DR. BRUMBAUGH IN FAYETTE OVATION

Republican Candidate Gets a Notable Reception From the Coke County's Voters

For County Local Option as Plainly as He Can Say It; Thousands Cheer Him

Fayette county showed it was for Dr. Brumbaugh, because he is four square, in a series of rousing meetings yesterday and by a grand rally in Uniontown last night. To-day Dr. Brumbaugh went into Allegheny county and will make a dozen addresses. A dispatch from Uniontown says: 'In this industrial center, Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican nominee for Governor, met with the largest reception he has received in any county, the day's tour of the section ending here to-night with a big industrial parade, a large meeting at the Opera House and a big overflow gathering in front of the McClelland Hotel. The candidates delivered addresses at both meetings. Five thousand men were in line in the parade which formed at 7 o'clock and passed through the principal streets for an hour before going to the meeting. Twenty special trolley cars brought delegations from the outlying districts to participate in the parade or attend the meeting. Streets in the central part of the town were almost impassable before 7 o'clock. Red fire burned everywhere; eighteen bands played on corners before the time set for the parade to begin. It was not a crowd of merrymakers, however, but serious men who have felt the effects of the Democratic tariff and are anxious to have prosperity return again with a Republican administration. Importance of keeping body well nourished

In time of war, the greatest effort is always made toward cutting off the enemy's base of supplies. It is the well-nourished people who fight the strongest and live the longest and contribute most to human progress. Is your stomach doing its duty—does it convert food into good blood and tissue?

Ten Reasons For Not Being a Christian

No. 1-The Church Is Full of Hypocrites

Do you mean to say that the Church teaches, stands for, hypocrisy? Was it not denounced in unsparing terms by Jesus Christ? And do not His true followers now leathe it? You single out the Church; has it a monopoly of hypocrisy? Is there none in society, in business, in polities, in the lodge? Do you refuse to connect yourself with any or all of these, because there are some hypocrites in them? No? Then why single out the Church?

Not Then why single out the Church?

If you hate bypocrites so, why do you plan to spend eternity with

No. 2—The Church Is Cold and Selfish

The pity is that here and there an exclusive social club masquer-ades as a church, and that an occasional "deadwood" Christian is as cold and selfish as an outsider!

is as cold and seinsh as an outsider;
As a whole, next to the family, the Christian Church is the strongest social ite in the world.

The Church stands for sympathy, kindness, helpfulness; where these are lacking its fundamental principles are violated.
One word more; when you attended church did you make it easy for shy, timid Christians to be sociable with you?

No. 3—I Am as Good as Any of Your Church

Why are you decent, respectable, law-abiding, moral? To keep your own self respect and to win and hold the respect of the people about you?

A purely selfish motive.

The true Christian lives an outwardly worthy life, and, in addition, a devout, prayerful, godly inward life that pleases God, whom you ignore and repudiate. The moral and spiritual distance between your selfish "good" life and your nelghbor's god-fearing "good" life is infinite.

No. 4-I Don't Need Religion; I Am Strong Enough Without It!

A bold saying! "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fail."

You say to God, "I do not need Thee: I can paddle my own canoe!"
You secede from God's great moral universe and set up a little universe of your own, in which you are your own god!
That has been tried a million times and has always failed.
Suddenly passion snatches the reins of impulse, or calamity reveals your lack of power to help yourself, and your life falls into inextricable ruip.

No. 5-Religion Is For Women and Children!

So you assume men have no souls!

Moses was a man; David, the royal Psalmist, was a man, and a pretty red-blooded one, too.
Jeaus Christ was a man—and a man's man at that!

The Prophets were men; the Apostles were men; the great Christians who shaped the history of civilized nations and moided the souls of untold millions were men!

Christianity is pre-eminently a man's religion, but not a religion that draws brutal, animal, vile men. Its teachings, ideals, purposes, tasks, problems—all appeal to that which is manliest in men.

No. 6—I Have Doubts About the Truth of Christianity

What kind of doubts? Are you really overwhelmed by the complex problems of this strange world? Or are your doubts just picked up as children pick up measles or whooping cough? Or do they grow out of your fixed prejudice against religion and its requirements?

The presumption is against your doubts having any valid basis, for the mightlest intellects of the world, men like Gladstone, Roosevelt, President Wilson, have faced them and set them aside.

The best cure for harassing doubts is surrender to Jesus Christ.

"If my man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine whether it be of God."

No. 7-I Am Young Yet I Want My Fling First!

You want to make life a joy ride, and when you have smashed the machine, you'll try and sneak out of the consequences! For the sake of occasional nervous "thrilis," you'll lay on your children and children's children the curse of broken vitality, vicious tendencies and weakened wills.

In ordinary life such a man would be called a cad and a "cheap skate."

No. 8—I Tried to Be a Christian Once and Failed!

Poor fellow! You got eareless, neglected the means of grace, your old associates gathered about you again, and down you tumbled, AND YOU HAVE STAYED DOWN!

When you were a year-old-baby you tumbled down a hundred times a day; you cried and whimpered a little, BUT FOU ALWAYS GOT UP AGAIN! Only poor idlot bables do not try again, and they never learn to walk.

When you fail in other matters, do you always quit! If not, why be a "quitter" in religion only!

No. 9-My Clothes Are Not Good Enough to Go to small pebble to trip over, but thousands are doing it, right here in Harrisburg! It is a case of pride! Not large, noble pride, but the petty pride born to vanity. The house of God as a place where people compete in clothes and millinery! Lose blessed influences that would train and keep one's children for the sake of clothes! Lose one's soul rather than humble one's pride a little! The tragedy of the situation is that clothes do not count with real Christians—and the rest do not matter! Real Christian churches have a warm welcome and help for those in poor circumstances.

No. 10—I Am Not Fit to Be a Christian!

That's the only valid reason in the bunch! But you do not need to be fit—Jeaus Christ supplies the fitness. The greater your sin, the greater your need and the greater Christ's anxiety to save you. "All the fitness He requireth is to feel you need of Him."

"THE ROUND-UP"

"The ROUND-UP"

"The Round-Up" is a play with the bigness of all outdoors. So adroitly is it handled that it is about as untearlie as a dramatic production can well be. With its stirring scenes before him the spectator loses sight of the fact that he is inside the four walls of the theater. The great Far West is magically transferred to city doors and the blood is set tingling with all one sees and hears. The plains, the mountains and canyons have an irresistible fascination for everyone. In "The Round-Up" the bracing, vigorous atmosphere of life in the open is preserved with startling fidelity and truth.

"FRECKLES"

"FRECKLES"

"Freckles" may appear a queer, title for either book or play, but when one has read the story and learned the signification of the cognomen, it seems peculiarly opposite. In "Freckles" is developed a charming little romance, full of the vigor and freshness of out-of-door life. It takes the auditor away from the trite, hackneyed scenes of ordinary fiction to a region where elementary passions and sentiment are portrayed in frank speech and action. The cast which is to appear at the Majestic, Thursday, matinee and night, comes highly praised, and the scenic equipment will be entirely adequate.
