MUNSEY'S PAPER SAYS IT'S PENROSE

Roosevelt's Chief Supporter in 1912 Declares That the Senator Will Win Out

The Washington newspaper of Frank Munsey, one of the foremost backers of Colonel Roosevelt for the Presidency in 1912, yesterday predicted the defeat of Palmer and Pinchot in Pennsylvania and the election of Senator Penrose. The story is phrased as representing the authoritative view of Democratic leaders in Washington, and is as follows:
 "As the time for the November election draws near it is possible to say quite accurately what the Democratic leaders in Washington really expect as the outcome of the campaign.
 The election of Penrose to the Senate in Pennsylvania and defeat of Palmer and Pinchot is also expected. On the other hand, the chances for the election of Roger Sullivan in Illinois are looked on by the leaders here as good."

PLEADS GUILTY OF ARSON
 Waynesboro, Pa., Oct. 29.—John Graft, of Philadelphia avenue, charged with setting fire to his home, pleaded guilty to the crime. In the course of his confession, Graft told of his pouring the oil around under the floor and lighting the candles. Following this incident, he, in company with Wilbur Blair, walked to Highfield, where Graft took the train for Hanover. The arrest of Graft followed the confession of Blair to Burgess Johnston, Chief of Police Staley and Detective Donnelly.
 J. W. Morgan, assistant fire marshal, came to Waynesboro for the hearing, which was waived by Graft pleading guilty.

FALLS DOWNSTAIRS
 Waynesboro, Pa., Oct. 29.—Mrs. W. E. Bearinger fell from the top to the bottom of the stairway of her home and tore the ligaments in her knee and received several cuts and bruises about the body.

Women AND THEIR Interests

Clothes May Not Make the Man But They Do the Girl

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
 Do you and your clothes produce the effect of an attractive picture in a suitable frame? If this is the case, you are well dressed. The most beautiful picture in the world can be spoiled by an inappropriate framing. A fine etching is overwhelmed by a heavy gilt frame; a bold oil painting loses its force and character if it is framed in a dull wood, and a dainty water color looks cheap and tawdry when a heavy gold mat surrounds it. Girls, like pictures, need suitable framing.
 Don't buy the latest basque dress with a wide hip sash because your tall, slender neighbor looks well in it. If you are exactly the opposite in type you probably need exactly the opposite type of clothes from those she wears.
 Don't set a high turban with a higher quill on it above your slender oval face because the plump little blonde who sits next to you at the office wears one. It will probably make your chin look sharply pointed and give your whole face a peaked and ill-fated appearance when a flat plateau or a trim snar would give you soft, youthful facial lines.
 A girl may accent her refinement or turn her charms into cheapness and coarseness just by the way she dresses them.
 If you wear immodest and exaggerated editions of the latest fads in dress, you will not look "smart" and like a real society girl. Instead you will look common and ordinary and worth-while people will not be attracted to you.
 Many French fashions are launched to satisfy the American craze for something new. Many of them are worn first by those women of the Parisian "half-world" whom none of us want to resemble. Such styles will not give you any individuality or character of your own. They will only cheapen you and make you look

The Voice of Slander Cannot Injure Martin G. Brumbaugh

If it is still true that what a man does shouts louder than he can hear what he says, then the whole Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must reverberate with the name of Brumbaugh. Doctor Brumbaugh's platform is clear and consistent; it gives explicit pledges upon all the questions vital to Pennsylvania. But beyond the platform, guaranteeing it and energizing it, there are nearly thirty years of honorable public service.
 Doctor Brumbaugh has moved forward on his merits alone. The history of his life is chronicled in an ascending series of responsible positions, each succeeding one revealing new elements of strength and devotion.
 After being graduated from Juniata College, Doctor Brumbaugh taught in the same institution. Very soon after, at the age of 22, he became the school superintendent of Huntingdon county. When the South needed someone to organize the institute system, Brumbaugh was called to Louisiana, where he did six years of such constructive work that the State still acknowledges its obligation to him. For the seven years following he was professor of pedagogy in the University of Pennsylvania.
 When Porto Rico became an American possession Doctor Brumbaugh was appointed by President McKinley to organize an educational system for the island. He was a member of both Governor Allen's and Governor Hulse's cabinets, and as an ex-officio member of the Senate drafted the bills, organized the machinery and chose the men and women to make the education of the Porto Ricans truly American. When his term elapsed President Roosevelt telegraphed him urgently to remain, so great was the admiration

GEHR-WEBBERT WEDDING
 Special to The Telegraph
 Allen, Pa., Oct. 29.—A very pretty wedding took place on Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webbert, when their daughter, Nina, became the wife of J. Glen Gehr, of Mechanicsburg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. P. Kehl, of Mt. Zion Reformed Church, in the presence of the immediate families. The bride was attired in white brocade with an overdress of chantilly lace and carried bride roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. C. J. Heagy, as matron of honor. Lulu May Coover was flower girl, and Miss Minerva Coover played the wedding march and Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin." C. J. Heagy, of Johnstown, was best man.

OLD CUT OF BRIDGE

Special to The Telegraph
 Wrightsville, Pa., Oct. 29.—Captain John H. Drenning, while looking over some old papers, found a fine cut of the old Columbia bridge, destroyed by fire in 1863, to prevent the rebels from invading Lancaster county. It was taken from the Lancaster county shore, and shows the bridge and old lighthouse at the canal.
