

Big Republican Rally Overflows the Largest Auditorium in This City

Campaigners Greeted by Cheering Hundreds; Issues of Campaign Clearly Set Forth; Hot Shot For Roosevelt, Pinchot, Bill Flinn, McCormick and Palmer

The fighting Republicans of Dauphin county, reinforced by many men of independent feeling who are sick and tired of Democratic tariff tinkering and disgusted with the big tax; Democrats who have turned against the Wilson Administration and its votaries, and Bull Mooseers who have seen the error of their ways, made the greatest political meeting ever held in Harrisburg in Chestnut street auditorium last night.

Oves and County Chairman William H. Horner, succinctly outlined the issues and placed before the great audience the two men who are foremost in the fight for restoration of good times and for the continued progress of the State government. Senator Penrose made a speech that rang with stalwart Republicanism and which gave an opportunity for him to say a few words in reply to the deluge of denunciation that has been heaped upon him.

The meeting surprised everyone having anything to do with it. No one looked on with indifference. When the members of the Harrisburg and West

Germans Meet Reverses in Both East and West; More Troops Are Ready

Russians Have Immense Reserve Force Prepared to Hurl at Kaiser's Army; British Has 1,500,000 Men Which May Soon Be Sent to Continent; Germany Silent on Battle in Flanders and Acknowledges Check in Russian Poland; Disguised German Cruiser Sinks Two More Vessels

From the west and from the east German reverses are reported. Germany acknowledges a check in Russian Poland, but concerning the great battle in Flanders she preserves her silence.

The factor upon which the allies build their hopes of an eventual triumph, according to their claims, is beginning to tell. It is the almost inexhaustible supply of men that may be drawn from the vast reaches of the British and Russian empires, which are relied upon in time to crush the Germans, as Grant did the South, by overwhelming numerical superiority.

Meanwhile the British who described their forces now on the continent as merely an advance guard, are training at home an army of 1,500,000 men of whom 600,000 are from her colonies.

LITTLE SPECIFIC INFORMATION

To-day's French statement, while again optimistic in tone gave little specific information. On the extreme western end of the battle line, where the fighting has been fiercest, there is "nothing new."

To the south and east along the battle line across France successes are reported by the French to the south of Arras, between the Aisne and the Argonne and in the forest of Apremont.

The German cruiser Emden, whose remarkable exploits have fairly earned a place in history, is reported to have performed the most daring feat of all. Disguised with a fourth smokestack, presumably taken from some captured vessel, and flying the Japanese flag, the Emden is said to have sailed boldly into the waters of Penang, a British possession in the Straits settlement and to have sunk a Russian cruiser and a French destroyer.

A long list of losses on the sea continues to grow. Another steamer is reported to have been sunk off the north coast of Ireland. Off Cuxhaven a Swedish steamer was destroyed by a mine with the loss of five men.

No further word was received from South Africa, although England's anxiety was relieved by the official statement last night that General Louis Botha, commander-in-chief of the Union of South Africa forces, met promptly and effectively the emergency presented by the new rebellion.
