ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP BOY AT PENBROOK

Little Holden Garland Rescued by Pursuer at Herr and Cameron Streets

Special to The Telegraph
 Penbrook, Pa., Oct. 22.—A bold attempt at kidnaping little 6-year-old Holden Garland was made yesterday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock by an unknown man, who offered a ride on a pony as his means of leading the child away. That the attempt was unsuccessful was due to the quick riding of a bicyclist passing through the town, who apprehended the would-be kidnaper at Herr and Eleventh streets, Harrisburg, and recovered the child. The boy, who resides at 3003 Main street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Garland. The father was at work and the mother in the house engaged in housework. The child, in company with several other small boys, was playing near his home when approached by the stranger with the pony. The boys gathered around the pony with thoughts of a ride paramount and little Holden was selected by the man as his victim. When the offer of a ride failed to tempt the child away the stranger pulled out a lollipop and when this five-cent piece brought the desired result. Placing the child on the pony, they went away together. Several women noticed the pair passing down the street, but thought little of it. When the child failed to return at the end of an hour a search was made at a nearby blacksmith shop where they were thought to have gone. No one there knew anything of them and the alarm was spread. The mother called a passing bicyclist and told her trouble. Mounting his wheel, and aided by the reports of men and women along the State road and State street, the pursuit was rapid. Turning the corner at Herr and Cameron streets, the pair were discovered. The child was recovered and returned to his home. The kidnaper in the excitement escaped and no trace has yet been found of him.

GEN. CADWALLADER DIES AT SUNBURY

Burgess and Veteran Had Splendid Military Record During Civil War

Special to The Telegraph
 Sunbury, Pa., Oct. 22.—General George B. Cadwallader, 84 years old, died at his home here yesterday afternoon of the infirmities of age. He was twice burgess of Sunbury and a Civil War veteran. In early life he was graduated from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and conducted drug stores at Danville and Shamokin, until the Civil War broke out. In April, 1861, he entered the Union army and for five years served with a notable record, becoming first lieutenant of Company A, First Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and after three months' service was mustered out and re-enlisted with the same rank in Company K, Forty-sixth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. On September 17, 1861, he became first lieutenant and quartermaster of his regiment, serving until July, 1863, when he was advanced to captain and assistant regimental quartermaster. He was breveted major and lieutenant-colonel and subsequently won the rank of colonel, with which rank he was mustered out at Richmond, Va., in 1866. He served as quartermaster of Williams' Brigade, Army of Virginia, and of the Army of the Potomac, and was in charge of transportation when Sherman made his famous march to the sea. General Cadwallader, besides being twice burgess, was active in many business enterprises, in the Free Masons, the volunteers fire department and a member of the exclusive Sunbury Grouse Club. Two daughters, Mrs. Simon P. Wolverton and Miss Mary C. Cadwallader, survive.

SAYS COFFEE DRINKERS HAVE REAL DRUG HABIT

Physician Declares Food Value Is Nil and People Use It Only for Stimulation
 That many people are slaves to tea and coffee appears from a statement of Dr. C. J. Douglass, of Dorchester, Mass. "They do not distinguish the difference between drugs and food in their effect on the system. There is no substitute for an enervating drug. When the effect of one dose has worn off, another dose of the same drug, must be taken, or discomfort follows, but if nutrition is wanted, a hundred different foods will supply the demand with equally satisfactory results. Tea and coffee are never taken because of any small nutritive element they may contain. Some drink them in small quantities merely because the taste is agreeable, or to wash down solid food. On the other hand, if a sufficient quantity is habitually taken, so that when they are discontinued, uncomfortable symptoms follow, then it is evident that a drug habit has been formed. If, for example, a person habitually drinks so much coffee for breakfast that on omitting it he misses something during the forenoon, he must be set down as an excessive coffee drinker. He is relying on the stimulation of the drug, caffeine, and the daily use of any drug for such a purpose is injurious. NOTE.—The food-drink INSTANT POSTUM while much resembling the higher grades of Java coffee in flavor and appearance is absolutely free from the coffee drugs 'caffeine' and 'tannin' or any other harmful ingredient. Recent decrease in coffee sales is very generally attributed to the growing American custom of using Postum as a table beverage instead of coffee.—Advertisement.

Grand Opera Stars Choose TUXEDO

The Favorite Tobacco of the World's Best Singers

THE world's great singers, the bright stars of grand opera, must have confidence in the tobacco they smoke, must choose a tobacco that has no harmful effect on their throats.

Leading singers at the Metropolitan Opera House during the current season—Slezak, Jörn, Gilly, Didur, Griswold, Witherpoon—find Tuxedo the one tobacco they can smoke with thorough enjoyment and absolute safety.

LEO SLEZAK
 "Tuxedo means tobacco superiority. It easily holds first place in my opinion on account of its wonderful mildness and fragrance."

KARL JÖRN
 "Tuxedo is the ideal smoke in my opinion. If you find your energy sagging, try a pipeful of Tuxedo. It's a wonderful bracer."

DINAH GILLY
 "Pipe smoking gives added pleasure when the pipe is filled with Tuxedo. Tuxedo provides more keen enjoyment than any other tobacco I know."
