MITCHELL DAY ECHOES

This is John Mitchell Day and this is the way the proprietor of the Patriot, Vance C. McCormick, celebrates the holiday set aside by the miners of the country to do honor to the great champion of labor.

From the Patriot of October 10, 1902: "Mr. Mitchell and his associates insist they have a right to prevent men working in the mines."

From the Patriot of September 7, 1903: "The wisdom of adding Labor Day to our list of legal holidays was gravely questioned when the law was passed, and the fact that the day is not generally observed outside of a few of the largest cities, except by banks and financial institutions, concerning which the law is mandatory, would indicate that public sentiment has not changed."

From the Patriot, January 15, 1903: "The miners knocked off for 'Mitchell Day', to glorify the man who had managed their campaign, and abandoned their labor for a longer season of holiday enjoyment than most persons in comfortable circumstances were able to afford."

From the Patriot January 15, 1903: "John Mitchell, President of the Miners' Union, was somewhat late in giving his excellent official advice to the miners to use every means to increase the output of the mines, and thus contribute what they can towards relief from the coal famine that has brought distress to the people."

From the Patriot of October 10, 1902: "Mr. Mitchell in various ways, attempted to evade the admission of the guilt of members of the union."

From the Patriot, January 15, 1903: "The miners who had managed their campaign, and abandoned their labor for a longer season of holiday enjoyment than most persons in comfortable circumstances were able to afford. In the presence of all this no word of advice or criticism was heard from Mr. Mitchell."

STEELTON MIDDLETON & HIGHSPIRE ROYALTON OBERLIN ENHAUT

PA. STEEL RUNNING BETTER THAN OTHERS

Management Gets Order For 4,400 Tons of Rails From Southern Railway

While the general winter prospects for the steel trade is discouraging, says the Iron Age, a leading trade publication, this morning, conditions at the local plant of the Pennsylvania Steel Company are far better than elsewhere.

Although the local plant is operating at an estimated capacity of less than 40 per cent, its efficient management has been able to land the largest order for rails given out recently. This order is now being rolled at this local plant.

The Iron Age says: "The winter prospects for the steel trade is not encouraging. Other years have usually seen backlogs in the shape of contracts for steel rails, structural steel and other staple products affording some basis for steady business in steel works operations."

Miss Marie Wizemann has been chosen to succeed Miss Agnes Wilcox, resigned, as visiting nurse for the Steelton Civic Club and investigator for the Associated Charities.

Miss Wizemann comes here from the German Hospital, Philadelphia, and has had a wide experience in charity work. She began to learn her new duties this morning and will take charge of the local charity work Monday, when Miss Wilcox leaves.

The Associated Charities Board will hold a special meeting to-morrow evening to get acquainted with the new investigator and to transact other business.

Cruiser Emden Was Within Her Rights

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—For the German cruiser Emden to disguise herself by flying Japanese flags was not contrary to the regularly recognized practice of naval officials here, pointed out to-day.

Before firing on a foreign ship, however, or committing any other hostile act, they say, the Emden would be compelled, under international law, to haul down the foreign flag and hoist that of her own country. No objection could be made, it was said, even if the Emden were to fly the American flag to disguise herself, provided she took it down before attacking a vessel.

One naval officer recalled an interesting case during the Chinese-Japanese war when a small Japanese merchantman was painted the color of a German commercial ship and entered the port of Wei-Hai-Wei through a cordon of American flag ships stationed around the port, obtained all the information the Japanese desired and escaped before the deception was discovered by the Chinese.

Copper Manufacturers File Their Protests

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—Representatives of four copper companies in New York to-day protested to the State Department that two Italian steamers, the San Giovanni and the Regina d'Italia, carrying several thousand tons of American copper to Italian ports, had been delayed by the British authorities at Gibraltar.

No official information has been received of the detention of the Italian vessels from American Consul Sprague, at Gibraltar, who yesterday reported the seizure of the American steamer Krooland, also laden with copper destined to Naples and to Greek ports. Before taking official notice of the seizure of these vessels, the State Department officials will await a full report of the circumstances under which they are detained.

Consul Sprague already has been asked for details of the detention of the Krooland. It is understood here that British warships held up the Norwegian steamer Prosper III, from New York for Copenhagen, and took her to a port in North Scotland.

LAST DAY FOR ARGUMENT

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—The final day's argument in the greatest corporation case ever considered by any court opened with Jacob M. Dickinson, former Secretary of War and special assistant to the Attorney General, continuing his address urging that the United States Steel Corporation should be disintegrated because it is violating the anti-trust laws.

$5,000,000 Wanted For Support of Ministers

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—Plans for holding a convention in Chicago early in 1915 were made to-day at the concluding meeting of the conference inaugurating the campaign to raise, during 1915, $5,000,000 for the support of retired ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Resolutions were adopted urging particularly the organization of laymen to work for the raising of the vast sum. Representatives from other denominations addressed the conference in explanation of similar movements in their churches.

RATES HELD REASONABLE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—Present freight rates on produce in general shipped from Pittsburgh, Pa., to destinations in other states, both east and west, were held to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commission to be reasonable and not unduly preferential. It also was held that the railroads had justified the increases in rates made on September 10, 1913.
