

LADIES' BAZAAR

A SPECIAL PURCHASE OF Ladies' Fall Suits and Coats Goes in a Sale Tomorrow at Exceptionally Low Prices

Owing to war conditions there's a scarcity in materials for ladies' garments. In view of the inability to get more of these fabrics, certain manufacturers in New York are arranging to close their factories for the present season. To convert as quickly as possible into cash all garments in stock has led them to make some very attractive offers, and our buyer, who has just returned from the markets has brought with him some unusually pretty garments which he picked up at large reductions. They go into a sale to-morrow the same way. Come and profit by the event—it means a substantial saving in your suit or coat purchase.

DECISIVE BATTLE NEAR?

London, Oct. 2, 5:07 A. M.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Times sends this comment on the operations in the eastern war theater: "Colonel Shumsky, the military critic, says that the Germans are hastening to concentrate a mass of troops between Breslau and Cracow in order to advance on the right bank of the Vistula and thus compel the Russians to either evacuate Galicia or to accept a decisive battle."

PATROLMAN SCOTT IS INDICTED FOR MURDER

City Policeman Formally Held by Grand Jury at September Court

HE KILLED NATHAN BANKS

Lingerie Problem Agitates Courtroom No. 2; Other Cases

City Patrolman Robert F. Scott was formally indicted by the September quarter sessions grand jury of Dauphin county today for the murder of Nathaniel Banks, 1119 Monroe street. The trial of Scott, however, will not be started this week and it is quite likely that it, along with the other murder cases, will be considered at a continued session late in October or early in November.

In addition to finding a true bill against Scott the grand jury ignored the bills against the following: Carrie Imler and Blanche Miller, cross-suits, assault and battery; Pava Terdinan, assault and battery.

Most of today's session in No. 1 room before Judge Kunkel was taken up with the trial of Hattie Dutton, charged by H. Meck with having robbed him early one morning in Cowden street in the Eighth ward by slipping her arms about him and lifting his filled wallet from his hip pocket. Other cases disposed of included: Lester Woodson, assault and battery, accepting money from woman of questionable character, nine months; Emma Adley, acquitter; Charles Roberts, assault and battery, nine months.

Before Judge McCarroll Mrs. Charles Krebs and Mrs. George Krebs were defendant and prosecutor, respectively, over the legal question as to whether they had "just swapped" lingerie or whether the former had stolen some lace things from her sister-in-law.

700,000 Face Starvation in Capital of Belgium

London, Oct. 2, 1:55 P. M.—Seven hundred thousand persons in Brussels are facing starvation, according to Hugo Gibson, the secretary of the American embassy there, who is now in the city.

The supply of flour in the Belgian capital will be exhausted in a few days and other staples are virtually all consumed. The last apportionment of flour to the citizens of Brussels will be given out this afternoon.

Efforts to get food in from Antwerp failed. As Brussels is in charge of the Germans, it is in effect German territory. Neutral nations could not undertake a supply of food to Brussels, even if transportation facilities were not practically cut off because of military operations.

VARIED HONEYMOON HAS HAPPY ENDING

Elopement Includes Railroad, Row Boat, Automobile and Hiking Trips; Final Forgiveness

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stimeling, 20 and 15, respectively, newlyweds of a day, are home again with father—the bride's father, that is—after a really varied honeymoon.

They enjoyed their two-day wedding trip via railroad train, rowboat, automobile and afoot. The story of the wedding (it was really an elopement) and the return is brief. Here it is:

The bride is the daughter of William Pitting, a trusted teamster of the Lokar Lumber Company. Stimeling was an employe of the same firm. For quite some time William and Mary had had an understanding; by Tuesday evening they decided to settle the matter. Anxious parents who thought only of daughter's age, notified the District Attorney's office when the pair disappeared and County Detective Walters wired Hagerstown to withhold a license. He judged the pair would aim for Hagerstown. They did, and were refused, and they went on to Frederick. And so they were married.

The groom was penniless then, such contingency as the extra fares for wife and self to Frederick had not been accounted for. The worried groom bethought himself of a sister at Selinsgrove and set out for that place. He had only enough to pay for tickets as far as Herndon. To Herndon they went—and then crossed to Port Trevorton by rowboat, and then started to walk the seven miles to Selinsgrove.

And there they were located last evening by the county detective, the overjoyed, forgiving father, and Mr. Hagar, the lumberman, in whose car the return trip to Harrisburg was made.

Germans Deny Story of Mme. Patti's Sufferings

Rome, Oct. 2, via Paris, 7:55 A. M.—According to information reaching Rome, the German authorities have given official denial to the story sent out from Paris a fortnight ago that Adelina Patti suffered from insanity on leaving Carlsbad.

This official statement declares that the famous singer did not need the protection of troops against the ill-will of the Carlsbad mob. A special train was put at the disposal of Mme. Patti and other illustrious foreigners and the mayor of Carlsbad had them farewelled. There was a demonstration at Carlsbad, but it was directed against several French cooks who had given provocation.

Concerning a quick-firing gun to which Mme. Patti is said to have made reference, the German authorities declare they think she must have been confused about photographic apparatus before which she posed.

Correspondent Describes Attack on Antwerp Ports

London, Oct. 2, 3:17 A. M.—In describing the attack of the Germans on Antwerp the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, writing from Antwerp under date of Thursday noon, says:

"From the top of a gas tank at Hoken (three miles southwest of Antwerp) last night was witnessed a scene of squalor and horror. The line of attack on the city was defined in the clear night air very sharply by flashes of the enemy's great siege guns. Similarly the line of defense was shown in points of light which flashed the night from the Belgian forts. It was almost possible occasionally to see the effect of the falling shells.

"The artillery duel continued throughout the night. The German fire seemed to be directed chiefly toward emptying the outlying villages and every road into Antwerp was choked with refugees."
