

Football Pot Will Boil; Important Games Tomorrow

College Teams Are Working the Forward Pass in Practice Games; Central Meets Mt. Carmel at Island Park

Some strenuous stirring is looked for in the football pot to-morrow and interesting developments are expected. Most of the games will be of importance in view of the fact that college teams are about ready to get down to real work.

Nearly all of the Eastern teams are working the forward pass in practice, and it looks as if this branch of play would be a big factor.

Two scholastic interest centers in the game at Island Park between Central High and Mt. Carmel High, and at Steelton in the battle between Steelton High and Pottsville High. Tech High will not go to Lancaster, as Lancaster High's funds are not sufficient to warrant a game. Coach E. Forrest Dunkle will take his squad to Lewisburg for a scrimmage with George Cockill's players at Bucknell.

This afternoon the Tech Scrubs lined up against the Harrisburg Academy eleven. A good game was expected, as the teams are about evenly matched in weight. The freshmen and sophomores of Tech High will play their annual game at Island Park on Monday, October 2. The Central and Mt. Carmel line-up to-morrow will be:

STALLINGS DECLARES BOSTON WILL WIN

Players Anxious to Get at the Athletics; Braves' Leader Gets Congratulations

Special to The Telegraph
New York, Oct. 2.—Manager George Stallings, of the Boston Braves, is confident that his players will go through the Athletics in the world's series the same as they breezed through the entire National League within a little more than six weeks.

Telegrams from all parts of the country poured into the hotel where the new champions are quartered. Every one of the players received one of those "whoop-up" messages from the old home town. In the lot received by the happy Stallings was one from the Giants and the Braves' manager declared that he appreciated that more than all. The whole United States, it seems, has been pulling for the Braves because of their wonderful dash through the homestretch and there was never a ball club so universally remembered by telegraph.

There is none of the bias, matter-of-course manner about the leader of the new champions. George Stallings is as enthusiastic and happy over his success as a boy just out of school.

AT THE VICTORIA
For to-day, "The Master of the World," a four-reel spectacular picture production, heads a program that will be sure to please the most critical motion picture devotee. "Parson Parkin's Wife" is a two-part offering that is full of good, clean acting from beginning to end. It's the kind of a picture that tells a story in a forcible story. The Famous Daily News show 1,000 feet of interesting news events and always include what scenes deal with the present great European conflict. To-morrow we take pleasure in presenting a mammoth four-reel production, "The Battles of the Marston." This great picture shows the result of the ambition of the man who would rule the world. It is a wonderful piece of photography.—Advertisement.

YOUNG MEN MUST REMAIN YOUNG NOW

If They Would Win in the Battle of Life They Must Take Care of Themselves

The necessity for young men to remain young by taking care of themselves and for older men to conserve their energies by care in diet and the proper view of life is pointed out by Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State Commissioner of Health, in his weekly talk on hygiene. The commissioner has been an observer of people all his life, a student of youth and old age, and his remarks carry weight.

This is the way he puts it: "Between youth and old age there is a never-ending conflict. Vitality is continually pitted against experience and sometimes victory falls to the one and again to the other.

"Among the greatest names in history we find side by side those of youth and old age. Men who have lived temperate lives and have escaped the aggravating infirmities of age are often more than a match for youth in mental endurance.

"The health and efficiency of an elderly man depends largely upon his mental attitude. The man who begins to look over his shoulder at fifty will be stumbling through life at sixty, while the one who is continually looking ahead and seeking intellectual advancement will continue to increase in mental capacity. The brain's power grows long after the maximum of physical strength has been reached.

"For the man of advanced years simple diet and regularity of habits are essential. The physiological processes are less active and the structures lack the elasticity of youth and should not be subjected to undue strain.

"Tolerant age is more than a match for intolerant youth and the mental poise which should come with advancing years has a decided bearing on the physical wellbeing and mental power.

"The infirmities of age are often less of a handicap to the accomplishment of serious and effective work than the erratic vitality of youth."

Keep Philippines Under Flag, Mann Tells House

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—In a notable speech in the House opposing independence for the Philippines, either now or in the future, Representative James R. Mann, the Republican leader, revived the "yellow peril" and declared that a conflict between the Far East and the Far West is as certain to come as the rising of the morning sun. With China, which he referred to as the "sleeping monster of the world," awakening as did Japan, he said, "there will first come a series of competitive efforts which never have been equalled in this world of ours," and then there will be resort to arms in a strife which will last for years, and possibly for centuries.

That the United States may be prepared, the leader of the minority party made a plea for the retention of the Philippines islands for all time. He declared that he would give the Philippines the broadest liberty of self-government, without the relinquishment of a single right of this country over the islands so far as other countries are concerned.

"Keep the Philippines under the flag of the United States and make them our friends" was the keynote of his speech. He argued that there would be no advantage in having the islands in the event of a war in the Pacific Ocean if the natives were unfriendly.

"Most people who get under our flag want to stay there," he exclaimed, and his party colleagues applauded. "If we treat the Filipinos right they will want to stay there."

Resume Extension Work at Bethlehem Plant

Bethlehem, Pa., Oct. 2.—Work has been resumed on the $15,000,000 extension at the Saucon plant of the Bethlehem Steel Works, which affects the prosperity of the entire Lehigh Valley.

With the outbreak of the war work on the extension was shut down flat and several thousand men were thrown out of employment. After thinking over the situation the officials of the steel company and the contractors decided to proceed.

The contractors have put their men to work with the vim that prevailed before the war and will pay out more than $1,000 a week in wages. It is also hoped by the Bethlehem Steel officials to start soon on the doubling of the bridge shop, as it is believed there will, at an early day, be a great demand from Europe for material for bridges to replace those destroyed during hostilities.

The decision to proceed with the electric roll and machine shop, of course, necessitated the use of structural steel, to make which the company has to put a number of skilled men to work who had been idle.

Franklin County Manufacturers Are Out For Penrose

Chambersburg, Pa., Oct. 2.—In acknowledgment of his election as chairman of the Franklin county branch of the Pennsylvania Protective Union at a meeting held here yesterday afternoon H. G. Wolf, of the Wolf Company, set forth the manufacturers' side of the political questions of the day in a speech which handled the Democratic administration and Democratic policies without gloves.

Nearly all of the leading manufacturers of Franklin county were present or represented at the meeting, which was formally organized for the campaign.

Mr. Wolf began by reading the following quotation and asked his auditors who they supposed had written it: "Everything that touches our lives sooner or later goes back to the industries that sustain our lives. I have often reflected that there is a very human order in our Lord's Prayer, for we pray first of all, 'Give us this day our daily bread,' knowing that it is useless to pray for spiritual graces on an empty stomach, and that the amount of wages we get, the kind of clothes we wear, the kind of food we can afford to buy, is fundamental to everything else."

There was a chorus of laughter when the chairman said it was from the facile pen of President Woodrow Wilson.

"I agree with Dr. Wilson much better than he now seems to agree with himself," said Mr. Wolf. "It is undoubtedly true that food and wages and clothes are fundamental to everything else and that is the reason why the manufacturers of Franklin county are arraying themselves behind United States Senator Boies Penrose and the protectionist candidates for Congress who stand for food and wages and clothing as against the destructive policies that have been put in force by the Wilson administration."

Strong resolutions were passed endorsing Senator Penrose.
