

DRESSING OF CITY WATER FRONT SLOPE BEGUN THIS MORNING

William Paget, Former Inspector on Wall, Is Placed in Charge of Big Job

TREATMENT BELOW MACLAY

Manning Decides on Scheme For Depressed Pathway North of "Hardscrabble"

Formal "dressing up" of the river embankment from Iron alley northward was begun to-day by the park department in preparation for the planting of shrubbery that is to complete the improvement of the city's water front.

Stones, earth and so on from the Front and Second street subways had been dumped over the bank from time to time. From Iron alley to Market street all the material necessary has been practically placed except the clean, fine, loose earth to be used for the final treatment.

The improving of the river front slopes will be done under the supervision of William Paget, a former river wall inspector for the Board of Public Works. He will have charge of the dumping and spreading of the earth, attend to the engineering work and so on. A big gang of men went on the job this morning.

North of "Hardscrabble" As soon as the embankment in the southern section of the city is finished the workmen under Mr. Paget's direction will undertake the treatment of the river front north of "Hardscrabble."

The scheme for treating the bank from Hardscrabble to Maclay street has not been worked out in detail as yet, but a general plan was decided upon when Park Expert Warren H. Manning was here last week. Assistant Park Superintendent J. R. Hoffert will have some measurements taken and some drawings prepared showing just what will be necessary the way of "cut" and "fill" for the proposed walk.

The General Scheme

In general the scheme is to construct a depressed walk from four to four and a half feet below the level of the street. This will be merely a continuation of the walkway in the park south of State street.

A certain amount of "fill" will be needed to provide sufficient width for the walk and at points where there is not enough space to cut, earth will be dumped over the bank. It is hoped to maintain as nearly as possible an average width of fifteen feet from the street curb to the outer edge of the walk. Of this space about five feet will be allowed for spacing outside the curb and slope to the depressed pathway. The walk will be approximately four feet wide and the remaining space will be used for the edging and slope to the sidewalk along the wall.

Attorneys Take Off Their Coats in Behalf of Kunkel Candidacy

The lawyers of the Dauphin county bar have literally "taken off their coats" in behalf of Judge Kunkel's candidacy for the State Supreme court.

Last night a large number of them got together at the Kunkel headquarters and labored industriously until a late hour enclosing letters, tying up packages of cards and addressing post cards to voters in all parts of the State. It was not the kind of work to which most of them were accustomed but they withstood the aching shoulders and blistered fingers "for the good of the cause" and will go to the job again this evening.

The Dauphin county bar has adopted as its slogan— JUDGE KUNKEL NEEDS DAUPHIN COUNTY—MAKE IT UNANIMOUS.

FINANCE COMMITTEE ROBERT T. KEENAN SECRETARY

October 14, 1914.

My dear Mr. Shelly: We again appeal to you for help in this campaign. The assistance of every man interested in the success of Democratic principles is most urgently needed at this critical stage of the campaign. We are winning but we face a financial crisis. Will you help now toward this almost assured victory by making a contribution to the Democratic State Campaign Fund?

Yours very truly, Roland S. Morris Chairman.

Kirk Shiley, proprietor of the Central Hotel, at Steelton, and a prominent Democrat, has received a letter of which the foregoing is a facsimile reproduction. This letter follows a previous appeal of T. K. Van Dyke, of this city, a collector for the Democratic machine, which was likewise received by a number of persons engaged in the liquor business. In view of the fact that Vance C. McCormick poses as the only honest temperance candidate these letters and appeals to men engaged in the liquor traffic ought to open the eyes of all sincere temperance people to the hypocrisy of the Democratic candidate for Governor.

Says Connection of Comets and Wars Is Nothing but Bosh

A talk on "Comets and Meteors," illustrated with fine lantern views, was given at the natural history meeting last night in the Willard school building by M. W. Jacobs, Jr. The connection between comets and wars and other calamities was shown to be wholly imaginary and the danger of a comet striking the earth extremely remote. Meteors or shooting stars were considered to be pieces of shattered comets.

EUROPEAN WAR IS PROVING BOON TO POSTAL SAVINGS

Ten Millions in Deposits Have Been Added Since Outbreak of Hostilities

The European war is proving a big boon to postal savings in this country, according to an official press notice issued this morning by the postal authorities. The notice says: "From the very day hostilities opened across the seas postal savings receipts began to increase by leaps and bounds and withdrawals fell off, a result quite contrary to predictions of many well-informed persons who, in their imagination, saw lines of feverish depositors at post office windows anxious to again return their savings to the boot-leg and body-belt depositories whence they came before intrusted to [Continued on Page 9]

Battle For Possession of Seacoast Swings in Favor of Allied Army

For Third Successive Day French Official Statement Asserts Advantage Lays With Allies; Conflict Is Raging Along Practically Same Lines as It Has For Past Few Days; Offensive Efforts of Germans Reported to Be Relaxing

The great battle for possession of the strip of coast running along the North Sea from Ostend to Calais is said by the French to be swinging slowly in favor of the allied forces. The assaults of countless German troops has apparently attained the height of human effort, were matched with equal courage and ferocity, and to-day the offensive efforts of the Germans were said to be relaxing. For the third successive day the French official statement asserted the advantage lay with the allies. It is noticeable, however, that the French claims in each instance have been vague and bare of detail as to the capture of towns or localities which may be set down on the map as marking a definite advance at any point. "Progress," "advances," or "gains" are reported at various sections of the line not closely indicated. From unofficial reports from the front it is inferred that in the main the conflict is raging along practically the same lines as heretofore and that the deadlock has not been broken.

London reports unofficially that the fiercest German attack had diverted from the seacoast slightly to the south in the line between Dixmude and Ypres. This may possibly be explained by assertions that the British fleet off the coast, said to have been driven off for a time by German artillery has resumed its bombardment with telling effect, it is said, upon the Germans.

Eastward along the main course of battle, where comparative calm prevailed for several weeks there are further indications that heavy action has been resumed. Yesterday's official French statement referred to successful attacks on the Germans at the center and eastern end of the lines. In to-day's statement it is said that the Germans attempted a violent offensive movement at Craonne. The assault, it is said, was repulsed.

The conflict in Galicia is still undecided. Both French and Russians assert that the offensive action against the Germans is being pursued successfully in the fighting zone, near Warsaw. It is reported unofficially from Petrograd, however, that the Russians have not succeeded in pushing the advantage along their left and center as far as they had hoped. An unusually early winter threatens untold hardships for the invading Germans and the disastrous experiences of Napoleon in his march on Moscow are recalled by dispatches stating that heavy blizzards are raging in Western Russia.

NEW DIFFICULTIES PRESENTED

The rebellion in South Africa, led by Christian De Wet, the famous opponent of Lord Kitchener in the Boer war and general Beyers, former commander of the military forces of the Union of South Africa, presents new difficulties to great Britain which causes no little concern. No word had come up to early afternoon to indicate whether this new revolt had assumed formidable proportions. Coming so quickly after the suppression of the uprising under Colonel Maritz, it was believed to indicate that England was facing a serious problem in her hard-won colonies. The main assault on Tsing Tau has again been postponed by the Japanese. Tokio reports that the attack on the German fortress has been delayed by storms but that the preliminary bombardment was proceeding from land and sea, causing much damage to the German forts.

Another exploit of the famous German cruiser Emden is related—the sinking of a small Japanese steamer which was proceeding to Singapore. This latest achievement of the Emden apparently disposes of the report from Bombay last week that the trade routes in the Indian Ocean were open and that the Emden had been "accounted for."

Another American steamship has been held up by the British. The Kronland, from New York for Naples with a cargo of copper was detained at Gibraltar by the British authorities.
