TWO FEDS SORRY THEY QUIT BRAVES

See Gobs of Cash Which They Will Not Get Because of Their Actions; Both Were Stars

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 24.—There are at least two Federals who regret their jumping from the major ranks. Vin Campbell and Bill Rariden, outfielder and catcher, now playing with the Indianapolis team of the Federal League.

These players, according to friends, are kicking themselves all over the baseball field.

Those two, both stars last year were the property of the Boston National League club. Campbell didn't play in 1913, having quit the national meeting in a huff the previous season. At the beginning of this season, he was implored by George Stallings, the Braves' manager, to join the club. Rariden, though, caught the majority of Boston's games last year and was ranked as one of the best receivers in the National League.

During last winter Federal League agents whispered offers into the ears of both Campbell and Rariden. They listened and began to fall, as the Federal agent named sums much in excess of the salaries they were receiving at Boston.

Boston last year was a down and outer with no show of getting into the world's series money. And the prospects for 1914 were not much brighter at the time the new league's agents were after Rariden and Campbell. And so it was not strange that Rariden and Campbell should jump to the outlaw circuit with a chance to make more money.

But now, with the Boston Braves knocking the props from under the Giants and being picked by many to win the National League flag, it's a different thing—much different. Rariden and Campbell groan every time they pick up a paper and read that Boston has won another game.

Boston Braves Strong in National Race

Special to The Telegraph
Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—The law of averages gives the Boston Nationals a decisive advantage over the New York Giants, and a repetition of the past two weeks' happenings will make the Braves prohibitive favorites over the three-time champions of the National League. By virtue of their victory over the Pittsburgh team, the Braves gained one full game on the New York team, for the latter was unable to score on Vaughn, and consequently went down to defeat before Chicago.

Four games now separate the teams and only nineteen games remain unplayed by the Braves with one less for New York.

Assuming that the Giants win all of their remaining games—a decidedly improbable happening—the Braves would win the pennant by capturing fifteen. Since returning from the West Stallings' men have travelled at a fast gait and there seems no reason why the team should not advance into the world's series.

HETTY GREEN DENIES SHE WILL BUY THE CUBS

Special to The Telegraph
New York, Sept. 23.—Another bubble burst yesterday with a loud pop. But while the bubble was in the process of growing the Chicago Cubs got as much publicity out of it as they ever did in the noisy days of Charles Webb Murphy. Here's the yarn:

Some one spread the report that Hetty Green was to buy the Cubs. Sporting writers were tickled silly. It gave them one of the mighty few chances they've had of late to break into print on the first pages.

And then Colonel Edward Green, Mrs. Hetty Green's son, flatly denied the story.

"My mother is not a fan," chuckled Colonel Green, "and wouldn't think of buying the Chicago baseball club."

Reporters to whom Colonel Green said this, think there was a slight emphasis on the "Chicago."

CARLISLE INDIANS ARE GIVEN SURPRISE

Lebanon Valley College Eleven Held Glenn Warner's Crowd to a Small Score

Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 24.—Glenn Warner and his Indians were given one big surprise by the Lebanon Valley College eleven yesterday. Carlisle won, score 7 to 0, but had to go some. It was the strongest eleven Lebanon Valley has ever had in the field, and last season's successes will more than be repeated, in the opinion of those who saw Lebanon Valley play yesterday. No points were scored until the final period of the game.

The visitors outweighed Carlisle by 15 pounds per man. The sweating heat made the day unfit for football, and the eight-minute periods did not give the Indians time to accomplish anything especially when progress was delayed by fumbles. For Carlisle, Calico was easily the star. For the visitors, Wheelock, the Indian from Carlisle, was a big factor in tackling and carrying the ball.

"Buck" Boyle Quits; Treatment Was Cool

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—Men back of the Philadelphia National League baseball team have overlooked another good bet.

George Buck Boyle, the best first baseman the Tri-State League has had in years, left for his home in Allentown, disgusted at the shabby treatment accorded him by the Phillies during his trial here this week.

In an effort to strengthen the Phillies, the Allentown club turned Boyle over to them under unusually generous conditions. Boyle was to show his skill in morning practice here at no cost to the Phillies. In case he caught the fancy of the Phillies chief, Allentown agreed to sell him to President Baker for the waiver price of $1,200, but if he didn't come up to the latter's standard, the Phillies would not be out a nickel.

Boyle came here Tuesday morning and said he received a cool reception. He did a little light drill, but nobody asked him to go to first and see how he could cover the bag.

He was surprised at the lack of interest, as he believed the club wanted to look him over. The same conditions prevailed yesterday, other players and officials brushed by Boyle as if he was a bat boy and made no attempt to see what he could do.

This was too much for Boyle, who quickly changed his clothes and left for Allentown without saying good-bye to anybody at Broad and Luntingdon.

Boyle is a youth, but fans who have watched him play in the Tri-State League declare him to be the most wonderful first baseman the circuit has ever had. He is a lightning fielder and his stops and sliding plays have electrified fans. Boyle is also a good hitter. Experts say that a good manager could make a second Stuffy McInnis out of him.

Boyle is lost to the Phils now, but he probably will shortly land with a major league club that is not afraid to give a youth a trial.

Kavanaugh and Burns are two other players who obtained berths elsewhere because of the inattention the local clubs give to local and nearby players.

BAKER KNOCKS OUT A BULL

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Manager Mack and his players spent an idle day here, not being scheduled to play, but were entertained by Armour & Co.

After an inspection through the packing departments and stockyards, the world's champions enjoyed a novel luncheon. The menu and special dishes were designed especially for the occasion. Baker and Oldring were the only members of the team unable to be present. They spent the time golfing.

GARDNER WHITE WINS OVER FRANCES OUMMET

Greenwich, Conn., Sept. 24.—Another defeat for Francis Oummet of Brookline, Mass., the national golf champion, was the feature of the final rounds of play in the invitation golf tournament at the Greenwich Country Club to-day.

In the semifinal round for the better than eight of the leading division Oummet gave a splendid exhibition when he won from R. H. White, of Oakland, L. I., by 6 and 4. In the afternoon, however, when he met Gardner W. White, of Flushing, L. I., the champion was never better than even at any stage, and was beaten 3 up and 2. The winner was in great form, barring the missing of a very short putt on the twelfth green, and the clinching shot of the match was his sinking of a 25-foot putt on the fifteenth for a half in three, which made him dormie. The next hole was halcyon in favor and the match ended right there. Oummet got good direction from the tees during the round, but he was weak on the greens.

CORNELL TRIMS URSINUS; EASY TIME WINNING

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Cornell waded right into Ursinus yesterday and when time was called had scored 28 points to her opponent's 12. The Cornell first tee had little trouble bowling over their lighter opponents, whom they outclassed in every department. In the third and part of the last period with a number of subs sent in the attack of the Ithacans halted, but the regulars had an easy time.

Cornell scored one minute after play when a blocked punt which bounded well towards the goal line was picked up by O'Hearn and taken over for a score. The Ithacans soon scored again in this period, following a 30-yard series of straight football rushes and got another tally in the third period following three good gains by Mueller from the 30-yard line. Mueller also made the touchdown.

Great Singers Must be "Tobacco Wise"

Tuxedo is the Tobacco Chosen by Opera Stars

MEN who depend upon their voices come to know tobacco as the ordinary smoker never knows it. A sensitive throat or mouth feels the slightest sting, bite or scorch of tobacco.

Tuxedo is the one tobacco which singers, actors, public speakers—all men who guard their throats zealously—can smoke with pleasure and safety.

Tuxedo tobacco cannot sting, bite or irritate the delicate membranes of the mouth or throat.

Tuxedo
The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo tobacco has made thousands of men converts to the pipe, because it has made pipe-smoking possible for them. Under the famous "Tuxedo Process" the mild, tender leaves of the highest grade Burley tobacco are so skillfully treated that Tuxedo burns slowly and affords a cool, mild, thoroughly enjoyable pipe smoke.

Leading men in all walks of life—well-known doctors, lawyers, ministers, lecturers, etc.—smoke Tuxedo and testify to its soothing influence on the throat.
