JACKSON URGES MEDICAL "EXAM"

Commissioner Gives Some Observations on What He Has Found in Many of the Cities

Dr. John Price Jackson, State Commissioner of Labor and Industry, has issued a warning to employers of the state, based upon the observations of inspectors, who have been dismissing children under age and unfit for work and prosecuting employers who fail to abide by the law. He declares as well that every child over fourteen should undergo a medical examination before being allowed to take up employment. The same principle as medical examination in schools is held to apply to the juvenile wage-earners, he intimates. The commissioner says that his inspectors have been co-operating with the health authorities in endeavoring to bring this about and has had the hearty support of Governor Tener in his efforts.

Relative to conditions in Philadelphia Dr. Jackson says: "During the months of June, July and August the children in Philadelphia between the ages of fourteen and sixteen who applied for labor certificates have been given a medical examination. This work has been carried on under the direction of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry with the efficient co-operation of the Bureau of Health of Philadelphia and with necessary financial assistance and other important service given by the Pennsylvania Child Labor Association.

"The total number of children examined in Philadelphia in the above-named work was 3,964. Of these 724 were found without defect, 3,224 with one or more defects. There were 336 certificates temporarily refused because of the need of proper glasses and 75 refused because of bad teeth. These certificates were afterward granted when the defects were corrected. There were 16 certificates refused absolutely because of the following defects: Heart disease, 2; poor nutrition and anemia, 1; refused to wear glasses, 1; phthisis, 3; phthisis with mitral regurgitation, 4; suspicious tuberculosis of the lungs, 1; tuberculosis of hip with mitral regurgitation, 2; rheumatism with mitral regurgitation, 1, and nephritis, 1.

Dr. John C. Price, chief medical inspector of the department, sums up the results of the examinations of these 3,964 children as follows: The result of this examination shows the necessity of continuing this work so as to protect the children from being placed at work when they are physically unable to stand the confinement, long hours and often unhealthy conditions surrounding industrial occupation. It also, I think, demonstrates the need of classification of employments in which children should be eligible, that is, so children who are strong and well developed physically should be allowed to be employed in any industry permissible by law. There is a grade of children who are below par and who should only be allowed to be employed in such industries as insure plenty of outdoor life and not too long hours. Then there is still another class of children who should not be permitted to engage in labor at all until after they are sixteen years of age. This classification, in my opinion, should be made by a committee composed of various health officers and physicians who have been examining children in schools."

New Chief of Columbia's Volunteer Department

SALEM T. WALL, Columbia, Pa., Nov. 3.—Salem T. Wall has just been chosen chief of the Columbia Fire Department for the ensuing year. Chief Wall is only twenty-nine years old and has been an active fireman for the past ten years. The new chief is a member and trustee of Susquehanna Company, No. 3, in which he served as chief fireman for three years. He is one of the youngest men ever chosen for this position. Mr. Wall has entered upon the duties of the position with the endorsement of the five companies comprising the department, and at the election was chosen by a unanimous vote.

The Ancient Spell. When a ship puts out to sea Swinging slowly from the quay, Somehow warm enchantment gleams From each mast and stack and spar, As she takes the trail o' dreams Where all brave adventures are. Life seems big and blithe and free When a ship puts out to sea. Slaves of time and circumstance, Humdrum folk and dull are we, Yet we sense the old romance, When a ship puts out to sea, And we watch her flag unfurled To the wind that sweeps the world, Watch her dim and fade and then Sighing, turn to toil again. Yet, although we may not be With her on the deeps that call, We can feel the mystery, And the glamour of it all— When a ship puts out to sea.—Berton Braley, in Ainslee's

TO RUSH WORK ON TERRACING SLOPES ALONG RIVER FRONT

Barberry Hedge Will Produce Beautiful Effect Along Entire Stretch of Wall

City Commissioner Taylor has determined to accomplish as much as possible of the grading and terracing of the River Front slope before the extremely cold weather stops the work. Warren H. Manning, of Boston, the landscape architect, who has had so much to do with the development of the city's park system, arrived this morning and discussed with the department of parks the details of the depressed walk which will be established from the pumping station at North street to Maclay.

This depressed walk plan will greatly reduce the cost of grading the slope and make attractive the entire frontage of the city. At several points along the river the ragged filling of years will be cut down so as to present harmonious treatment. At the same time the filling out of the space from the base of the slope to the top of the concrete steps and the grading of the same will go forward under the direction of the Stucker Brothers Construction Company, the

CONTRACTORS FOR THE WALL AND STEPS

De Holf Hooper, whose name will ever be associated with "Casey at the Bat," is something of a batsman himself when it comes to a game of repartee.

At a dinner party he had finished his speech, and as he sat down a lawyer arose, shoved his hands deep into his trousers pockets—as was his habit—and laughingly inquired: "Doesn't it strike this company as a little unusual that a professional comedian should be funny?"

When the laughter that greeted this sally had subsided, De Wolf Hooper drawled out: "Doesn't it strike this company as a little unusual that a lawyer should have his hands in his own pockets?" The Popular Magazine.
