

STEELTON DEFEATS CENTRAL 14 TO 0

Outplay Blue and Gray, Scoring Early and Late; Gardner and Rote Stars

Playing all around Central High on Saturday, Steelton High won, score 14 to 0.

The work of Steelton throughout the game showed Central woefully lacking in "football brains." The only man on the Central team who played the game was Rote.

In the opinion of a large majority of the 1,500 spectators at Saturday's game, it was the best scholastic game played at Island Park in a long time. With Gardner and Dayhoff ploughing through Central's line, and making fast runs around the ends for big gains, evidence of Central's weakness were shown early.

Bucking a Stone Wall

Steelton offered a stone wall to Central's rushes and their men wrecked every play Central tried. The old-time ginger on the part of Central was missing. That push needed back of a play when it started, to make it count, was lacking. The Central crew moved slowly and lacked united efforts. Steelton had twenty-one first downs to Central's two.

As a result of the hard fight made by Rote, he will be out of the game for a time with a bad shoulder. Bingham, too, has a badly sprained tendon, and Smeltzer will be under the care of a dentist for several weeks.

All the honors due Steelton were given. The Central crowd after the game gave Steelton three rousing cheers.

How Steelton Scored

Steelton scored early in the game and a short time previous to the final whistle. In the first quarter Steelton made four downs and kicked. Rote failed to make any gain. Gardner got the ball when Central was obliged to kick.

Dayhoff went through center for five yards, but on the next play failed to gain. A forward pass failed, and Gardner took the ball for twenty yards. Dayhoff followed with ten more. Gardner took the ball through center for a first down. On two left end plays Dayhoff made ten and two yards and Central held Steelton on the next play. Dayhoff again took the ball four yards for another first down. Gardner went over the line for a touchdown on the next play, and Norris kicked the goal.

Gardner Scores Again

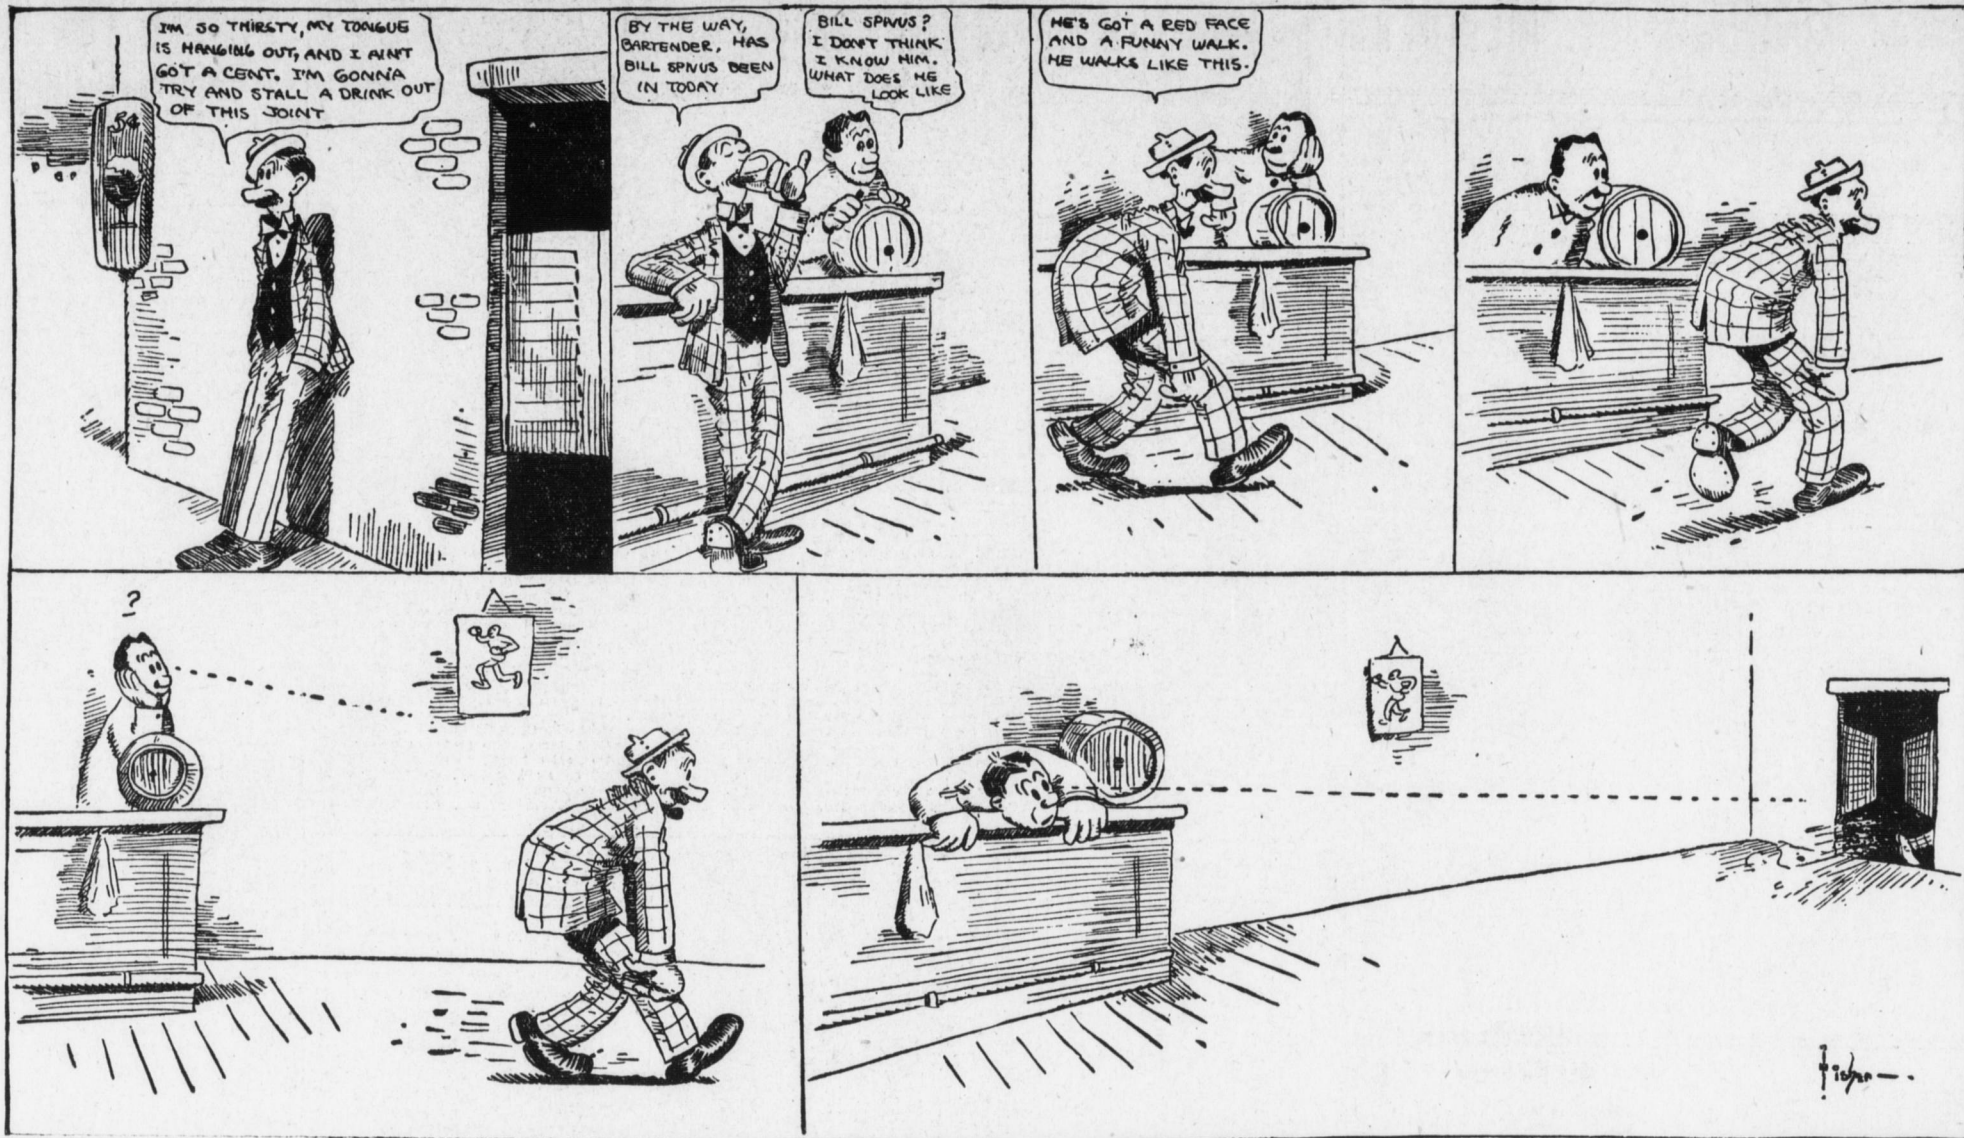

In the last quarter Steelton made large gains. Central had a spurt but moved the ball a short distance and lost it on downs. Houtz intercepted a forward pass and Central took the ball on their 35-yard line. Bingham made ten yards for a first down, and Smeltzer went through center for three more. Central lost the ball on downs. Steelton pulled off their first trick play, spreading out to the right and passing the ball to the left. Dayhoff made a first down and Gardner zig-zagged around the end and made another touchdown, going ten yards. Norris kicked the goal.

L. V. WALKS AWAY WITH GETTYSBURG

After 20 Years! Wheelock, Indian, Is Big Star of the Contest

Special to The Telegraph
Annapolis, Pa., Oct. 26. — Winning from Gettysburg on Saturday, score 24 to 9, Lebanon Valley college reached the goal of a twenty-year ambition.

Landing a victory over Gettysburg gives Lebanon Valley the unquestioned right to be considered as an important factor in making up this season's college football honors.

Previous to Saturday's game Gettysburg has been in the limelight, winning many battles and holding down the big colleges to low scores. Lebanon Valley's victory, in the opinion of many, gives the Annapolis aggression the right to be considered in the make-up of the schedules of the big colleges next season.

Wheelock personally conducted his team to victory. The Indian was all over the field, running with the ball and tackling. His open-field running was the best seen on Gettysburg's field for many years. He scored two touchdowns virtually unaided and was largely responsible for the third. Every variety of scoring was in evidence. Each team scored by a touchdown. Snively kicked one goal after touchdown and a goal from placement. Hoar drop-kicked the ball between the uprights. A low pass caused Stratton to be tackled behind the goal line and a safety resulted.

The Gettysburg team gave the worst exhibition of tackling seen for a long time. Its offense, too, was ragged and ineffective. Only for five minutes at the beginning of the second half did the team strike its form. In that time a 15-yard run by Stratton, followed by a forward pass, Stony to Turnbill, resulted in a touchdown. Immediately afterward a fine forward pass for 40 yards, Hoar to Scheffer, gave Hoar opportunity to drop the ball over.

CAPTAINS OF MICHIGAN AND HARVARD FOOTBALL TEAMS

These will be the leaders of the football teams of Michigan and Harvard universities when they clash at Cambridge, October 31, in a gridiron battle which promises to become one of the most interesting and important in the country. Never before has Harvard consented to play a first-class western university, and this may be the opening for general games between the eastern and western universities. Only in this way will an American championship be established. But Harvard has not consented to play a return game in Michigan next year.

Umpire, Liebig, Gettysburg. Time of quarters, 12 minutes.

HYGIENIC A. C. WINS OVER CARLISLE TIGERS
The Hygienic A. C., the crack colored team from Steelton, defeated the popular Carlisle Tigers at Carlisle Saturday by the overwhelming score of 43 to 0. The forward passing and line plunging of the Steelton backs were the features of the game. Line-up:

Tech Loses Battle to Western Champs
Tech lost by a score of 33 to 0 at Greensburg on Saturday. Tech started preparations to-day to overcome certain of the weak spots which were brought to the surface by the Greensburg eleven.

In the opinion of Percy L. Grubb, athletic director, and Coach D. Forrest Dunkle, Tech's team played like third-raters Saturday afternoon. The Western champions had more weight and they moved fast on every play. During the first quarter Greensburg played a cautious game, feeling Tech out on their principal plays.

In the second half, Greensburg appeared to have all the knowledge they needed and went after Tech with hammer and tongs, running up a decisive score. Greensburg worked the forward pass successfully for large gains.

VEGETABLES VS. BEEF AS DIET FOR BOXERS

Lightweight Men, Welsh and Wolgast, to Decide an Important Question Next Week

Special to The Telegraph
New York, Oct. 26.—Freddy Welsh, champion lightweight boxer, will meet Ad Wolgast, former champion, in Madison Square Garden one week from to-night.

It will be a battle not only between the two greatest 135-pound men in the world to-day, but will be a battle between vegetables and beef. Welsh is a strict vegetarian and Wolgast is an exponent of the beef diet.

Both are fine physical specimens of young manhood. Both are strong and rugged. Welsh has been a vegetarian for the last ten years. Wolgast has been a beef eater all his life. Welsh claims that any man who eats meat loses vitality and is a slugard mentally and physically.

Wolgast claims that a man who adheres strictly to a vegetable diet becomes weak and cannot do full justice to himself. He claims that all great men of the past and present were meat eaters.

Wolfgast, believing that he had a hard task before him, accepted the advice of his friends to eat meat. They told him that should this he would gain strength and vigor.

BOOKS and MAGAZINES
The Witch, by Mary Johnston, Houghton Mifflin Company, Boston, publishers, $1.40. The author has achieved some remarkable successes with "To Have and to Hold," "Lewis Rand," "Audrey" and others.
The story opens in the death chamber of Queen Elizabeth, and with that uncanny power of historic resurrection of which Miss Johnston is master, the reader is made to feel the great issues that are hanging in the balance—issues of thought and faith within England itself, issues of imperialistic destiny in the great countries overseas which the daring queen's sailor adventurers have discovered and exploited.
The two chief characters are Joan Heron, a beautiful girl of strong, original nature, and Dr. Aderhold, a thinker in advance of his time, and suspected of atheism and sorcery. As the plot develops, not only is Aderhold suspected of unholty practices in the black art, but Joan is accused of witchcraft. They are arrested, and tried together. At the end of the trial, Joan and Aderhold are sentenced to death, but they escape, and, after many adventures on the road, take ship for Virginia, Joan disguised as a boy, the traveling companion of the physician. As the voyage progresses, however, her sex and identity are suspected, and the sailors ascribing to her witchcraft the bad weather which attends the voyage, she and Aderhold are cast adrift in an open boat. This catastrophe, however, is not final, and

HARRISBURG ACADEMY WINS FIRST VICTORY

Gettysburg Eleven Has Its Look-in During Opening Quarter; Brilliant Work

Playing like veterans and working the forward pass for large gains, the Harrisburg Academy won from the Gettysburg Academy Saturday afternoon, score 13 to 6. It was the first real football game played by the Harrisburg Academy eleven in two years.

Winning from a team like the Gettysburg Academy shows the local Academy has material. Gettysburg was dangerous only in the first quarter, when they scored their touchdowns. During the other periods Harrisburg Academy played all around their opponents.

A fumble in the first quarter helped Gettysburg to score. Hines got the ball and ran seventy-five yards for a touchdown.

In the second period Academy scored on a forward pass from Jennings to Ross, tying the score. Holler kicked the goal and the Academy went into the lead, the scores at the close of the quarter standing Academy, 7; Gettysburg, 6.

In the final period the Academy team pulled together and started a march up the field which Gettysburg was unable to check. After carrying the ball the length of the field Holmes went around right end on a twenty-yard run and scored the final touchdown. Holler missed the goal.

Jennings, Holmes and Holler were Academy stars, and Hines and Norris played the game for Gettysburg. The line-up and summary:

In the Bahamas and later in England, the story comes to its impressive ending.

A Revelation of the Chinese Revolution. By John J. Mullooney. Fleming H. Revell Company, 153 First Avenue, New York, publishers.
Dr. Mullooney is at present a resident of Harrisburg and prominently identified with the work of the State Department of Health. He spent several years in China as a medical missionary and is thoroughly acquainted with the events antecedent to the change that has revolutionized the Orient. The volume just issued is an authentic and intimate record of the Chinese revolution. The author's data, inspired men behind the scenes, shows how the extravagance and inefficiency of the Manchus brought about the ruin of their dynasty and ushered in the first republic of the East. There is, in addition, a closely-written and illuminating review of the social and political conditions which now obtain in the Flowery Kingdom. Dr. Mullooney has lectured in several of the city churches on Chinese life and customs.
