TORONTO VISITORS

The strangers within our gates to-day is a representative delegation of Toronto municipal officials. They have come to Harrisburg, as to other cities, to learn something of municipal management and our way of doing things.

Toronto is about to establish the commission form of government. It is natural that these officials should want to learn everything possible concerning the operation of the new system.

In the last analysis, municipal, State and national government depends not so much upon the system as upon the personnel of those chosen to administer the government.

We trust that our distinguished visitors may have a delightful sojourn here and that they will take away with them a fine impression of one of the most progressive and substantial cities on the Eastern seaboard.

The Wilson administration is nothing if not inconsistent. The printing presses at Washington that are now busy printing "peace postage stamps" are being run overtime in order that they may be ready to run off in the next few weeks a large quantity of Democratic "war tax" stamps.

South calls for help
Those Southern Democrats who were so eager to strike down the protective tariff are now crying for help from every other section of the country because their cotton crop finds no purchasers.

the South, but they seem to have lost sight of the fact that the Northern manufacturers of steel and the producers of wheat and other business men are also in trouble, yet they have not had the nerve to call upon the people of the South to buy a carload of steel rails or a few bushels of wheat to save them from a depressed market.

To be sure, the financial transaction in which the Secretary of the Treasury figured in the interests of his native State of Tennessee has naturally led other Southern statesmen to believe that the national Treasury is a sort of horn of plenty into which all could reach and draw forth a never-ending supply of cash.

It was inevitable that Secretary McAdoo's conduct in the Tennessee loan matter should involve him in all kinds of serious difficulties. The Palmer-Underwood tariff law, however, has caused thousands of business men in the North and West all kinds of trouble and they are now feeling in their own section the same strain that they helped impose upon other parts of the country.

Those hand-picked candidates of the White House who have attempted to drag the religious and temperance organizations of Pennsylvania into a partisan campaign are already realizing their colossal blunder. Instead of responding to their suggestions and preaching sermons for their benefit the preachers and spiritual leaders of the State should unite in an overwhelming protest against this sort of campaign.

GIVING
It is gratifying to note the readiness with which many Harrisburg people of means have responded to the call of the Y. W. C. A. management for assistance in furnishing the handsome and commodious new building at the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets, headed by the generous contribution of a memorial hall by the John Y. Boyd family.

Some funny scenes were witnessed after the close of the final game of the world's series yesterday. One man led another into a cigar store and received a box of fine cigars, while the loser gravely handed to a companion a five-dollar gold piece which he had lost when he bet that he would win his bet.

There may come at least one good thing out of the European conflict—a restoration of the American protective tariff. Already the fallacy of the Democratic theory of free trade has been demonstrated at the cost of all the people. There seems to be no doubt that the protective tariff has been in force at the time of the outbreak in Europe and would not now be experiencing the dire results of Democratic experiment.

THE SUBMARINE
SCORE another for the submarine. This time it is a Russian cruiser that has succumbed to the sting of the little hornet of the sea. It becomes more and more evident that as a weapon of effective warfare the submarine is more to be feared than the much vaunted bomb-dropping aeroplane or Zeppelin.

Even the gnat or mosquito will compel an outburst occasionally. Dr. Brumbaugh may be pardoned for his slap at the buzzing little insects of the opposition.

OUR NEXT GOVERNOR
DR. MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH entered Bedford this week somewhat like a conqueror here. He was on familiar soil. On his way to the county seat he passed through Marklesburg and saw the old home where his father and mother lived, and all along the way hundreds of men boarded the train and accompanied him to Bedford, his personal escort reaching over 800.

England has recently placed an embargo on wool which ought to be an object lesson for the American free traders. The audiences at the Republican meetings throughout the county are larger than ever before. Coming events cast their shadows before.

EVENING CHAT

Probably one of the oddest sights seen in many a day was presented at the scene of the big fire in the Magyar section of Steelton yesterday afternoon and if the numerous people rooting about in the ruins of the four houses did not have divining rods it was because no one had suggested them.

Any headquarters of a Democratic State committee is an interesting place and the headquarters of such a well-lubricated machine as the present Democratic State committee is not only interesting but exciting. The committee has a very competent staff of officials and a chairman who can go wrong in his statements and predictions as often as could be desired by his opponents.

The removal of the decorations used on the streets for the State firemen was watched with interest yesterday by numbers of people and the scientific manner in which the "columns" disappeared and were folded up and carried off impressed everyone. The uniformity of the street decorations and the general attractiveness of the scheme were much commended.

A West Shore man is wondering what on earth possessed a thief to take a box of fine cigars, while the loser gravely handed to a companion a five-dollar gold piece which he had lost when he bet that he would win his bet.

Congressman Aaron S. Kreider has a large family and as he does not get home very often, the wife of the long session of Congress there is a demand for his company by them when he does come home.

John F. Zellers lost his clothes yesterday afternoon. Mr. Zellers works at Enola and bet Joseph N. Disler the clothes he was wearing that the Athletics would win. They didn't. They settled the bet yesterday afternoon at the shops.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

P. J. McArdle, the Pittsburgh councilman, was the toastmaster at the christening of Mrs. Stotesbury's grandson.

County Treasurer Cramer, of Westmoreland, is an ardent fan and attended the world's series game and the general Charles Miller, of Franklin, former commander of the National Guard, is spending some time in eastern states.

Harry M. Hart, of Ambler, has gone to New Brunswick to fish and hunt.

DO YOU KNOW?

That Harrisburg is noted for its boiler plate steel and tank plates?

NOT THE TOOL OF LIQUOR INTERESTS

Whoever doubts Doctor Brumbaugh's position on the temperance question discredits his own intelligence. Doctor Brumbaugh has made his views so plain that no one can misunderstand them. A few weeks ago he explicitly stated that he favored local option, that he would urge the legislature to pass a local option bill, that if it were passed he would sign it, no equivocation, no conditions whatsoever.

STORY OF A BOY

Worked on a farm—then in a saw-mill, and in his father's store. Swept a school for his tuition—rang the bell for his board. Began teaching when 16—County Superintendent when 22. Entered U. of P. a student when 25—became member of U. of P. faculty. Made President of Juniata College—wrote books on education. Appointed by President McKinley as Commissioner of Education of Porto Rico. Elected Superintendent of Philadelphia Schools. Nominated for Governor by the Republicans of Pennsylvania. THAT'S BRUMBAUGH!

Georgia Politics For the Keystone State; Shenk Hands One to Strain

Any headquarters of a Democratic State committee is an interesting place and the headquarters of such a well-lubricated machine as the present Democratic State committee is not only interesting but exciting. The committee has a very competent staff of officials and a chairman who can go wrong in his statements and predictions as often as could be desired by his opponents.

The presence of Mr. Colquitt, who is stated by the national administration to be a well-earned vacation here, helping out a dear friend wherever he can, is another indication of the paternalistic nature of the national administration.

Another gentleman often seen about the windmill of the Democratic State machine is John D. Strain who is secretary of the Independent Republican committee or something like that.

most of his time issuing statements and letters, but thus far he has not made public the names of the men who comprise the committee, for which he works, nor has he indicated whence comes the funds for his propaganda. However, it is apparently well known around the Democratic State headquarters, and could save a lot of time if he would move his desk over there.

Speaking of Strain it is interesting to give a copy of a letter sent to him by H. H. Shenk, of Anville, who was addressed in the interest of the gang headed by Strain.

Well, Boston won the series, which isn't quite the way I'd hoped the tide of battle would turn this year, but say, I've got to hand it to 'em; They played good ball all through And won the coin on merit, Just as they said they'd do.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THEM

[From the Altoona Tribune.] The Republican candidate for Governor did not consult with any political expert when he determined to be a candidate, although there would have been no harm in it had he done so. He prepared a platform and upon that platform he appealed to the Republican rank and file, 253,999 of whom voted for him on primary day. They nominated him. At the same primary both the Democratic and the Progressive parties nominated candidates who had been selected before. The Democratic candidates were named at Washington in a conference wherein the President took part. The Progressive ticket was selected by the bosses of that organization expected to obey the whims of their leaders and vote for the Democratic candidate. There's not much deference to "the people" in that.
