

Campaign Sidelights

Noonday meetings were held to-day under the auspices of the Stough campaign at the Star Laundry, under the direction of Miss Florence Saxman, Harrisburg Apparel Company, by Miss Daisy Eggleston; Race street cigar factory, by Miss Sara C. Palmer.

Treasurer Heffelfinger had to stay up nearly all night counting the 5,345 pennies in the collections on Sunday. The total offering for the day amounted to $546.55.

The Rev. G. W. Hansen, pastor of the United Evangelical Church, Millersburg, was among the ministers on the platform last evening.

Noonday meetings will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Blouch factory, Kelly street, under the leadership of "Billy" Shannon. The business meeting at the Y. W. C. A. will be held under the direction of Miss Saxman.

A mammoth mass meeting will be held for boys and girls on Saturday afternoon in the Blouch factory, under the direction of Miss Eggleston, superintendent of the children's department. Professor Spooner will organize the "booster chorus" at that time.

The neighborhood prayer meetings were held at 9 to 9:30 o'clock this morning for the first time.

Found.—Anything lost or found should be left with Fred Cartwright or the chief usher, Mr. Houseal.

Shop meetings were held at noon to-day at the following places, under the direction of H. K. W. Patterson, Division street (Philadelphia and Reading) and Maclay street (Pennsylvania Railroad) shops:

Dr. Stough actually rolled on the platform, skipped over and turned the pulpit upside down when preaching on the subject, "Sensational Preaching," last night.

Singing books were sold like hot cakes last night.

Professor Spooner said: "How many books have you in the audience?" Hundreds of copies of "Make Christ King" were then displayed. He said: "You feel like 20 cents a page with her hat on, charge her a quarter for her look."

People say that Dr. Stough can be heard plainly at the farthest corner in the tabernacle. The tabernacle was built as a sounding board.

Lady ushers and doorkeepers will usher at the women's meeting on Saturday afternoon.

The nursery and rest rooms will be ready by to-night. A committee will take care of children under 6 years of age. Babies will either be tagged or checked and cared for by nurses so that mothers can be assured that Baby will be all right while she enjoys the services.

Send the Telegraph to your friends and let them know what is going on in the Stough evangelistic campaign.

Seventy-five or eighty 10-cent bread pans are used to take up the collection. It sounds very musical to "hear the pennies dropping."

WOULD YOU TANGO WITH A CORPSE?

Dance of Cabaret Singer and Dead Woman High Light of Orpheum Bill

How would you like to do the tango with a dead woman?

Well, that is the high light of the week's Orpheum bill. The gruesome dance is the climax of a one-act Parisian farce by Maud Earl called "The Last Tango."

What with exquisitely beautiful music, a half-dozen pretty girls, and scenery from the Latin quarter of Paris, the act is one of the most artistic ever seen on the Orpheum stage. It opens with singing by the happy-go-lucky Bohemian crowd of Le Cou Cou cafe. The plot is wrapped around the return of a former cabaret dancer, who married a foolish old English lord, to her former haunts. Her old lover of the cabaret days is a singer in the cafe and she comes to Le Cou Cou to taunt him. He threatens to kill her, but she tells him she still loves him and they dance. Her purpose is to stab him during the tango so as to escape his vengeance.

And if you want to see dancing—real dancing—you want to see Fletcher Norton and Audrey Maple, the principals. Just at the end of the dance she tries to stab him with a dagger, but another girl, who loves him, strikes the assassin's arm and the dagger enters the heart of Liane. The dying woman and her lover are seen in a scene that Liane dances her last tango. To deceive the police, her old partner, Rene, holds the dead woman in his arms and dances about the cabaret while the police are searching the place. A little far fetched, you say? Well, you should see that "last tango" before you express an opinion. Audrey Maple is so cleverly held during the police search that you wouldn't know she was dead if you hadn't seen her stab herself.

Colette, the singer in love with Rene, has a beautiful voice and her singing adds materially to the production.

Lee Beers, who plays rastime, whistles and sings, is one of the most entertaining of the bill's performers. A rag rignarole, in which the audience had to do a little thinking to follow the train of the story, won a lot of applause.

There are two girl and man acts—the sort that always pleases vaudeville goers—including Norwood and Hall and Mindell Kingston and George Ebnner. Both duos do creditable work. The Langsons are here with an oddity in which clever mechanical effects make the act together with the queer little voice of one of the Langtons. Werner-Amoros company are a quartet of clever jugglers. Wilson and Larson do a tumbling act.

STOUGH SPRAWLS ON PLATFORM PREACHING ON SENSATIONALISM

Aristotle or Plato; that none of the present day artists can compare with Michael Angelo or Raphael; and that no writers of the twentieth century produce anything like Homer or Shakespeare.

"The intellectuals," he said, "are not the ones who are always saved, because a man never goes into the kingdom of heaven first; he gets in through his spiritual or emotional life. All the wisdom of the world cannot shed light on the identity of God; he must be revealed by an entirely different process than mechanical or mental means—he must be revealed on the emotional heart line.

Angel Compared With Prophets. "God is not after the head of man, he is after the heart, which is the cabbage and caring and broke the top board from the upright."

"All the great reformers of religion were most sensational in their day; Jesus, John Wesley and how he had to dodge brick bats and rank cabbage while he was delivering a sermon. (Here Dr. Stough fell over his pulpit stand while illustrating the cabbage and caring and broke the top board from the upright.)"

"Take for example Gideon in the Bible who was an ancient 'Bull Moose' with his pitcher brigade of 300 men, with which he impressed his enemies as being a force of 300,000,—what would be more sensational than that?"

"Then there was Moses, 'an old maid's boy,' who had a bigger cinch on the throne of Egypt than either McCormick or Brumbaugh have on the governorship of this State, and look how he gave it up in a sensational way to lead the Children of Israel out of Egypt."

Preached Lying on His Side. "Remember how the prophet Jeremiah lay on his side in the ditch and preached repentance to the people of Jerusalem. Here Dr. Stough sprawled on his platform and rolled around in imitation of 'Jerry,' while the audience all over the tabernacle roared."

Among other examples of the sensationalism of the Scripture Dr. Stough said were the story of Abraham offering up his son Isaac on the altar and preparing to slay him with a "butcher knife." Hosea who picked up a "street walker" and married her; Isaiah, who preached on the evils of the women of his day and took some liberties in describing a lady's toilet, that would not be tolerated in modern times on the part of any preacher.

John the Baptist got "chucked in the Jug" for calling the politicians of his day a "generation of vipers," and King Herod a libertine. Jesus himself used some of the most sensational altar and used the strongest language in denunciation of the evils of his day. James and Peter did some things that I can never beat.

"I am not trying to reach those who are safely on the road to heaven, but those who never come to church, and anything that helps me reach the man on the back seat, so help me God, I'll do it. I'll be a gentleman and use kind and courteous language insofar as I am able, but I shall also use some language that may shock some of your tender sensibilities."

Spooner Groans. He gave an example of the polished preaching often heard from the lips of the highly educated ministers of the fashionable churches, in which long words of many syllables are used in involved sentences to convey shallow thoughts, or oftener to hide a poverty of real thoughts. During this delivery, Professor Spooner, who was seated near the platform, began to groan and called loudly for help, and told the evangelist to "shut up," amid applause from the choir left.

Dr. Stough told of the frequent knocks he receives from all quarters and of the letters of criticism he continually gets from persons who disapprove of his sensationalism. He produced one letter he had received yesterday from a lady who had heard his sermons on Sunday. She did not like some things he had said concerning women and some mild criticism he had made on her sex.

The letter did not reveal the woman's name, but the Doctor said he supposed it was from some "State Senator's wife." It began as follows: "Dear Sir,—I attended your service yesterday morning and was much pleased by your sermon and found it most helpful and you the dignified and poised gentleman, but was not so well pleased in the evening by your remarks about women, which I think were uncalled for and unjust to my sex."

Applause Often Heard. The sermon was punctuated frequently by hearty applause and laughter from all parts of the tabernacle. About 5,000 persons were present, a number which Dr. Stough said he considered remarkable for a Monday night audience which is usually a slim one, and especially last night being a pre-election night when the attention of the public was called to other attractions. The choir was well filled and the music was better than the day before, showing the results of practice and the increasing command of Professor Spooner over his singers.

The Rev. J. T. Spangler, of the First United Brethren Church made the opening prayer.

To Address Men Only. The Rev. E. T. Cartwright announced that Dr. Stough will preach on Sunday afternoon to men only on "Winds and Whirlwinds" in the tabernacle, to which admission will be by ticket to be distributed later in the week. At the same hour a mass meeting for women only will be held in the Ridge Avenue M. E. Church by Miss Palmer, who will give the first of a series of women's sermons on "A Brave Woman's Rewards." Miss Palmer is said to be one of the foremost women preachers in the country.

Miss Eggleston will conduct a mass meeting for the boys and girls Saturday afternoon in the tabernacle, and Professor Spooner will organize

HEADACHE, COLD OR SOUR STOMACH, REGULATE YOUR BOWELS--10 CENTS

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous, constipated matter, gases and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, sickening headache. Cascarets will remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on and out of the bowels. One taken to-night straightens you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular, and make you feel bright and cheerful for months. Children need Cascarets, too.

For a Rainy Day
The careful husband had given his wife some money to put into the family sinking fund, but she had spent it. Two or three days later she asked for more.
"Didn't I give you some last Monday?" he inquired in the well known manner of husbands under similar circumstances.
"Yes, but I spent it."
"Spent it? I thought you had laid it away for a rainy day."
"I did, Henry," she smiled sweetly. "I bought a rain-coat, an umbrella, and a pair of rubbers with it."—Lippincott's.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp, of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. SOFT FLUFFY HAIR IS FIRST AID TO BEAUTY

Who does not love a head of pretty hair? Some women think it is a gift of nature and envy their more fortunate sisters. If your hair is not fluffy, soft and lustrous, it is falling out, is faded, brittle, or full of dandruff, and if the scalp itches, do not think it must always be that way, for pretty hair is only a matter of care and proper nourishment of the hair roots. Hair is something like a plant—it neglected it soon withers and dies, while with a little attention it keeps fresh and beautiful.

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies just the elements needed to invigorate the hair roots and stimulate the hair to grow long, thick, fluffy, soft and lustrous. It removes dandruff with one application and quickly stops itching head and falling hair. It is the ideal hair tonic and scalp treatment for men, women and children. It is incomparable, gloss and softness, and is delicately perfumed.

H. C. Kennedy, or any drug or toilet counter can supply you with Parisian Sage—it is inexpensive. You cannot be disappointed with this delightful and helpful hair tonic, for it surely will give the hair the beauty and charm of youth.—Advertisement.

No Trouble to Keep Skin Free From Hairs (The Modern Beauty.) There is no need for any woman to countenance superfluous hairs, because with a paste made by mixing some powdered delatone with water it is easy to get rid of them. The paste is applied for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This treatment will rid the skin of hair without leaving a blemish, but care should be taken to see that you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions. It is more important now than during the winter months to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores, in cool weather this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion.
