

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH

Established 1837
PUBLISHED BY THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO.
E. J. STACKPOLE, President and Treasurer
F. R. OYSTER, Secretary
GUS M. STEINMETZ, Managing Editor

Published every evening (except Sunday), at the Telegraph Building, 216 Federal Square.

Eastern Office, Fifth Avenue Building, New York City, Hasbrouck, Story & Brooks.
Western Office, 133 West Madison street, Chicago, Ill., Allen & Ward.

Delivered by carriers at six cents a week. Mailed to subscribers at $3.00 a year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office in Harrisburg as second class matter.

The Association of American Advertisers has examined and certified to the circulation of this publication. The figures of circulation contained in the Association's report only are guaranteed.
Association of American Advertisers
No. 2333 Whitehall Bldg., N. Y. City

Sworn daily average for the month of August, 1914
24,039

Average for the year 1913-21,077
Average for the year 1912-21,175
Average for the year 1911-18,552
Average for the year 1910-17,465

TELEPHONES: Bell Private Branch Exchange No. 2044. United Business Office, 203. Editorial Room 535. Job Dept. 308.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 23

BURTON'S VICTORY

THE victory of Senator Burton and his Republican colleagues in the United States Senate, whereby the Republicans stood united to save the country $33,000,000 while the Democrats were trying to get hold not only of that vast sum of money but to tax the people an additional $100,000,000, was one of honesty over "pork."

The Democrats were determined to put their river and harbor graft measure through, but when they ran up against Burton they met the most well-informed man in the United States on the waterway situation. Burton has been in Congress twenty-two years, during much of which time he was a member of the rivers and harbors committee. Consequently, he knew just what in the Democratic measure represented actual needs and the quantity of "pork" it contained.

Burton, who is not coming back to the Senate, by the way, and therefore could not be accused of playing politics for selfish reasons, showed that the Democratic bill proposed the improvement of scores of Southern streams that no amount of money will ever make available for navigation. He proved that it was backed by Democrats for the purpose of getting party ammunition, and he made it impossible for the bill to go through as originally framed.

The country owes a debt of gratitude to Burton that, figured out in dollars and cents, amounts to about $33,000,000, and Burton, it ought to be remembered, is a Republican, and therefore one of the Congressmen whom Democrats have been berating for their alleged extravagance.

How long will the country continue to be fooled, we wonder, by a party that, like the bluejay of our Northern forests, shouts "thief! thief!" while it is robbing its neighbors right and left.

"Dr. Brumbaugh is a big man," says an exchange. Yes, big mentally, morally and physically, and too big to try to get into office by way of the middle route preferred by his opponent.

"TIPPING" THE HAT

CHAUTAQUA lecturer in Illinois the other day delivered himself of a tirade against the "modern practice of hat tipping," saying that no woman felt herself honored by such a salute and that it offered "a means whereby the male flirt often approached in an apparently polite manner his helpless prey." It was a "modern device of the devil," he asserted, and ought to be "ruled out of the book of social etiquette."

We very much fear our Chautauqua friend was talking to the grandstand with the hope of getting a few lines in the newspapers, and regardless of the facts in the case, the practice of "hat-tipping," as the lecturer terms it, is very old, indeed. When a person was made captive in the olden days his conqueror stripped him of his weapons and clothing and left him without anything he could call his own. The captive was thus made a slave, his lack of clothing being evidence of his subjugation. We need only to look at the sculptures of the Assyrians to see the truth of this fact. And in Isaiah xx, 2-4, we find the following statement: "And the Lord said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign, so shall the King of Assyria lead away the Egyptians prisoners and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and barefoot."

The first step, then, in tracing the origin of taking off the hat is the surrender of the clothing among primitive and ancient peoples as a mark of submission. The next step is the uncovering of the body as a mark of reverence. There are all degrees of uncovering, though often only the most valuable parts of the clothing are taken off in the presence of superiors.

Captain Cook tells us that during his stay at Tahiti two men came on board and, as a sign of respect, took off the greater part of their clothing and put it on Cook and his friend. In

EVENING CHAT

One thing about the Capitol Park extension work is impressive and that is the manner in which the buildings disappear after they have been crossed off Superintendent S. B. Rambo's list as sold. Hardly a vestige of some buildings can be found two weeks after the transfers have been made and for any to remain three weeks is rather notable. In almost every instance where the buildings have been sold the buyers worked out some means whereby they could dispose of what remained worth taking away. They can always get a ready market for door frames, doors, windows and the like, and the building fixtures find a quick sale. So does the heavy building material. As a result the men who buy have folks at home and looking for bargains next day and it is record time for a man who bought a property about noon on a Saturday had sold about half of the materials before night and he had the remainder sold the following Wednesday. The man in which the burned property opposite the Wesley A. M. E. Zion Church disappeared furnishes a good illustration. The buyer was rather slow in getting started on it as he had another to look after, but when he did get under way it disappeared in a short time.

Few people are aware of the fact that the Capitol Park Extension Commission, which has been working without trumpet and large claims has accomplished a work that will redound to its credit as well as to that of the State. The expenses of the undertaking have been held down to a minimum and people in the city will be astonished when the time comes next year to file a report. Over 400 properties have been acquired and not an appeal has been taken to court. The way this commission has worked will attract much attention and furnish an example to many commissions to come.

One of the big, fat, lazy pigeons that live on Capitol Hill undertook to pay a visit to the Capitol rotunda yesterday. It got in by flying through the wide open windows of a department that opened to a corridor on the rotunda. It circled round and round and the guides and guards watched it while visitors wondered what it was and what it would do. Finally the bird foisted upon it. It flew to the floor and spring the great doorway, walked out.

Judge McCarrall disposed of a case in short order yesterday. Two men were up on cross charges. One man was stated to have gotten a club and gone to the home of another. Man No. 2 was charged with carrying a club. He had to defend himself—"I began the attorney for No. 2."

"Yes, he seems to have," said the judge, looking at the other fellow. Then he added, "And then some."

President Judge Kunkel has a great admiration for Hanover. The judge had not been through York county for years and he was in Hanover when he went on an automobile trip. He expected to see a small town and was astonished at the manner in which it had developed into a live, bustling city. Now when he is impressed with the get-up and hustle spirit. Why it looks as though it was going to become an industrial center and I expect to see it grow by leaps and bounds.

Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the State Board of Education, has a great time meeting his former pupils. He has as many as Dr. Brumbaugh or Dr. Houck, but he has some. He has taught in several counties, was a county superintendent, taught in a couple of normal schools and then had charge of the State Normal School. He is out swinging around the educational circle he runs across teachers who received instruction from him and some to whom he gave diplomas.

PUT ON HOLIDAY DRESS

HARRISBURG is a good looking city at any time, but it should be made to appear to particular fine advantage during the coming Firemen's Convention, when many thousands of visitors will be with us for a week. Not only are the Chamber of Commerce and the various fire companies to be commended for their part in the big decorative scheme that is planned, but private citizens should do what they can in the way of displaying flags and in illuminating their homes at night.

The Highway Department will have extra forces of street cleaners at work and the public parks will be lined with benches for weary pedestrians. Every bit of rubbish should be removed and, in short, everything possible should be done to make Harrisburg attractive and a pleasant place for the entertainment of the hosts that will come from all parts of the State.

A taxation commission is now proposed at Washington. What's the purpose? Congress seems to be able to levy more taxes now than most of us care to pay.

THE ANNUAL INSPECTION

AFTER every Fall inspection there come from Pennsylvania Railroad headquarters rumors that it is to be the last; that the expense is too great and the results not sufficient to warrant a continuance, but every September the trains make their annual observation trips and the prizes for excellence of roadbed and track construction are awarded.

Whether or not the inspections and awards have anything to do with it is a matter for the management to decide, but the fact remains that the Pennsylvania main line is one of the smoothest and best constructed pieces of railway in the entire country. The men that make it so deservy consideration, far more than they get, by the way, and it would be hardly right to take away from them the opportunity that comes to them to add to their material rewards in the yearly contest for prizes.

Rheims is said to be pronounced Rans. In our opinion it should be spelled Ruins.

In the light of recent happenings in Europe football will seem like a very ladylike pastime, indeed.

The word Russ looks all right in a newspaper headline, but in Harrisburg it has never meant anything but hotel.

"Beefsteak dinners more costly than lobster suppers," says a New York exchange. Beefsteak? Beefsteak? Where have we heard that name before?

PINCHOT ASKS PALMER TO QUIT

Washington Party Candidate For Senator Says Palmer Can't Get Own Party's Vote

HARD RAPS FOR HIS RIVAL

Fusion in the City Is Not Working Out With Very Much Success Just at Present

Gifford Pinchot, the Washington candidate for United States senator, last night said that the sentiment of the State was that A. Mitchell Palmer should get off the Democratic ticket for senator.

Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic candidate for United States senator, is reacting on a declaration at Scranton that he will not quit.

Vance C. McCormick, candidate for Governor on a mule ticket, maintains a mastery silence.

Things are not going well in the movement to unite all of the anti-Penrose forces and the burst of laughter which followed the declaration of Pinchot by a fusion on a nomination for an office which Penrose is not a candidate for has made some of the men who thought to pull off a Napoleonic trick with chagrin. Candidate McCormick has found that many Democrats are disgusted with him and refuse to believe that there was not some bargain with Bill Flinn and an understanding with William Penrose before McCormick got on the mule ticket, and has discovered that all over the State progressives are renouncing him as the candidate of the Washington party, while the anti-Penrose sentiment in the State is growing daily.

Pinchot is said to have been told by Roosevelt and the party leaders to drop the mule ticket and insist on Palmer standing pat.

Bearing in mind that Vance C. McCormick is the nominee of the Washington party for Governor, it is interesting to note what Pinchot said about his colleague, A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic candidate for the office for which Pinchot is also a candidate. Here are a few gems: "I have stated on every occasion what is the fact that Palmer has no chance to beat Penrose, and, therefore, I can only withdraw."

To protectionist Pennsylvania the surest way to elect Penrose would be for the other protectionist candidate to withdraw from the race and their business men. "The Democrats are strongly convinced that Pennsylvania must have at Washington a representative who will stand for a tariff that will bring money to our workers and business men. The Democrats are Democrats have come to me personally, including Democratic county chairmen, to express their surprise and regret that Palmer has not withdrawn from the race and their hope that I would be elected."

The Washington party is the majority party in Pennsylvania. The Democratic party is a minority party. Furthermore, the Democrats are hopelessly divided. Large numbers of them, as is well known, will vote the Penrose liquor ticket this year. * * * McCormick is not even the normal Democratic strength."

Democratic State Chairman Roland S. Morris has resumed his "conversation" at the Democratic State windmill in Market Square. The conditions in the State being so disturbing that the chairman has decided to come here two days a week instead of Thursday, which was formerly the receiving day. Mr. Morris expects to meet a number of leaders from various parts of the State, but it is not good form at the windmill to say who they are. They might be photographed by rude Republicans on their way to the convention. Democratic conditions are unpleasant to say the least. There are many Democrats who despise Vance C. McCormick for accepting favors at the hands of the followers of Roosevelt who beats Wilson every day and there are many Mull Moozers who are objecting to the persistence with which Palmer clings to the Democratic ticket. The genial chairman has much to worry over and the outlook for a peaceful meeting of the State committee next week is rather hazy to-day.

In Philadelphia there was a meeting of some Washington party ward committees last night and steps were taken to demand that Palmer get off the ticket. Palmer got off the ticket. Philadelphia Mull Moozers are talking as though they had a right to demand something and folks are wondering whether the meeting of the Democratic State committee here Tuesday is not to force Palmer off by presenting the carefully manufactured sentiment of the Mull Moozers who were appalled at the weakness shown by their party in New Jersey and Delaware and think that if Pinchot runs alone it means obliteration.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

Dr. C. L. Stevens, secretary of the State Medical Society, has held that post for many years.

Dr. John A. Hawkins, president of the Allegheny County Medical Society, who welcomed the physicians of the city of Pittsburgh yesterday, is one of the active medical men of the county.

Dr. S. C. Schmucker, who spoke at the opening of the new school in Latrobe yesterday, is a prominent member of the faculty of West Chester Normal School.

Francis F. Barnes, one of the best-known Philadelphia bankers, has come out for Dr. Brumbaugh.

The Rev. A. C. Knowles, of Philadelphia, has returned from Saranac lake.

DO YOU KNOW?

That parts of the lock machinery at the Gatun dam on the Panama Canal were made on Allison Hill.

Low Rates to Carlisle Fair. The Cumberland Valley Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Carlisle, on account of the Cumberland County Fair, September 22 to 25, at rate of 50 cents for the trip from Harrisburg. Tickets good to return, following date of issue.—Advertisement.

OUR DAILY LAUGH

IN GOOD RUNNING ORDER. Their household seems a perfect piece of machinery. Yes; the wife's the governor, the children safety valves, and the husband a crank.

CORRECT. Teacher—Willie, can you name the chief product of the European countries? Willie—Yes'm. Trouble, and plenty of it at the present time.

GET BUSY, MUGGSY. By Wing Dinger. Say, Muggsy, what's the matter with your team? Why gee, the way it's playing games and losing them. You're falling back each day. You and the team possess a host of good friends everywhere; They want to see you win the rag. So, Muggsy, have a care. Just tell the team it's got to win—To get up with a jump—To put some pep into its plays And get out of the slump. You've done the trick in years gone by. Don't let 'em keep you down. Get up and at 'em, win the rag. Again for New York town.

Nice Scheme Has Gotten All Muddled. Things are not going well in the movement to unite all of the anti-Penrose forces and the burst of laughter which followed the declaration of Pinchot by a fusion on a nomination for an office which Penrose is not a candidate for has made some of the men who thought to pull off a Napoleonic trick with chagrin. Candidate McCormick has found that many Democrats are disgusted with him and refuse to believe that there was not some bargain with Bill Flinn and an understanding with William Penrose before McCormick got on the mule ticket, and has discovered that all over the State progressives are renouncing him as the candidate of the Washington party, while the anti-Penrose sentiment in the State is growing daily.

Judge Kunkel's Candidacy

[From the Wilkes-Barre Record.] All Central Pennsylvania and some of the outlying counties were represented at the meeting of Judges and lawyers in Harrisburg on Tuesday at which Judge Kunkel was endorsed for the State Supreme Court bench. The hundreds of attorneys who have practiced before him see in Judge Kunkel a man fitted by every essential qualification for the high tribunal of the State. It is very fitting and should have great weight with the lay vote that these men, who know him most intimately and are best fitted to judge, should join together in a public endorsement of his candidacy.

Judge Kunkel's campaign for the nomination was conducted under extreme difficulty and was beset by many complications of a political nature that no longer exist. His path lies straight to the Supreme bench. He is well known as the man who tried the Capitol conspiracy cases and his labor record is clean. He has served the public as legislator, public prosecutor and judge. He is experienced in every branch of the law and an authority on Pennsylvania legislation of all sorts. He was re-elected to the bench on a non-partisan ticket without a dissenting vote. He has no business entanglements and is free politically. His private life is without a blemish. He is in the prime of life and resides in a district that is not represented on the Supreme bench. He is the logical man for the judgeship and the public will no doubt agree with the bar in its endorsement.

POLITICO-BUSINESS DEAL

[From the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.] "On the whole," as Colonel Roosevelt might say, McCormick may be the "most useful member" of the Washington party in Pennsylvania, being possibly the only one who has not shown a happy disposition to circulate real money. Dean Lewis had the silver dollar coin in the Bull Moose of the Keystone State was in the prime of life and resides in a district that is not represented on the Supreme bench. He is the logical man for the judgeship and the public will no doubt agree with the bar in its endorsement.

MORRIS HAS MUCH TO WORRY OVER

Democratic State Chairman Roland S. Morris has resumed his "conversation" at the Democratic State windmill in Market Square. The conditions in the State being so disturbing that the chairman has decided to come here two days a week instead of Thursday, which was formerly the receiving day. Mr. Morris expects to meet a number of leaders from various parts of the State, but it is not good form at the windmill to say who they are. They might be photographed by rude Republicans on their way to the convention. Democratic conditions are unpleasant to say the least. There are many Democrats who despise Vance C. McCormick for accepting favors at the hands of the followers of Roosevelt who beats Wilson every day and there are many Mull Moozers who are objecting to the persistence with which Palmer clings to the Democratic ticket. The genial chairman has much to worry over and the outlook for a peaceful meeting of the State committee next week is rather hazy to-day.

THIRTEEN INJURED

Thirteen persons were injured this morning when a passenger train collided with a freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad near Thompsonstown.

NEWS DISPATCHES OF THE CIVIL WAR

[From the Telegraph, Sept. 23, 1864.] Rebels Fire Into Train. Louisville, Sept. 23.—A small portion of a Magnolia gang fired into a train bound for this city, at New Haven, Kentucky, and were repulsed with several killed. The guerrillas returned and burned the New Haven depot.

Troops Read Results. Army of the Potomac, Sept. 23.—News of Sheridan's victory in the Shenandoah Valley was read to the troops along the lines this afternoon and was received with unbounded enthusiasm and repeated cheering. A salute of 100 guns will be fired tomorrow at daylight in honor of the victory.

HEADQUARTERS FOR SHIRTS SIDES & SIDES

—Here is a gem from one of Pinchot's speeches yesterday that was not played up by the Patriot: "The temperance and moral forces of the State in representative convention have given to me, and not to Mr. Palmer, their powerful support."

—Sunbury will give a hearty welcome to Brumbaugh.

ARE YOU AMBITIOUS?

University of Pennsylvania EVENING COURSES AT HARRISBURG. Offer an opportunity to better your position and increase your earning power. Classes first four nights a week, 7.45 to 10. Technical High School Building. Tuition $50 a year.

The Extension School Begins October 12th. A University Professor will "talk it over" with you at the Chamber of Commerce room, Kunkel Building, Third and Market streets; afternoons 2-4.30; evenings, 7-9.

Send in Your Application at Once (CUT OUT THE COUPON AND MAIL IT)

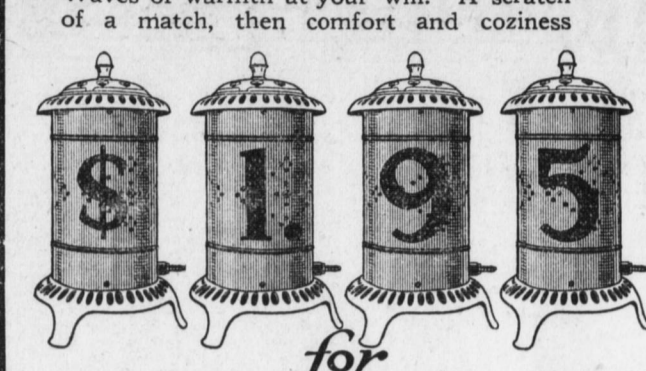

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 21, 1914.

Educational Committee—C. Harry Kain, Arcade Bldg. W. Sherman Steele, Central High School. Dr. Samuel Z. Shope, 610 North Third Street. Harrisburg, Pa.

Gentlemen: Will you please consider me an applicant for enrollment in the Extension School of the University of Pennsylvania to be established in Harrisburg?

NAME . . . . . ADDRESS . . . . . (Mail or hand your application to any of the above committee.)

Waves of warmth at your will. A scratch of a match, then comfort and coziness

A Perfect Gas Heating Stove An Hour of It For 2 1/2 Cents

Use it in the bedroom when dressing, in the bathroom when bathing, or carry it to any room in the house. Nickel top and base make it a handsome appliance.

$1.95—75c down; 75c first month; 45c final payment (connections extra)

Buy yours now at the gas office, or send for a representative.

Harrisburg Gas Company

14 South Market Square Bell—2028 Cumberland Valley—752

THE 90 PER CENT AND THE 10 PER CENT

[Bristol Courier.] At a meeting of the Washington party State committee in Harrisburg when William Flinn, the multi-millionaire contractor boss of Pittsburgh, delivered his followers to the Democratic free trade candidate for Governor, he made this amazing assertion:

I want you men to realize what we are up against. Ninety per cent of the business corporations are supporting Penrose for United States Senator and Brumbaugh for Governor.

Consider for a moment what this means. Flinn and his Washington party associates have always been careful to explain that they are not antagonistic to corporations, but only to bad corporations. In making the assertion that 90 per cent of the business corporations of Pennsylvania were for Penrose and Brumbaugh, Flinn did not say 90 per cent of the bad corporations, but 90 per cent of all the corporations doing business in this State. Since the great bulk of our business nowadays is transacted by corporations, Flinn was in reality asserting that 90 per cent of the business men of Pennsylvania were supporting Penrose and Brumbaugh.

That is to say, 9 out of 10 of the leading citizens of Pennsylvania—manufacturers, bankers, merchants—the men who pay the wages and head all those multitudinous enterprises which give our society form and substance—are demanding the re-election of United States Senator Penrose and the election of Martin G. Brumbaugh as Governor.

What an admission for a man who is seeking to defeat the will of this vast majority of reputable citizens! No Republican campaign orator could have advanced a stronger argument in behalf of the men and policies to be voted for on the Republican ticket.

Flinn convicts himself as an unscrupulous boss by his public confession that he is endeavoring by manipulation, intrigue and the unlimited use of McCormick's dollars to defeat the will of 90 per cent and to force upon them the platform and candidates of the 10 per cent.

The child also has a right to a good church. I care not under what creed the child worships. That is a matter which, in America, thank God, is settled by the freedom which we accord to everyone to worship his God under his own vine and fig tree. And among the inalienable rights of a child is that of a good school. But it is important that the school should do more than simply train the bodies of our boys and girls. We need also to fire their thoughts in such way that in all the subsequent relations of life they shall be able to speak the truth and do no wrong, for in the last analysis the test of a good American citizen is that he shall violate no law of his country and speak the truth upon all occasions.

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

EVENING COURSES AT HARRISBURG

Offer an opportunity to better your position and increase your earning power. Classes first four nights a week, 7.45 to 10. Technical High School Building. Tuition $50 a year.

The Extension School Begins October 12th

A University Professor will "talk it over" with you at the Chamber of Commerce room, Kunkel Building, Third and Market streets; afternoons 2-4.30; evenings, 7-9.

Send in Your Application at Once (CUT OUT THE COUPON AND MAIL IT)

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 21, 1914.

Educational Committee—C. Harry Kain, Arcade Bldg. W. Sherman Steele, Central High School. Dr. Samuel Z. Shope, 610 North Third Street. Harrisburg, Pa.

Gentlemen: Will you please consider me an applicant for enrollment in the Extension School of the University of Pennsylvania to be established in Harrisburg?

NAME . . . . . ADDRESS . . . . . (Mail or hand your application to any of the above committee.)