

MEN WHO ARE LEADERS IN PRELIMINARY WORK OF FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

HARRISBURG FIREMEN'S UNION
1914

For twelve months these firemen have been working night and day for the success of the big celebration which starts with the arrival of visitors on Sunday. It has been a hard task because of the dull business season and funds have been coming in slowly.

Every member of the Harrisburg Firemen's Union has been a factor in getting ready for what promises to be the largest and most successful gathering in the history of the Pennsylvania State Firemen's Association. There is still work to do. Howard

O. Holstein, the big chief who has been in charge of the finance committee, will be the chief marshal of the parade next Thursday, says his forces will continue at work until the last visitor leaves for home.

War Bulletins

London, Oct. 2, 11:30 A. M.—The Exchange Telegraph Company has given out a dispatch from its Vienna correspondent sent by way of Rome, saying that General Von Hindenburgh, who has been active against the Russians on the East Prussian frontier, has been appointed to take command of the defense of Cracow.

Rome, Oct. 2, via Paris, 4:15 A. M.—The Emperor has reached Rome from Vienna describing a visit paid by Emperor Francis Joseph to a local hospital in the course of which His Majesty spoke to everybody in the institution. The Emperor's doctors are now urging him to spare himself and not to visit the troops, who are wounded, as they fear the effect of emotion on a man of such advanced years.

Bordeaux, Oct. 2, 11:35 A. M.—The American hospital ship, Red Cross, arrived from Paulding, a small port from Falmouth, England. She comes to Falmouth to bring the Red Cross units which will serve with the French army, and England and all districts of the units for service among the English wounded as well as those which are to go to Russia.

Rome, Oct. 2, via Paris, 7:45 A. M.—M. Rizzi, the Bulgarian Minister to Italy, has been instructed by his Government to order all Bulgarian army officers in Italy and Switzerland to return home immediately and to provide them with money for the journey.

Rome, Oct. 1, 8:15 A. M.—The Italian National organ of the Red Cross, which was published for the first time to-day, says that the rumored resignation of the Marquis Di San Giuliano, Minister of Foreign Affairs, is confirmed, and that he has been promoted to a larger change in the Cabinet.

Rome, Oct. 1, 8:15 P. M., via Paris, Oct. 2, 8:15 A. M.—The Emperor William, who telegrams from Berlin, has come from one front to another. He travels in a special train of ten Pullman cars, which formerly were painted white and blue, but which may have been repainted in the ordinary cars in order to protect the train from the bombs of French aviators.

London, Oct. 2, 2:15 A. M.—One of the British Telegraph's correspondents in Belgium, writing under date of Wednesday, has sent the following:

"Before the Germans can press home an all-out assault on Antwerp, the harbor must cross the Scheldt river. Again they have made their attempt but every effort has been repulsed."

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
By Associated Press

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2.—Board of Trade closing:

Wheat—December, 1.05%; May, 1.11%;

Corn—December, 66 1/4; May, 68 1/4;

Pork—October, 16 1/2; January, 19 1/2;

Lard—October, 9 1/2; January, 9 7/8;

Ribs—October, 10 6/8; January, 9 9/8;

KAUFMAN STORE'S
NINTH ANNIVERSARY

Special Sale With Many Bargains and Attractive Features Will Start Tomorrow

The celebration of the ninth anniversary of the business, Kaufman's Underselling Store to-morrow will begin with a special anniversary sale, full particulars regarding which will be found in this paper.

The work incidental to the preparation for this big event was begun months ago. Advertising buyers were instructed to put forth their best efforts in anticipation of the event, and to provide on this occasion the most interesting and attractive features ever presented by the store. The result of their efforts is to be found in the thousands of attractions that are now ready for the inspection of the public. Every department contributes its share of seasonable merchandise, on which special prices will prevail.

Extraordinary features will be provided throughout the store, including other things free souvenirs commemorating the ninth anniversary of the store, and the sale at a few cents of large alarm clocks to customers purchasing certain amounts.

In conjunction with the firemen's convention the store has been put in gala attire. An electrical display will be set up in front of the store in the likeness of a huge sunburst will convert the front of the building into a blaze of lights. In all about 1,500 incandescent lights will be employed.

The Kaufman Stores are numbered among the city's leading business institutions. During the nine years they have been in existence their sales and their growth has been most gratifying, increasing patronage from time to time requiring the addition of many thousands of feet of floor space to the quarters first utilized in the business. David Kaufman, proprietor of the business, has from the time of his coming to Harrisburg taken an active part in the affairs pertaining to the Harrisburg's civic and commercial welfare, and it is to his untiring personal efforts which he puts into his business that must be credited its successful growth from the time of its inauguration nine years ago.

"Marriage Is a Great Institution"—Marshall

Washington, Oct. 2.—"If you get the right wife, marriage is a great institution and in that respect, I was a fool for luck," declared Vice-President Marshall to-day, commenting on his nineteenth wedding anniversary. "I would not dare give advice to young men of this great subject, however, because if they were not so lucky as I have been they might have been."

The Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall shall have an anniversary luncheon at the Capitol.

Deaths and Funerals

FUNERAL OF J. W. GRANT

FUNERAL SERVICES for James W. Grant, aged 63 years, who died at his home, 303 South Fourteenth street, Tuesday, were held this afternoon. Burial was made in the Lincoln Cemetery. Members of Chosen Friends, Lodge No. 43, Colored Masons, attended the funeral in a body.

MRS. MARGARET E. BAUGHMAN Mrs. Margaret E. Baughman, aged 80 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Hand, 100 North Moore, 1923 Ferry street, last night. She was survived by nine children. Funeral services will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The body will be taken to Hayes Grove, Cumberland county, Pa., where final services will be held in the United Brethren Church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be made at that place.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton, by the husband of the alleged victim, the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

"United Hat"

For Your Boys, and You

SAVE A DOLLAR FIFTY

$5.00 Styles
$3.00 Values

$1.50

All Styles
One Price

UNITED HAT STORES, Inc.
From Factory to You
3RD AND MARKET STS. Harrisburg Pa.HIGHSPIRE BURGESS
CRIMINALLY CHARGED

Woman Makes Grave Charge Against Aaron B. Klugh; He Enters $1,000 Bail

Ex-Jury Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton,

by the husband of the alleged victim,

the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton,

by the husband of the alleged victim,

the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton,

by the husband of the alleged victim,

the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton,

by the husband of the alleged victim,

the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton,

by the husband of the alleged victim,

the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton,

by the husband of the alleged victim,

the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton,

by the husband of the alleged victim,

the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.

The woman who brought Klugh's arrest was sworn out last evening before Squire Thomas V. Gardner, Steetton,

by the husband of the alleged victim,

the husband of the alleged victim.

The papers were given Constable Gibb for service. Klugh, it is understood, knew of the fact that there was a warrant against him, however, before it had been served, and late this afternoon he strayed over to the election booth with his condeman, E. Bodner, proprietor of the Bodner House, Highspire. The law under which Klugh was charged provides that only the court or a mayor may take the bail. Had Klugh surrendered last evening he risked chance of spending the night in jail provided he could not have obtained release under bond from the mayor or the court. According to Squire Gardner, Mrs. Hand declared Klugh drugged her.

EX-JURY Commissioner Aaron D. Klugh, burgess of Highspire, appeared before Mayor John K. Royal at this afternoon and gave bond in the sum of $1,000 to appear at January quarter sessions on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Emma Hand, wife of William Hand of Highspire.