

WOMEN AND THEIR INTERESTS

Life Is What We Make It

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Two women came to each other, came to a country resort and rented adjoining cottages. Both were new comers, unacquainted with the residents. Their houses were of similar style and furnishings, both rented of the same agent and both with equal opportunities for enjoyment, so far as external conditions are concerned. But this is what happened before the season had half expired:

One house became the centre of life, wholesome pleasure, and pleasant entertainment. Passersby found it a magnet and loved to pause at the door or to sit for a moment on the veranda, chatting with the agreeable hostess. Children, women and men were alike enthusiastic in their appreciation of this newcomer, whose smile made sunlight on the darkest day and whose voice had ever a ring of hope and a note of praise and a chord of pleasure and never a dissonance.

She emanated sunshine. This woman was gifted with the rare quality of appreciation of everything good in nature or human nature. She strongly accented whatever to her in the world seemed admirable and she passed lightly over whatever was disappointing or disagreeable.

She remembered every pleasant thing she heard about her neighbors and she quickly forgot whatever was unpleasant. She refused to discuss or be dominated by weeks of wet weather, and in consequence she emanated sunshine and turned the pessimistic caller into an optimist. Every door was open to her, and her companionship was equally sought by old and young.

Meantime what was happening next door? This woman began by criticism of the weather, fault finding with the house in which she dwelt, sarcasm concerning her neighbors. She disapproved of everything and of everybody. She declared the whole town out of drawing with what her mental conception pictured it should be. She objects to the habits, the dress, the customs and the occupations of everybody in the place.

Then, because as a very natural consequence, she was left quite alone, she declared it to be the most unsocial and discourteous town on the map of the universe. No one was ever seen on her verandas, and one felt the vibrations of gloom and discord, even in passing the door.

Never was there a greater illustration or a more direct proof of the power of the mind to create its own environment than in this true incident here in related.

Other Full of Sarcasm

One woman leaves the town full of praise for its scenery, its people and its social life; the other leaves with suppressed curses, and open sarcasm. One carries with her the love, admiration and appreciation of a large circle of friends; the other will either be ignored and forgotten, or remembered only for her disagreeable qualities. Each has received exactly what she sent out from her mind and that is what all of us do.

Life is precisely what we make it. That which we give, we receive. Not always in the detail but in the aggregate. Here and there some old karma law may cause us to be at times unfairly treated by those whom we have treated fairly; to be cheated by those to whom we have given honest dealing, or to be neglected by those to whom we have been devoted.

But if our hearts are full of good will, generous judgment, appreciation and love; if we see and remember the good and pass briefly over the evil in life and in people we are sure to be rewarded a hundredfold in the large experiences which life offers us.

Life What We Make It

You can never tell what your thoughts will do. In bringing you hate or love; For thoughts are things, and their airy wings Are swifter than carrier dove. They follow the law of the universe— Each thing must create its kind, And they speed o'er the track to bring you back Whatever went out from your mind.

THE BASQUE IN ONE OF ITS NEWEST FORMS

The Slightly Draped Garment Often is More Becoming than the Severe One
By MAY MANTON

8392 Gathered Basque, 34 to 42 bust.

As a matter of course, the basque has undergone a process of development and here is one of its very newest forms. It is just slightly full below the armholes to produce pretty folds. It includes all the characteristic features yet it takes the straight lines which remain an important feature of fashionable dress. The collar that is high yet open at the front is new and especially worthy of note. As a matter of course, there is a lining which holds the fullness perfectly in place and the buttons and button-holes set close together are really important. In the illustration, the new liberty satin is shown with a skirt of the same material but often these basques are made of satin or some similar material to be worn over a skirt of something thinner and lighter, either plaited or ruffled. Liberty satin, for example, in any preferred color over a skirt covered with net flounces makes a very smart effect.

For the medium size, the basque will require 4 yds. of material 27, 2 3/4 yds. 36, 2 3/4 yds. 44 in. wide, with 3/4 yd. 21 in. wide for collar and cuffs, 1 3/4 yds. 36 in. wide for lining.

The pattern 8392 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

Special to The Telegraph
Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 1.—There is little certainty so far as the Carlisle Indian School as to anything like precise arrangement of the redskins' backfield, which is being tried out by Coach Warner with a view of getting just the right balance of effort which he deems wise to secure while facing such a difficult season. The whole gamut of elementary training exercises was gone through with on Indian Field. The present backfield arrangement will allow either Lookaround, Poody or Welman to work at fullback, while the sturdy Calac seemed to handle left halfback with speed and keen judgment.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. P. W. LANSENG, Route No. 1, Florence, South Dakota.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

GRAPE BASKETS IN THE OFFICIAL EYE

If Not Marked With Contents the Dealer Is Liable to Get Arrested For Breaking Law

"Because the producer or wholesaler does not mark grape baskets with the amount of fruit they contain some merchants think that they are exempt from the requirements of the State laws or that they do not violate any of its provisions by selling the packages without the marks. They are mistaken badly," declared James Sweeney, State chief of standards and an authority on the commodity laws, to-day in discussing the sales of fruits in the markets.

"For some reason I have had many inquiries at the bureau of standards since the grape season opened about the requirements. People have an idea that the grape baskets are not included, but they will be fooled. The law states specifically that where commodities are sold in package form, the quantity of the contents must be plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside of the package in terms of weight, measure or numerical count. These requirements apply to grapes sold in baskets or cartons of any kind as well as to any other commodity and where the dealer neglects to comply with the provisions of the law as it applies to the marking of the quantity of the contents he subjects himself to the penalties imposed by the act of July 24, 1914, known as the commodity act and which became effective January 1, 1914.

"Many of the producers and wholesalers live outside of Pennsylvania and do not come under jurisdiction of the State law, but the city and county sealers of weights and measures have authority to prevent sales where the law as to marking is not complied with. The retail dealers is the one who will be held responsible and it is to his interest to see that the packages are properly marked before he puts them on sale."

CAPTAIN SNAVELY IS OUT
Special to The Telegraph
Annville, Pa., Oct. 1.—The varsity team of Lebanon Valley College will be without the services of Captain Snavely in Saturday's game with the Indian Reserve eleven at Annville on account of an injured ankle, received a week ago. Mickey, left guard, will also be out of play for at least a month. He injured his left side in scrimmage last week. Coach Guyver held his longest scrimmage practice of the year this afternoon, the varsity and second team going at it for one hour. The second team was reinforced by Donahue and Swartz, first team men, who showed much resistance to the varsity's end runs.

FEAR OF REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR GROUNDLESS

Thousands of women now regularly remove every trace of unbecoming hair growth from their faces and bodies. It is totally unnecessary nowadays to have such disfigurements. While medical science knows of no chemical that will eradicate hair permanently without serious injury, it is an established scientific fact that El Rado will remove hair for a very long time; its action is perfectly harmless, simple and thorough. When the hair finally reappears, it is finer instead of coarser, and can be instantly removed again for a still longer period than at first. A few drops of El Rado, a simple application, and in a moment the hair vanishes—it is dissolved, the skin is left smooth, velvety, and even whiter than before.

El Rado is now practically regarded as an indispensable toilet necessity. Innumerable women use it. You need have no more hesitation, therefore, in calling for it than in asking for a toilet powder. Test El Rado on your arm; prove for yourself that it will do everything claimed. Your money back if you are not entirely satisfied. 50c and $1.00 size bottles at all leading drug and department stores, or direct from the Pilgrim Mfg. Co., New York. Valuable information sent on request. In this city, El Rado is sold and recommended by:

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
