
