

OPEN THREE BIDS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF PARK ENTRANCE

Reservoir Gateway Proposals to Be Submitted to Council Wednesday

Three bids for the construction of the new formal entrance and roadway in Reservoir Park at Twenty-first and Market streets were received and opened at noon today by City Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, superintendent of parks and public property. The bidders: Stucker Brothers' Construction Company, $3,779. S. W. Shoemaker and Son, $7,683. D. Ott and Sons, Camp Hill, $8,100. The proposals will be submitted to City Council at the meeting on Wednesday afternoon and while Commissioner Taylor declined to discuss the probable recommendations it is expected that he will suggest that the Stucker Brothers, low by nearly $4,000, be awarded the contract. Work, it is understood, will be started at once as the specifications provide that the job be completed within forty-five working days. The funds were made available through the passage of the last park improvement loan. The new formal entrance and roadway will enter the park through a semi-circular plaza and there will be room for both traffic and pleasure vehicles. The highway will curve from the Twenty-first and Market street entrance north to connect with the roadway leading to Oak Knob just below the Elk memorial monument.

McCormick Floods City With Circular Letter Seeking Votes

Every voter in Harrisburg, including Senator Beidleman, has received a circular letter from Vance C. McCormick, the Democratic candidate for Governor, asking support. Using the letter as a text, Senator Beidleman at a town meeting on Saturday night, dwelt in some detail on this paragraph from the letter: "All my life I have spent in this country. My life's record, both as private citizen and public officer, is known to you and upon it I must stand or fall as a candidate." Senator Beidleman then proceeded to tell his audience of the corruption of voters in the 1902 mayoralty campaign, of the Sonman coal shaft incident, in which the McCormick company thought $400 sufficient for the life of a workman, of his veto of an ordinance raising the pay of street laborers to $1.50 a day, how he has attempted to destroy the efficiency of the fire department by cutting off its appropriation, of his personal benefit from unfair property assessments and of the fact that while he is a millionaire he has never done one thing personally for the benefit of the city. Then he asked his audience if they thought McCormick ought to stand or fall on his record.

Wilson Confident of Democratic Majority

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—On the eve of the congressional election it became known today that men close to President Wilson are working on the understanding that he will be a candidate in 1916 despite his own silence on the subject and that they have begun preparations for the campaign. Although no formal statement was issued, White House officials say Mr. Wilson is confident both Senate and House will be safely Democratic as the result of to-morrow's elections. Predictions were made that the majority in the House will be more than fifty and that the present majority in the Senate will be increased.

New York, Nov. 2.—Criminal indictments were returned today by the United States grand jury against twenty-one directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, including William Rockefeller, Theodore N. Vail, George B. Post, Charles P. Skinner, Charles P. Brooker and John L. Billard. The indictments charge a conspiracy in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law to monopolize commerce. Search warrants were issued for the twenty-one men named in the indictments upon request of the district attorney. The complete list of those indicted is as follows: William Rockefeller, George MacCallum Miller, Charles F. Brooker, William Skinner, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, James S. Elton, James S. Dr. Martin C. Brumbaugh Is True Progressive

[From the Public Ledger.] To the Editor of the Public Ledger: Sir—When Dr. Martin C. Brumbaugh, now Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania by the choice of a mighty host at the primaries, after having served with brilliant distinction as the first Commissioner of Education, and President of the McKim and Roosevelt tendered his resignation to the latter, he received a telegram from him earnestly requesting him to continue in that honored and responsible position. Evidently President Roosevelt knew full well that it would be impossible for him to appoint anyone as his successor who would possess all the high qualities of those qualities of mind and heart which are so essential in a public official, whether at home or as a representative of the Government in one of the positions, where naturally the official stands, to such a large degree, as typifying the Government in general. This circumstance should not be lost sight of by the voters throughout the Keystone State at the forthcoming election. In the confusion of issues there is danger that a grave injustice may be done by some of the sincere and voters, simply because they do not stop to think seriously that it is not right that Dr. Brumbaugh should be linked with any other candidate whom it is the desire of either ex-President Roosevelt or any one else to oppose. Dr. Brumbaugh has made it as clear as any possibly could that he stands for everything that is for the welfare of the people of this State, including the public and personal merits in the platform of the progressive or so-called Washington party. The fact that Dr. Brumbaugh, if elected Governor of Pennsylvania, which he undoubtedly will be by an overwhelming majority, will stand forth as one of the possibilities, of course should act as an added incentive for every Republican and Progressive alike to not only vote for him, but also to see that the real issues are neither belittled nor confused. EDWARD NEWTON HAAG, 330-332 Drexel Building, Philadelphia, October 21, 1914.

HON. JOHN WANAMAKER'S letter endorsing Doctor Brumbaugh contains some significant phrases. He says: "It is unbelievable that the honesty of every thing is in his life when man distinguishes all his life in his home State and throughout the world as an educator of children to a sphere of good citizenship, who first to the pure white lines in it, who from first to last has been like a candle consuming itself in lighting the way for others." Dr. Brumbaugh's record is set aside as having departed from his principles and those of his forefathers by the unsubstantiated attacks of the newspapers and other party seeking candidates on other party tickets, who are only aiming to seek personal control or franchises which properly belong to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Then again: "I know Doctor Brumbaugh to be through and through, from first to last, one of the good Republicans of our Commonwealth." Such a man as would lend lustre to any State; that the kind of man every State is looking for." Place this statement, uttered by one who has been enabled to observe his man critically for twenty-five years, alongside the abuse heaped upon Doctor Brumbaugh by Colonel Roosevelt as late as September 14, and Colonel Roosevelt advised strongly against the withdrawal of Dean Lewis, and was prepared to enter the State to turn his batteries against Vance McCormick and Doctor Brumbaugh, the Democratic and Republican candidates, in favor of Mr. Lewis. But he says: "Mr. Flinn took the other view. Notwithstanding the position of Mr. Flinn, Mr. Lewis and Colonel Roosevelt, Mr. Flinn carried his point." Mr. Flinn, in a letter to the public dated October 25, says that his firm of municipal contractors has done at least two-thirds of the public contracts that the city of Pittsburgh has awarded under various administrations in the past twenty-five years and "in no case did we secure a contract on which we were not the lowest bidder, with one exception, which was awarded to the firm of Booth & Flinn, Ltd. (Mr. Flinn's company), is done for the city of Pittsburgh." Then he adds: "The Public Service Commission of New York has awarded Booth & Flinn, Ltd. (Mr. Flinn's company), during the past six months $18,000,000 in contracts."

STOUGH IS PLEASED WITH MULTIPLE PREPARATIONS FOR BIG CAMPAIGN

Confident of Good Results; Celebrate "Home Night" Next Friday Evening

"I am greatly pleased at the preparations for the campaign in Harrisburg, both physical and spiritual," said Dr. Henry W. Stough this morning when asked about the outlook for the revival that opened yesterday. "I feel that Harrisburg is on the eve of the greatest religious awakening in its history. The prayer meetings, the attitude of the churches, the willingness of the local workers and the publicity given by the newspapers have prepared the city in a marvelous way that makes me very optimistic. Every member of the party has expressed the same opinion to me." One of the party said that the general attitude of a town can be felt on the first day of a campaign by indications that the party can detect by a sort of "sixth sense" they have developed by their long experience in evangelistic work. Party Confers This Morning A conference was held at noon today by the members of the party at the residence, 216 Pine street for personal discussion of the work of the six weeks campaign and the details of the local field and the types of work to be done by each member of the party was gone over with Dr. Stough. Next Friday night will be "Home Night" when Dr. Stough will deliver his famous sermon on "Home Makers and Home Breakers." Ordinarily Dr. Stough does not announce the subject of his sermon for each service, but he explained to one of his party that he seldom knows in advance what he will talk of and decides only after he reaches the platform and sees the response of the audience. He has an extensive repertoire and can call up any of his subjects for immediate delivery as he senses the feeling of the crowd. Rockefeller Millions For Sufferers' Relief By Associated Press New York, Nov. 2.—To lose no time in carrying out its decision announced yesterday to help the destitute non-combatants in Europe with the Rockefeller millions, the Rockefeller Foundation was engaged to-day with plans for getting the relief ship away to-morrow and immediately sending its own commission to Europe to direct further work. This is the first time that the Rockefeller foundation, whose endowment is $100,000,000, has undertaken charitable work in such a direct and tangible way; its philanthropic heretofore having been concerned mainly with work along scientific lines. The first move in sending a relief ship to Europe immediately involves an outlay of $275,000 and from the announcement of plans it would appear that there was only a small part of what was contemplated in that the appropriation might rank as the largest individual donation ever made for war relief. At the Rockefeller Foundation headquarters to-day, it was said, that further action than had been outlined in last night's announcement was not yet decided upon. The steamer Masasapequa which had been chartered from the New York and Porto Rico Line, it was said, will be loaded and able to leave New York for Rotterdam, as planned, to-morrow with 4,000 tons of our rice and beans.

To-morrow, afternoon and evening—"The Girl of the Golden West." Wednesday, afternoon and evening—"Stop Thief." Thursday, afternoon and evening—"What Happened to My Wife." Friday, afternoon and evening—"The Escape." Saturday, afternoon and evening—"Under Southern Skies." ORPHEUM Every afternoon and evening—High-Class Vaudeville. COLONIAL Every afternoon and evening—Vaudeville and Pictures. MYRTLE-HARDER COMPANY THIS WEEK This will be one of the busiest weeks of the season at the Majestic Theater, the reason being that the management of that immensely popular organization, the Myrtle-Harder Company, in a series of advertisements, has presented by any stock company at the present time the most striking and popular company of players gaining in popularity, and judging from the manner in which the tickets for the entire week are being prepared, we believe that the record-breaking one. All morning long preparations were kept busy arranging the details of the production and the sale of tickets. This affair, which is being put on in front of the Majestic Theater, is a really made Belasco's name famous as one of the greatest living theatrical productions. Seats are now on sale for the entire week at the Majestic box office, and owing to the big demand for tickets, telephone reservations will not be held later than 7 o'clock. JOHN DREW John Drew, soon to be seen here in "The Prodigal Husband," in which he has been appearing at the Empire Theater in New York since the opening of the present season as chairman of the jury to select the best model in the competitors for the Edwin Sherill Memorial, has decided on the one presented by Edwin Sherill Dodge. It is a figure of Mr. Booth as "Hamlet," and when completed will probably be placed in Gramercy Park, New York.—Advertisement.

ORPHEUM The natty and agile Fletcher Norton, who distinguished himself in Harrisburg as a vaudeville performer, who is in burr before, playing a leading role in Lasky's "Antique Shop," returns to the Orpheum to-day co-starring with beautiful Audrey Maple in a gigantic vaudeville spectacle called "The Last Tango." It will be remembered that Mr. Norton interpreted the role of the lover in the "Antique Shop," when he broke the magic vase and released his sweetheart. Then a dance ensued, which climaxed and close of the act. To-day Mr. Norton returns to the Orpheum, playing the role of a "barber" in a comedy with and loved by the pet of the Paris public, the role essayed by Miss Maple. Gorgeously scenic, a vocal chorus and fascinating and interesting story make "The Last Tango" a notable production. Of course, the original and the act's greatest assets. Mr. Norton is known as the Beau Brummell of Broadway. He is incidentally well remembered he was the husband of Valere Suratt, who appeared at the Orpheum weeks ago, since which he has been a noted beauty, although this is a her first Harrisburg appearance. The Langtons, vaudeville's celebrated funsters, return in a screaming comedy. On the Boulevard: the Werner-Trouorous "Frolic" trio of dancers, singers, dancers and piano players, promise to create a small sensation, and their interesting act will be contributed by Leo Beer, Kingston and Ebner, and Wilson and Larson.—Advertisement.

ARRAIGNED ON PLEA OF GUILTY, PRISONER DIDN'T SAY A WORD

Arraigned before Additional Law Judge McCarrell, this afternoon, to plead guilty to a charge of questionable conduct in which several street factory girls were the complainants, Howard Arnold was literally—rather than figuratively—speechless. Incidentally Arnold couldn't hear anything about it so that in addition to having nothing to say for himself he couldn't listen to the things that Assisstant District Attorney Robert T. Fox said about it. So the Assisstant District Attorney just wrote all his questions, all the Court's questions and all the street statements—and Arnold read them and wrote the replies. And when Judge McCarrell directed that sentence be suspended and that Arnold be placed under Probation Officer James T. Walters' care—Deputy Promotory Elmer E. Erb had to let the prisoner read and write his answers in giving bond. Arnold is deaf and dumb.

Rabbit Season Opens; Game Is Plentiful

Hunters were out in large numbers to-day for the opening of the rabbit season. Reports from all over Pennsylvania indicate an abundance of rabbits. It is said that farmers in some parts of the State will be glad to have the rabbits killed off. With to-day everything is in season except deer. The season for deer starts one week from to-morrow. Harrisburg was well represented in the fields to-day.

MARRIED BY ALDERMAN

Alderman Charles E. Moore married Charles Brown and Rebecca Moore, both of this city, at his office this morning.

TO A CHILD.

When I was young I dreamed a dream, my dear, (So I dream it dream it was, ah, sweet!) I dreamed that all the fickle world, my dear, Was at my feet, my feet. Through wine and roses tripped a thought, my dear, (Oh, roses red, as red as wine!) For there was all the youth of life, my dear. In this, I dream of mine. But I have grown and know not now I dream, my dear, (Though I dream I be always, always sweet!) Better that you than all the world, my dear, Be at my feet, my feet. For roses red are only roses, dear, (And rose-red wine is only wine!) But you are flesh and blood and soul, my dear, And you are mine, are mine! —Frances Caroline Willey, in Ainslie's

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR MCCORMICK AND LIQUOR To the Editor of the Telegraph: How long has Vance C. McCormick possessed such a hatred against the liquor interests as he has professed time and again during the present campaign? If I reported correctly, he sold advertising space in his paper in unlimited quantities to liquor manufacturers and accepted the money for the same, year after year, from the time he purchased The Patriot until a few days before he announced his candidacy for Governor, and made local option a part of his platform. It is possible that in this particular instance he was shown enough to foresee one of the glaring inconsistencies which have featured his campaign. INTERESTED VOTER.
