Importance of Preventing Food Fer-mentation in Stomach Good digestion usually means good health. So long as the stomach does its work properly disease can find no lodg-ment in the human system; the liver, kidneys and intestines will perform their work perfectly and remain in per-fect health; but permit anything to in-terfere with the proper digestion of food, an unending train of troubles is set in motion. About the only tilng that will upset the stomach and inter-fere with digestion is an excess of acid, usually caused by food fermentation. Food fermentation is due to chemical action in the food itself. This fermen-tation causes the formation of gas, or wind, as well as acid, reluing in and delicate lining of the stomach. Medicine and tonics cannot relieve this condition-they usually make it worse. The fermentation and acid are to blame and these must be overcome and prevented by taking after meals a little hot or cold water. Physicians recommend bisurated magnesia in a little hot of cool and neutralizes the POLITICAL ADVERTISING

Years of Service to Church KEYSTONE LEAGUE TO DEDICATE HALIFAX Special to The Telegraph Special to The Telegraph New Holland, Pa., Gct. 27.—To-day marked the golden anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. John G. Noss, pastor of the St. Stephen Reformed Church. He graduated from the Franklin and Marshall College, Lan-caster, in 1862, and later entered Mer-cersburg Academy, and graduated in 1864.
