Jacob Shelly's House and Barn Destroyed by Fire

Special to The Telegraph. Mechanicsburg, Pa., Oct. 29.—Fire, swept by the high wind yesterday afternoon, totally destroyed the brick house, outbuildings and barn on the farm of Jacob Shelly, about two and a half miles south of Mechanicsburg on the State road, adjoining Mohler's Church. The men were working in the fields when fire was discovered about 3 o'clock in the back part of the house. With the assistance of neighbors a large part of the household furnishings were saved, but the wind carried the flames rapidly to the outbuildings and from them to the barn, which was a combined structure of wood and stone. All burned to the ground. With the exception of the stock, nothing in the barn was saved. The loss included fifty tons of hay, all of the season's crops and farming implements. No fire is given as to the origin of the fire. The entire loss is estimated at about $10,000.

Suffered Twenty-One Years—Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours, MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE, Rapides Par., Echo, La. Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact. WM. MORROW, Notary Public.

BRUMBAUGH FIRM FOR INCORPORATION

Sends Telegram to the National Head of Anti-Saloon League on His Position

Special to The Telegraph. Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—An unqualified pledge to use his influence unreservedly to obtain the passage by the Legislature of a local option measure agreed upon by the temperance leaders has been given by Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, the Republican candidate for Governor. The pledge was asked for by Dr. Perley A. Baker, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League and given freely and promptly by Dr. Brumbaugh, who has been a worker for temperance all his life. It is even more definite than utterances of Vance C. McCormick.

The request for a definite expression of Dr. Brumbaugh's attitude was made in the following telegram from Dr. Baker: "Since doubt has been expressed as to your attitude on the question of local option by temperance people of Pennsylvania your mind will be made direct stating your exact position on the question. Specifically will you if elected Governor of Pennsylvania sign a local option bill if passed by the Legislature? Will you use your influence as governor to secure the passage of a local option measure that may be agreed upon by the temperance leaders in the Legislature?"

No sooner had Dr. Brumbaugh received the message than he wired Dr. Baker as follows: "Telegram just received. Am wholly in favor of local option. Have worked for temperance all my life. If elected Governor of Pennsylvania I will sign a local option bill if passed by the Legislature and will use my influence unreservedly to secure the passage of a local option measure that may be agreed upon by the temperance leaders in the Legislature. I am greatly concerned that my position has been misrepresented."

This is the second pledge of that nature that Dr. Brumbaugh has given to the Anti-Saloon League of Pennsylvania. It was sent to Dr. Moore last March. The correspondence on the subject was printed in The American Issue, the official organ of the Anti-Saloon League, on April 10 last under the heading "Brumbaugh for County Option."

BRUMBAUGH PASSES TITLE RIGHT BACK TO COLONEL ROOSEVELT

like 3,000 failed to hear Dr. Brumbaugh. Not only did the Doctor hand back to the man who had desired him to be superintendent of the schools in Porto Rico his jocular reference to woolly lambs, but he proceeded to use his switches on the scandalmongers.

"I want to settle for a generation to come the fact that slander and scandal will not win votes and buy offices in Pennsylvania," said he. "I have nothing to win or lose in this whole business. Do not let anybody blind your eyes with subtleties, but look squarely at the facts. If you want a clean, capable, conscientious administration of your affairs, then elect a teacher who gives you support, for that is what he is pledged to give you, and I thank God to-night that I belong to the Pennsylvania German people, of whom it was said that when they are as good as their bond. When I make a promise I keep that promise, and I won't say a single thing to get a vote that I won't do when the vote is given. Let us rally around the fact that the old Commonwealth for a continuation of its splendid history and advancement of the dignity and honor of this great State of Pennsylvania."

Dr. Brumbaugh's reference to Colonel Roosevelt's attack was loudly cheered. This was the only reference he made to Colonel Roosevelt's statement, though he may make a more detailed reply in the near future.

As to Free Trade

Once again, at the conclusion of his speech he referred to national issues, warning the voters against the free trade policies of the Democratic party. "I had the good fortune a year ago," he said, "to travel in the Fatherland, from whence my people came more than 160 years ago. I saw how the people live, yonder in the valley of the upper Rhine, and I thank God to-night that the people who work in Pennsylvania live in a land where they do not have to go to foreign lands. Heaven forbid the day when Pennsylvania becomes a country of free trade, and it will become that under a policy that sweeps away the protection which a tariff under Republican principles gives to this country. "I want to say another thing, and I have never said this before: From whence my people came more than 160 years ago, I saw the sound of the bell of Westminster Abbey, at the headquarters of Free Trade of Great Britain, out of seventeen exhibits in Pennsylvania to attract people and to promote free trade, eleven of the seventeen placards contained quotations from WOODROW WILSON'S WRITINGS AND SPEECHES HE HAS USED IN ENGLAND. AND QUOTED AS THE GREAT EXPONENT OF FREE TRADE THROUGHOUT THE BRITISH EMPIRE. "I tell you that is a hint. My father used to say a word to the wise is sufficient, and many words won't fill a bushel." Dr. Brumbaugh's words of warning were warmly received by Frank E. McClain, the Mayor of this city and candidate for Lieutenant Governor, who was the second speaker at the first meeting. Mayor McClain, after describing the destructive effect of the Democratic tariff turned his attention to the claims of Mr. Palmer. He held up Mr. Palmer as an exponent of free trade, the writer of the metal schedule in the Underwood tariff bill, which has hit Pennsylvania more than any State in the Union, and as a man who in his very speeches presents himself as a champion to destroy the good things that are without promise of better. McClain urged the election of Senator Penrose, who, he declared, had been the friend of every law passed in Pennsylvania and the nation for the benefit of the American workingman.

For Local Option

Dr. Brumbaugh in his speech said: "I am in favor of and am advocating the right of every county, county by county, to decide for itself whether or not intoxicating liquors shall be sold in that county, and I favor and advocate that the members of the incoming Legislature should be resolved as required by law a second time, which was passed at the last Legislature, to submit to people of Pennsylvania the question whether or not the Constitution shall be amended as to give women the right to vote in Pennsylvania. I am also interested in this very important problem: Here is a great manufacturing town and there are other great manufacturing industries not far away, and back of your manufacturing plants is this wonderful agricultural district. Do you know that in the past ten years twenty per cent of the people who grow food in Pennsylvania have moved from the farms to the towns and the villages and cities of the State? In ten years we have lost one-fifth of all the people who grow food and we have added one-fifth to all the people that consume food in Pennsylvania, and any school child can figure out how soon it will be at that rate of procedure when it will be necessary to pay the additional price of long hauls on food bought from people outside of our own Commonwealth. I say to you that we have got to turn our attention seriously, earnestly and effectively to the problem of making it pay to stay on the farms in Pennsylvania and cultivate them properly, and thus secure a larger paying population and that larger supply of food may come to our manufacturing centers and in that way reduce the cost of food to the consumer and enrich the man who tills the soil and rears his family upon the farms of Pennsylvania. However, if the farm is to pay and the people are to be socially and intel-lually happy on our farms—and unless they are they won't stay—then it follows that it is an absolutely logical necessity that now and at some time in the future we have got to have good honest roads from the farms to the markets of Pennsylvania over which the farmer may haul a maximum load of food at a minimum cost to himself, and in that way aid in the enrichment of the farmer and reduce the cost of living to the consumer in the town and the village and the city.

"Sore on This Road Question"

"I have traveled over Pennsylvania all my life. There are not many highways in this Commonwealth upon which you could lose me. In the last
