WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 4

WHAT IT ALL MEANS. AS was to have been expected, the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has come out of the political hysteria and folly that took possession of her people in 1912.

OUR NEXT GOVERNOR. PERHAPS nothing in the whole campaign of Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh so endeared him to the people of Pennsylvania...

BUNGLERS. THANKS to the blundering tactics of the astonishing individuals temporarily in control of the Anti-Saloon organization in Pennsylvania...

With a depressed or sunken walk along the River Front at the top of the slope from North street to Maclay there will be harmony of treatment from one end of the city to the other.

HIS HOME TOWN. PRESIDENT JUDGE GEORGE KUNKEL must have a pleasant sensation in the region of the heart as he contemplates the splendid tribute of his home community as displayed in the election returns to-day.

Senator Penrose was the target for the most bitter and malignant opposition that any public man has ever suffered in a campaign before the people.

THE RED CROSS SALE. PRELIMINARY plans are now being discussed for the annual sale of Red Cross seals for Christmas.

THEY ARE AND SHRUBBERY. IT is not generally known among the people of Harrisburg that the municipal nursery at Island Park is full to overflowing with trees and shrubbery that will fill up all the open spaces of the park system and provide abundant material for planting the river slope.

PHILADELPHIA RECORD. Every time the Turk has been involved in war for a century there have been reports that he was going to declare a "Holy War."

not only protect the slope but give it more attractive finish. When the granolithic walk along the river wall is finished next spring, still more planting will be done along the depressed park at the foot of the slope.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will not find much comfort in the election figures to-day. He greatly misjudged the temper of the American people when, putting aside the principles for which he has pretended to stand, he broke into Pennsylvania and advocated the election of a free-trade Democrat as Governor of this Commonwealth.

THE TORCH LIGHT PROCESSION. WHAT has become of the old-time torch light procession? asks an up-State exchange.

Answer—it has emigrated to Annville. At least that is the last place we heard of one this campaign. Torch light processions used to be pleasant and picturesque features of our State and national campaigns.

Foundry run, another nuisance, started its springing and running streets and came down east of the Sixth street ridge. It made a turn near State and Cowden streets and had a deep gully, especially where St. Lawrence street crosses it.

The creek valley and down town had numerous small runs. Indian run rose up in the place where Paxton street and flowed into the river where it did not overflow and go into the Paxton.

Have you noticed that the Telegraph's circulation has been climbing steadily and that it is higher now than ever before in its history? And we shall hope, by printing a better and still better newspaper from day to day, to merit the continued confidence and good will of a constantly increasing family of readers.

When the City Council established the cluster lighting system for the central business district it did a splendid thing for the city. One good thing done by another and it is to be hoped that the cluster area will be extended from year to year, so that the attractive feature of this system of lighting may be even more widely appreciated.

PHILADELPHIA RECORD. Every time the Turk has been involved in war for a century there have been reports that he was going to declare a "Holy War."

NEWS DISPATCHES OF THE CIVIL WAR. [From the Telegraph of Nov. 4, 1864.] Captures Pirate Ship Boston, Nov. 4.—The United States ship Kearsarge arrived at this port to-day and the captain reported that he had captured the pirate ship Florida and had taken twelve officers and fifty-eight of the crew.

EVENING CHAT. Commenting upon the reference in this column the other night to the arch carrying Front street over the long-buried run which-extended to the Olmsted residence near the Olmsted residence...

The Paxton creek in those days was the father of mischief, much as it used to be in the days before a score or so of public-spirited men of Harrisburg put the improvement loans through and councils passed them, with William Jennings as pilot.

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS ARE NEXT IN ORDER. Some Interesting Statements Are Expected to Be Filed at the Capitol Very Soon.

Now that the election is over the next thing in order will be the filing of expense accounts and they must be put on record by the evening of December 31 in case no expense account is filed the person offending can be stopped from taking the oath of office and if a defeated candidate should fail to file and should be elected to an office in years to come proceedings to stop him taking the oath can be taken.

The Palmer-McCormick League, which did not file expense accounts from all of the counties receiving contributions from the boss league in behalf of McCormick in the primary, must file expense accounts this time.

In the next few days there will probably be a bunch of preemptions of party names for next year's elections. The fact that the law which gives no State election next Fall, but only the county and municipal county elections, will make no difference in the result.

The Democrats will continue to hold first place on the ballot forms issued by the State government until after the election for President in 1916. Under the law the party winning out in a presidential election has the right to lead the ballot and that is why the Democrats led the ballot this year.

The extent of the disorganization prevailing in the Democracy was strongly illustrated yesterday in Philadelphia. On Monday night for the first time in many years the Democrats' caucus in Philadelphia was so bad that the meeting did not have a meeting and many of the Palmer-McCormick leagues failed utterly to meet.

Some of the results in the counties of the State paralyzed the folks at the Democratic State windmill and they were gasping to-day.
