Belgian Commission Tells of Outrages
London, Sept. 15, 1.30 P. M. - The official press bureau acting for the Belgian legation in London has made public the second report of the Belgian commission appointed to inquire into alleged German atrocities at Louvain and in the district around Halines.

The commission finds that on entering Louvain the Germans requisitioned food and lodging, German troops took possession of the cash in all the Louvain banks, burst open houses and committed other excesses. The report then cites with considerable detail two alleged instances in which women were outraged by German soldiers and asserts that there have been instances where women and children have been stabbed with bayonets and their legs cut off. One case is cited where a workman, covered with kerosene was thrown into a burning house.

On the burning of Louvain, the report says: "Everything tends to prove that German regiments, through mistake, fired at one another. Once the Germans began bombarding the town, which women were outraged by German soldiers and asserts that there have been instances where women and children have been stabbed with bayonets and their legs cut off.
