

Appetite Follows
Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc., during sleep, etc. Dr. W. B. Well's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle write Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

LIST 250 CASES IN SEPTEMBER SESSION

Calendar Largest Ever; Special Term May Be Necessary to Finish Trials

More than 250 cases have already been scheduled for the September term of criminal court, which begins Monday, September 28, and this unusual number will likely mean the calling of a special term in October or in November. This has been necessary for the last several years, when there have been an extraordinarily large number of cases; never in years has there been so great a list. The calendar will be issued to-morrow.

The fact that there are so many minor cases, involving the calling of a huge list of witnesses, makes it doubtful whether or not the two murder cases—Edward G. Smith and Charles Scott, the negro policeman—will be called at the regular September term. At any rate, they will not be tried until Friday or Saturday.

Hear Paving Complaints—Property owners whose lands abut in Seventh street from Woodbine to Emerald were heard today by City Engineer M. H. Cowden on the question of the assessment for paving and curbing.

To Decorate Courthouse—Dauphin county's official home will be decorated during the freemen's convention week, according to the County Commissioners to-day. Fifty dollars will be set aside for the purpose.

Geneva, via Paris, Sept. 18.—A. M.—Actions received here say that the report of a big battle at Thann, Alsace, in which 90,000 men engaged, is untrue. It is stated that there were more than 20,000 German soldiers in Alsace and that not more than 10,000 were engaged at Thann.

The Hair Easily Made
Beautiful and Attractive

Beautiful hair, thick, fluffy, lustrous and absolutely free from dandruff is not so much a gift of nature as a matter of care and proper nourishment. Hair is like a plant—it will not grow healthy and beautiful unless it has attention and proper nutrition.

Parisian Sage, a delicately perfumed liquid, easily applied, tones up and invigorates the hair roots and furnishes the necessary nourishment to not only save and beautify the hair, but also stimulate it to grow long, heavy, soft, fluffy and radiant with life.

When used frequently and well rubbed into the scalp, it will simply work wonders. Just one application stops itching head, removes dandruff and cleanses the hair of all dust and excess oil.

Since Parisian Sage, which can be obtained from H. C. Kennedy, or at any drug or toilet counter, never disappoints, it is no longer necessary for any woman to be humiliated because of the weakly, thin, pale, unattractive hair and pretty hair, more than anything else, helps every woman to retain her charm and youthful appearance.—Advertisement.

PRESIDENT WILSON
SEES NO PROSPECTS OF PEACE MOVE NOW

Both Sides Take Same Position and Leave Nothing Definite in Way of Overtures

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—President Wilson sees little prospect of peace in Europe reflected in the unofficial exchanges which American ambassadors have been conducting with Germany, Great Britain, France and Russia.

This was learned to-day at the White House following a study of the message which Ambassador Gerard cabled, giving his recollection of an informal conversation with the Imperial German chancellor.

Until something more tangible and more definite in the way of overtures comes from the belligerents, President feels that his hands are virtually tied. To undertake to elicit terms from Great Britain, France and Russia, as Germany suggested, would place the President, he believes, before the allies could feel safe against new attacks and before a treaty of peace could be worth a "scrap of paper."

The British foreign secretary recently took the position that the war had been forced on Great Britain, that the neutrality of Belgium had been disregarded and that it would be necessary to crush German militarism before the allies could feel safe against new attacks and before a treaty of peace could be worth a "scrap of paper."

Sir Edward spoke of the earnest wish of the Triple Entente for peace, but said they could make no comment until they had received a definite statement of terms from Germany and Austria. Substantially the same position was taken by France and Russia.

Take Same Position

On comparing the expressions from the allied powers and that of the Imperial German chancellor, the President found that they took almost an identical position, each charging the other with being responsible for the war. The President, he is understood, feels that in view of the neutral position of the American government, it would be unwise to press either side to make overtures to the other. He hopes, however, that as the war progresses, one side or the other will make known its terms in some definite form so that the American government may act as a medium of transmission and forward the peace movement without embarrassment.

It was regarded as significant in official quarters to-day that President Wilson had not cabled Ambassador Page at London or that Ambassador Herrick at Paris anything concerning the Imperial chancellor's noncommittal conversations with Ambassador Gerard. Although the British Ambassador called at the State Department to discuss neutrality cases, the subject was not mentioned to him. The French Ambassador has not been advised of the latest phase, although previously Secretary Bryan took both Ambassadors into his confidence on the various steps in the informal movement.

Germany Will Refuse to Give Up Possessions

By Associated Press

New York, Sept. 18.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador to the United States, discussed to-day the prospect of peace in Europe and the efforts of President Wilson to bring it about.

"Talk of peace was started by the people of the United States," said the Ambassador. "Its continuance after the answer sent by the German government through Ambassador Gerard, depends upon the attitude of the allies."

"As long as they talk of crushing and dismembering Germany there is absolutely no possibility of peace. I am quoting Premier Asquith and other Englishmen. I have no idea that Germany could be crushed or dismembered."

"No lasting peace would be possible if a square inch of German territory were given up to the allies. The colonies of Germany as well as the German empire itself. It is perfectly clear that if any territory was taken Germany would again arm to the teeth."

Count Von Bernstorff was asked if it was possible that peace in Europe might lead to general disarmament.

"This would depend, of course, upon the sentiment with which peace was entered into by the allies."

Count Von Bernstorff said that undoubtedly the German Emperor had been informed of the talk between Ambassador Gerard and the Imperial German chancellor and the Imperial German emperor himself. That the answer given had been first submitted to the Emperor. He added that it should be emphatically understood that from a military viewpoint Germany was not seeking peace at this time any more than before.

BRUMBAUGH WILL BE SUPPORTED

Citizens' Committee Formed in Philadelphia to Further Doctor's Candidacy

BERGNER IS A MEMBER

Eminent Men From All Parts of the State Will Work For His Election, Too

While Dr. Brumbaugh was touring Center and other up-state counties, preaching protective doctrine and promising good roads and good government to big crowds, representative men from all over the State were forming a citizens committee for election of the Doctor to the gubernatorial office. The committee has been well fitted. The committee was announced last night in Philadelphia and contains the names of many men of prominence. Charles H. Bergner, being the member from Dauphin county.

Headquarters were opened yesterday in Philadelphia and almost every prominent and influential element embraced in this organization which is destined to be an important factor in the State campaign. Many associates with the movement were active in the campaign to elect Mr. Blankenburg to the mayoralty.

The executive committee will be composed of fifteen from Philadelphia and ten from other points in the Commonwealth. There are also six chairmen from important towns in the State.

The officers of the committee are as follows: Chairman, Dimmer Beeber, Philadelphia; vice-chairman, Thomas Skeffton, Harrisburg; Gerard and Charles T. Jenkins, Philadelphia; James E. Hindeman and General James M. Schoonmaker, Pittsburgh; S. A. Kendall, Myersdale, and Colonel Louis A. Waters, Scranton; treasurer, Louis J. Kolb, Philadelphia; and secretary, James H. Hatt, Philadelphia.

"Grand Army of the Church" Will Be Guests of the Day at Morning Service

In a brief opinion handed down to-day, President Judge Kunkel of the Dauphin county court decided in favor of the defendant the tax appeal case brought by the State against the Tonopah-Goldfield Railroad Company to determine the question of liability for tax on loans. The Tonopah Company is a corporation which transacts its business in another State but its largest concern is in Philadelphia, according to the secretary, who resides there. The court therefore decided that the company was not liable. The amount involved is about $1,600.

MISS WILSON INTERESTED IN SOCIAL CENTERS

The "social center" movement, which advocates the opening of the schoolhouse as "social centers," has at last invaded Washington. Representative Crosser of Ohio and Senator Hollis, of New Hampshire, are pledged to let their colleagues know about the plan, and have lost no time in presenting the facts in both House and Senate. While the President himself has not yet spoken out in reference to the work, Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, his eldest daughter, rose from her seat in the audience at a recent civic meeting at Washington, and made a pertinent speech.

"The social center movement is the final analysis is the fundamental principle of democracy. No matter how cultured we are we cannot get ideas alone, and we must get together and get them from each other."

Forty years ago schoolhouses were generally opened freely to all kinds of social amusements, and especially to lectures, meetings, and political caucuses. Those who attended the schoolhouse meetings, and will agree with the President's daughter—"Affairs at Washington," Joe Mitchell Chapelle, in National Magazine for July.
