Firemen Show Their Affection For Kunkel

Visiting and local firemen showed again last evening how much they esteem President Judge George Kunkel when the Moyamensing Hook and Ladder Company, of Chester, the guests of the Rolly Hose, their band and a number of members of the hose company called around at the judge's residence to tender the jurist a little reception and serenade.

The serenade was a return compliment to Judge Kunkel, who visited the Rolly Hose house Tuesday evening upon special invitation of the company. The judge got his first intimation that he was due for some visiting 'round when Jury Commissioner Edward Dapp, an officer of the Rolly, called at his home for a motor car and took him to the hose house. There the host and guest companies enthusiastically received the judge and promptly pressed him into service, much to the court's surprise, to formally present a handsome banner to the Rolly company on behalf of the wives and sweethearts.

After a brief visit to the Rolly Hose house Judge Kunkel, in company with Mr. Dapp, made a little call at the Hope and the Good Will firehouses in response to invitations.

Colwyn Fire Company Attracts Much Attention

The apparatus and marching order of the Colwyn Fire Company, No. 1, which is the most modern in Delaware county, attracted much favorable comment during the parade. This company had seventy-five men, headed by the Franklin Band of Philadelphia, in line.

With them was the old Merion hose carriage, built in 1856. The Colwyn company was organized in 1903. It had twenty-five members, met in an old barn, had a small reel and a few hundred feet of hose. Now they are building a $10,000 home, have a five-ton fire truck which is equipped with two thirty-five-gallon tanks, carries 1,000 feet of hose, hooks and ladders, and in, in addition, capable of carrying thirty-five men.

Officers of this organization are: President, Samuel McAllister; vice-presidents, Harry Woodruff and William F. Hasselberg; secretary, Philip R. K. Martin; principal secretary, George H. Humphries; treasurer, Frank C. Bullock; chief Harry Woodruff; foreman, Walter Sobbe; assistant foreman, William C. Shinn; directors, George Drewers, W. F. Hasselberg, R. Lee, L. B. Vassel, S. W. Waterman, P. Hauseman and Peter J. Lishe.

"Paxties," "Washes," "Suskies" and Guests Serenade Judge Kunkel

Three of Harrisburg's crack fire companies, the Paxton, Washington and Susquehanna, with all their guests and several bands, marched to President Judge George Kunkel's North Front street residence for the night-noon to-day and tendered the candidate for the Supreme Court Bench of Pennsylvania a most impressive and a very fine serenade.

The visiting firemen had expressed their desire to see Judge Kunkel, and the candidate for the Supreme Court Bench, had expressed a desire to see Judge Kunkel.

The Paxton Company and its guests marched down to Cameron street and from there up to the judge's residence. The Washington Fire Company and its guests marched down to the lower end of the street and from there up to the judge's residence. The Susquehanna Fire Company and its guests marched down to the lower end of the street and from there up to the judge's residence.

The President Judge was more than surprised, but arose smilingly to the serenade and returned the guests an appreciation to the guests and hosts in a neat little speech in answer to the salutes. He then invited the visiting companies to the front of his residence. From there the parade went up to Judge Kunkel's home.

Fires and Firemen of Days Gone by Will Be Historical Society Theme

Fires and firemen of years gone by will be the theme of the principal paper to be presented before the Dauphin County Historical Society at its meeting to-night in the organization's quarters at 9 South Front street. The paper will be entitled "Fires and Firemen" and "Some Old-Time Fire-Fighters" and "Some Old-Time Fire-Fighters." The first paper of an interesting series on Dauphin county's historic sites will be read by Dr. Hugh Hamilton.

Thousands Attend Balls Held For the Firemen

The three balls held in this city last night were largely attended. In the Chestnut Street Hall a ball was given in honor of visiting delegates and their wives. Preceding the opening, Mrs. Samuel S. Smith, of Norristown, the retiring president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the State association, was presented with a glass memento set by members of the association. The Mummies' Association had charge of the dance in Winderdale Hall. The City Grays' Armory the Hope Fire Company entertained its guests.

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR STOMACH

If it's Upset Mi-o-na Puts It Right and Ends Distress or Nothing to Pay

If you are one of the thousands who cannot eat a simple meal without out-lying in the stomach like lead, fermenting and causing painful distress, sourness and gas, do not delay but go at once to your druggist and get some Mi-o-na—a simple prescription especially prepared to quickly and effectively end indigestion or dyspepsia, and correct bad stomachs.

You must not allow your upset stomach to go from bad to worse, for there will surely be longer periods of food fermentation causing greater agony, more gas, sick headache, unrefreshing sleep, "blue spells," and nervousness.

If your stomach is out of order, feels badly after meals, you must put it right. A few Mi-o-na tablets are just what you need—always keep them handy—they are small, pleasant to take, and absolutely harmless. Use Mi-o-na freely at the first sign of distress. It not only quickly ends the misery but helps to unclench the liver, cleanse and strengthen the stomach so it can digest your food in the natural way, then you are well, hale and hearty.

Mi-o-na is not only one of the most active remedies but inexpensive. H. C. Kennedy sells it with agreement to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.—Advertisement.

An Unfortunate Policy

[From the Altoona Tribune.]

The Tribune has received a communication from one of the oldest and best known citizens of this county upon a subject which has attracted considerable attention during the last few days. As the letter exactly expresses the views of this newspaper we present it in this place, as follows:

To the Editor of the Tribune: Some time ago some representatives of the Anti-Saloon League met in Harrisburg and endorsed Mr. McCormick for Governor and advised the temperance people, regardless of party affiliations, to give him their support, which course means to elect him and vote for him. The editor of the American issue, the organ of the league, under date of September 25, in showing up the angle traits in the character of Mr. McCormick, took occasion to belittle Dr. Brumbaugh, the candidate of the Republican party.

The whole proceeding is certainly unfortunate and savors strongly of scheming to foist a favorite into office, rather than a moral to the skies by pulling an angel down. It is unfortunate, first, because the signs of the times indicate the return of the Republican party to power. If this proves to be the case on November 3, the league people will have the embarrassment of asking favors from the men that they used all their might to defeat, and they will be especially humiliated when it is remembered that the man they tried to defeat pledged himself just as strongly for temperance legislation as his opponent.

Second, the record of the Democratic party on the temperance question is not such as to recommend it to the serious consideration of devoted temperance workers.

Third, it is a direct insult to ask men who from honest conviction cannot approve of the principles of the Democratic party to turn over and support it in order to execute legislation in the interest of temperance, when they firmly believe that the cause can be better subserved in a party that means protection to trade and prosperity in business and set up a man as a candidate whose ability, honesty, integrity and purity cannot be assailed.

Fourth, the league men have by the right cause of temperance that has caused us so much anxiety, is now bleeding in the house of its friends.

It is hard for them to kick against the pricks. It is poor policy to try to win in a great issue like the one now before us by throwing dirt at Dr. Brumbaugh. He cannot be defeated. And when he is elected we will have a man in the highest office of our State who is a tower of strength in the interest of all that goes to make the world better. His life is good, his record is clean, his platform is declared, and his election will be no mistake.

JAMES A. SELL, Hollidaysburg, Pa., October 1, 1914.

After the candidates for Governor, who are supposed to represent the chief parties in the State had publicly announced their adherence to the principle of local option the wise course for the Anti-Saloon League to pursue would have been to devote its special attention to the candidates for State Senator and members of the lower house of the Legislature. It might have accepted the public declarations of the gubernatorial candidates and bided itself about the general assembly. For no Governor can sign a local option bill until it has passed both branches of the general assembly and unless the advocates of local option secure a majority in both houses the Governor will have no bill before him. Why waste effort in boomeranging the hopeless candidacy of Mr. McCormick and allowing the legislative fight in more than half the districts of the State to go by default? That is not what the people who support the Anti-Saloon League pay their money for. The identity of the coming Governor is not a matter of any moment, so far as the local option fight is concerned; the legislative battle is the supreme concern. And yet the managers of the Anti-Saloon League are devoting their energies to the hopeless task of electing Mr. McCormick and allowing the chief matter to take care of itself.

General Smith-Dorrien, Great Britain's new military hero, is here shown with his staff. In the photograph he is standing at the left looking over maps of the country through which he was fighting. The photograph was taken while the British were retreating with the French from Belgium toward Paris.

WAR BULLETINS

London, Oct. 8, 3:51 A. M.—A dispatch to the Mail from Harwick describing the return to that port of submarine E-9 says that flaunting from her periscope are two flags, one bearing a death head and cross bones on a yellow field for sinking the German cruiser Hela, and one for the destruction yesterday of the German destroyer.

London, Oct. 8, 5:07 A. M.—The Times correspondent in Belgium describing the reinforcement of the German right wing says that on Monday morning some 5,000 troops arrived and took up a position three miles east of Roubais, where they diverting about one-half of them going in the direction of Lunberg, the remainder toward Arrmenteres.

Berlin, Monday, Oct. 5.—According to the latest dispatch reaching here from (name deleted by censor but probably some place in France) frontal attacks have proved so costly in lives to both sides that they have been deferred. The antagonists are awaiting the results of flanking movements which propose greater effect with fewer casualties.

London, Oct. 8, 4:43 A. M.—The Germans succeeded in crossing the river Neth early on Tuesday according to the Times correspondent in Antwerp telegraphing under date of Tuesday night.

Petrograd, Oct. 7.—The Russian general staff in statement concerning the claims of the German general staff that the battle of Augustowo and Suwalki were decisive German victories, says in refutation of that claim that it is necessary only to point to the "hasty retreat of the Germans from Memel and the Boser river toward the East Prussian frontier which at times assumed the character of a rout with heavy losses to the Germans.

London, Oct. 8, 3:30 A. M.—The Central News quotes the Vienna Reichspost as stating that the command of the Second Bavarian Field Artillery, was killed in action on September 26. It has just become known here.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 8, 5:30 A. M.—Major General Augustus Zelman, commander of the Second Bavarian Field Artillery, was killed in action on September 26. It has just become known here.

London, Oct. 8, 6:32 A. M.—A dispatch from Ostend to the Reuter Telegram Company dated Wednesday says: "The Belgian troops to-day victoriously repelled the German attempts to cross the river Scheldt at Schoonaerde near Termonde. The enemy was compelled to retire with considerable losses."

London, Oct. 8, 4:43 A. M.—The correspondent of the Times at Rotterdam confirms the report that there are 100,000 fugitives from Antwerp in Holland.

Amsterdam, via London, Oct. 8, 2:21 A. M.—The Handelsblad learns from Antwerp that the commander of the German forces investing that city announced at 1 o'clock Wednesday that the bombardment would begin at 3 o'clock Thursday morning unless the city surrendered.

Antwerp, Oct. 7, 9 A. M. via The Hague, Oct. 8, 2 A. M., and via London, 7:30 A. M.—The unexpected fierceness of the German attack on Antwerp which it is reported, is being made by city army corps has given rise to the opinion among the higher military officers here that Germany intends to establish a second line of defense, running from Antwerp to Brussels, Namur and Metz.

London, Oct. 8, 5:20 A. M.—An official statement given out in Antwerp last night and telegraphed here by the Reuter Telegram Company's correspondent says: "A very violent engagement was fought on Antwerp to-day. The situation is unchanged."

FATE OF BELGIAN ARMY IN BALANCE

that these structures, if spared, will not be utilized in the desperate defense that the garrison is expected to make.

If the city falls the Belgian army will have the alternative, barring surrender, of attempting to fight its way through a German infested country in order to effect a juncture with the allies or of retreating into Holland, there to be interned until the war ends. The latter course would eliminate Belgium as a factor in the great struggle. For days Antwerp has been holding out in the hope that the left wing of the allies would swing around in time to save the city. Recent reports from the battle line have made it plain that success from this source was extremely doubtful.

It is believed that the bombardment of Antwerp began to-day after a demand for the surrender of the city had been refused.

Little change on the battle line in the north of France is indicated in the afternoon statement of the French intelligence. It says that on the French left wing the Germans have made no progress, while at certain points they have moved back. On the right wing there is no change, it is said. The situation on the center remains much the same. Violent attacks in the Woivre district have been repulsed, it is stated, but no details of the fighting were given.

According to the French statement, the rush offensive continues along the Russian offensive continues along the front of East Prussia.

Without dispatch from Berlin says that the German general staff report that a British and Japanese attack upon Tsing-Tau have been repulsed.

Tokio announces officially that the German fleet is not led to any decision. The Japanese government, says a dispatch from Tokio, has issued no public statement regarding the taking of the German island of Jaitu, in the Pacific, but the officials explain that Japan's assurance that she does not seek territorial aggrandisement must not be interpreted as meaning that she will not take steps for the protection of commerce.

REFUGEES IN SAD PLIGHT

By Associated Press

London, Oct. 8, 9:55 a. m.—The Hague correspondent of the Express says that South Holland is literally swamped with refugees from Antwerp and describes terrible scenes of desolation and despair among the thousands of Belgians on the road between Easchen and Rosendaal. At the Rosendaal station, the correspondent says, hundred lost everything in their flight.

"GETS-IT," 2 Drops, Corn Vanishes!

The Only Sure Ender of All Corns

Desperate, are you, over trying to get rid of corns? Quit using old formulas under new names, bandages, winding-tapes and cotton rings that make a fat little package out of your toe. Quit punishing your feet by using toe-eating salves and ointments.

To use "GETS-IT," use scissors and razor, slicing and hacking at a corn, only make it grow faster and bigger. It also brings danger of bleeding and blood poison. The new way, the new principle never known before in corn-history, is "GETS-IT." It's a liquid—2 drops on a corn does the work of a razor. In two seconds, it shrivel and out it comes! You apply it in two seconds. Nothing to stick, nothing to burn and it never falls.

Try "GETS-IT" to-night on corns, callouses, warts or bunions. "GETS-IT" is sold in every drug store everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

"Wilson or War?" We Don't Care For Either

Some of the Democratic managers of town who in their speeches oppose child labor had a dozen or more small boys in the streets of Harrisburg until a late hour last night carrying banners advising voters to support the Democratic ticket. One of the banners bore the question:

"Wilson or War?"

Some wag among the firemen followed the lad about with another banner displaying the reply:

"We Don't Want Either."

HOW I CURED MY EYES

THIS FREE PRESCRIPTION DID IT

"My eyes were in a terrible state; I could hardly stand it. They were red and inflamed; felt as though they had sand in them. They would ache and burn dreadfully and caused incessant headaches. I could hardly read at all. After having used my eyes many times I was told to use this prescription which he said had cured him and since had enabled him to discard his glasses."

If you wear glasses or have eye trouble similar to mine I advise you to have this formula filled at once. H. C. Kennedy or any druggist can fix it up for you. Here it is—

5 Grains Optona (1 tablet)

2 ounces Water

Allow to dissolve, then bathe the eyes by means of an eye cup three to four times daily—oftener if convenient. Just note how quickly your eyes will feel fine. It does not smart or burn, is absolutely harmless and any druggist who knows the formula will tell you that you need not hesitate to use it. If you try it I am sure you will be just as enthusiastic over it as I am. Cut this out so you will always have the prescription.—Advertisement.
