Four Hundred Dollars Per Life Price McCormick Paid For Workmen Killed

Forced by Union Into Small Payment to Widows and Families of Miners Killed in Mine He Was Operating in Cambria County; Machinery Was Defective

How Vance C. McCormick tried first to dodge all responsibility for the deaths of five workmen killed in a mine in Cambria county which he controlled, and how finally, when pressure was brought to bear on him, he finally agreed to settle for the insignificant sum of $400 for each life lost, is told in a letter made public to-day from the pen of Patrick Gilday, president of the United Mine Workers of District No. 2.

The letter was written in response to a reuest made by M. B. Isenberg, of Huntingdon, Pa., and shows how sincerely a frlend of labor the Democratic candidate for Governor is. The correspondence in full follows:

BRUMBAUGH'S TRIP BIG OVATION FROM

Dauphin County Turns Out Great Steelton Expected to Give Repub-Crowds to Meet the Next Governor

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh's tour of the lower end of Dauphin county yesterday was one continuous ovation. Never in the history of the district have people turned out in such numbers to greet a candidate, and never have they been so enthusiastic in their reception or promises of support. The little town of Shellsville is a very good example of the manner in which Dr. Brumbaugh's coming was received by the people. Residents of that place and Grantville got together and organized an automobile corps to go out and greet the campaigners. In eight big cars, gaily decorated with flags and bunting, and bearing such banners as "Brumbaugh is Good Enough for Us." "Welcome, Brumbaugh is Good Enough for Us." "Welcome, Brumbaugh is Good Enough for Brumbaugh is Good Enough for Brumbaugh is Good Enough for Every house in Shellsville, regardless of the politics of the resident, was decorated in the flags and bunting as elaborately as though for the Fourth of July or an Old Home Week Celebration. THE WEATHER

River
The main river will remain nearly stationary to-night and Saturday, except at Harrisburg, where it will probably continue to rise slowly.

The disturbance from Ontario that was central over the Great Lakes Thursday morning, is moving down the St. Lawrence Valley. It has caused light rain in the last twenty-four hours over the eastern part of the Lake region and the Upper Ohio Valley, and thence eastward into New York and Pennsylvania and to the New England coast.

It is slightly cooler over a broad the Guiff States northward through the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and the Lake region.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30.—Turkey's entrance into the war, though not unexpected, has caused a sensation in official circles here because of the probable far-reaching effect of this action. The probability that the Balkan states may be drawn into the conflict, thereby cutting off a vast quantity of food supplies which, it had been expected, would go to the maintenance of the northern European countries during the war, has brought home to officials here a realization of the close and intense interests of the United States in the latest development.

The result of Turkey's action as viewed by the military experts from a technical point of view will be to greatly embarrass Russia at the outset. Since the outbreak of the European war dispatches from Ambassador Morlicolated in 1896, the Steelton and Harrisburg Brick Company, one of the oldest manufacturing concerns in Steelton, closed to that it would go out of business about January 1.

The company's plant is located above Franklin street, between the Pennsylvania canal. Forty-five men were employed here in the manufacturing concerns in Steelton, closed to that it would go out of business about January 1.

What will be done regarding the high embankment in front of the pumping station has not yet been determined, but unless some sort of a concrete wall is placed at that point it is almost certain to be a constant nuisance owing to the swift current at the high stages of the river.

Market Street Wharf a Bungle

There is great disappointment among all who have been watching the progress of the improvement over the unsightly break in the steps at the Market street bridge. This coal wharf seems to have been entirely unnecessary, inasmuch as there is a similar wharf at Paxton street, a short distance below. It is regarded as the most serious bungle in the whole undertaking.

Compliments Police Chief For Way He Handled Convention

Colonel Joseph B. Hutchison to-day received a letter from B. B. Grant, chief of police of Salt Lake City, complimenting him on his good work during the recent firemen's celebration. Chief of Police Grant refers to the law which provides for locking up of pickpockets for ninety days on general principles, and says "it is the only kind of law to keep pickpockets out of a city." A similar law will be adopted at Salt Lake City.

Turkey Opens War on Russia by Bombarding Ports and Sinking Ships

Action of Ottoman Government May Cause Additional Troubles in Balkans; Greece May Soon Enter Struggle; Little News Filters Through Regarding Progress of Battle in Flanders; Censorship Becomes More Rigid; Baron Fisher Succeeds Prince Louis as First Lord of Admiralty

Interest in the battles raging in the east and west of Europe, where decisive results are still to be attained, to-day was momentarily overshadowed by Turkey's entrance into the great war through her inauguration of hostilities against Russia.

London and Washington agree that this development probably will have slight effect on land operations but will manifest itself chiefly by sea and give the allied fleets in the Mediterranean and adjacent waters some busy days or weeks

Aside from this, the most interesting phase of Turkey's action is its probable effect on the delicate Balkan situation and next, what Greece will do. Should Greece enter the great arena of war two expatriated American battleships, the old Mississippi and Idaho, recently sold to her, may be heard from.

What effect Turkey's entrance into the war, now a conflict of ten nations, will have on the uncounted millions of Moslems in Africa and Asia is a matter of conjecture.

It was made known to-day, that, in addition to sinking two steamers in the Black Sea and bombarding the city of Theodosia, in the Crimea, Turkish warships had entered the port of Odessa, sunk a Russian gunboat and damaged a French liner. Although no formal declaration of war is reported, the Russian embassador at Constantinople has been withdrawn.

Little news filtered through to-day from the scene of the great battle in Flanders, and indications were that the censorship had become still more rigid. The French official statement, while optimism in tone, was general in terms and contained nothing to indicate that decided advantages had been won by either side, ad it was inferred that the deadly struggle was yet to run its course.

GERMAN SACRIFICE IN VAIN

The enormous sacrifices made by the Germans to force a passage of the Yser river are said by the French war office to have been in vain. The German forces who maintained their hard-won place to the south of the Yser, notwithstanding the heavy cost in life are now said to have withdrawn. What the shot and shrapnel could not accomplish has been achieved by another device, the Belgians having flooded the lower valley of the river.

The French official statement indicates that it has again fallen nut street bridge to Maclay street will not be constructed until next Spring. Owing to the filling in behind the wall there is some fear that it might be unwise to construct this walk owing to the danger of depressions following settlement of the new-made ground. At points north of La Basse, just south of the Belgian border, the British froces are credited with having repulsed superior to the lot of the British troops to bear the brunt of battle. Their presence along the line from Ypres to Dixmude is revealed in the statement, which says that violent German attacks in this vicinity border, the British forces are credited with having repulsed superior

It is believed, however, that the river at high stage and the winter rains will so pack the place between the slope and the wall that a better job will be made next year. This walk can be constructed within a month or six weeks after the work shall have been resumed, and meanwhile the grading of the slope and the planting can go forward without interruption. All the filling that is necessary will be made at once, so that the space for the walk will be in proper condition next year.

What will be done regarding the high embankment in front of the plumping station has not yet been delay to the stage and the planting can go forward without interruption. All the filling that is necessary will be made at once, so that the space for the walk will be in proper condition next year.

What will be done regarding the high embankment in front of the plumping station has not yet been delay to the report from Paris that twenty-one French officers have been promoted to the rank of general. Eight of these are to fill the places made vacant by death in battle.
