BIG LEAGUE SEASON WINDS UP TOMORROW. Teams Will Not Have Long Rest Prior to Opening of World's Series on Friday. Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Major league teams will wind up their season's work to-day and to-morrow. For the first time in several seasons there will be no long rest for the teams competing in the world's series. Connie Mack abandoned his plan of having a double-header yesterday and no bout to-day. He wants the masters of baseball to be able to have stiff opposition as late as possible, so one game will be played to-day and the season will close to-morrow with another. The tall tutor denied that the Braves would do any practicing at Shibe Park. The plan was impracticable, for the Mackmen need the use of their field themselves. Instead, the Braves will get on edge for the series at Broad and Huntingdon streets, the home of the Phillies. Boston's season ends this afternoon in Brooklyn. Immediately after the game the team will come to Philadelphia. They will have to-morrow and Thursday to put the finishing touches on their training. As secret as the practice held at Yale a week before the game with Harvard was the drill at Shibe Park yesterday. Under the direction of Mack, Thomas and Davis, the regulars had two solid hours of work. Plays that they expect to use against the Braves were carefully rehearsed.

RISE OF BRAVES BRIEFLY RECORDED. On July 6 the Boston Braves, in last place, had won twenty-six games and lost forty. Then began the wonderful winning streak that finally put the Stallings team on top. Since the above date the Braves have won fifty-nine games and lost sixteen, a percentage of .784. They climbed out of the cellar on July 19 and got into sixth place on July 20. A day later they were fourth, where they remained until August 10. They were second that day, but dropped back to third position on August 11. The next day found the Braves second, and they clung to that notch until August 23, when they tied the Giants for first position. The Giants forged ahead on August 24 and kept the lead until September 2, when the Braves passed them, only to fall back until September 5, tying McGraw's men once more. On September 8 Stallings' men assumed a lead which they have been increasing ever since.

Only Yale Lineman Sure of His Position. Capt. Talbot, of the Yale football eleven who, according to Coach Hinkley, of the Elis, is the only man on the line who is sure of his position. In Yale's first game of the season the back field played perfectly, but the line work was of a low order. Talbot was a tower of strength and it is around this veteran Hinkley plans to build an entirely new line.

OPINIONS ON THE SERIES FROM MEN IN BASEBALL. Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—President Johnson, of the American League, boldly predicts that the Athletics will win the first four games. Hank O'Day, manager of the Cubs, expresses himself in a similar vein, believing that the Braves are too weak with the stick. Clark Griffith, of the Washingtons, on the other hand, says that the Braves will surprise the Mackmen with their aggressiveness, speed and inside methods. Ty Cobb and John McGraw announce that the Braves have an even chance. President Baker, of the Phillies, says he hopes the Braves will be successful, but he fears they will lack the necessary experience and batting strength. Governor Tener, president of the National League, has unbounded faith in the Beaneaters. MAN HURT IN RUNAWAY.
